George Gamble Library

Fun fact for November - Saturday, the 17th is National Take a Hike Day. Solo, with friends, with family, taking to the trails is a perfect way to celebrate New Hampshire's scenic beauty. Several books in the library may inspire your choices, such as: The Newfound Play List, which shows maps for hiking trails around Newfound Lake; 25 Walks in the Lakes Region of New Hampshire; 25 Walks in the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region. We also have the Sunapee-Ragged-Kearsarge Greenway Trail Guide, as well as a book that locates the best New Hampshire hikes with children. Take time to get outdoors and be active!

On Wednesday, October 17, storytelling presentations at the Danbury Elementary School and town library provided our children with a wonderful experience, getting them excited about reading books and visiting the library. Duncan McDougall, CLiF's executive director storyteller, introduced the $2500 worth of new books being given to the libraries and asked the children about their favorite kinds of stories. He told them about an exciting adventure he had traveling to Bermuda, but he didn't get there by plane, boat or car. Can you guess how he got there? The children, from the preschoolers to the fifth graders, were an awesome audience! Thank you to Duncan and the Children's Literacy Foundation for providing this opportunity to our small NH town!!

The Friends of the Library will host a Junk Journal Craft Party on Saturday, November 10th at 1pm in the library. This involves taking a book, whose pages of words are no longer of interest, but whose title and hardcover have some sentimental or literary value, and turning it into a keepsake. Title page, pictures, pages of special passages might be saved, but blank pages are added on which to add one's own thoughts and drawings. Pocket pages in which to save special treasures can be created out of colorful picture book pages. The journals may be embellished with decorative ribbons and laces. Bring your own book or for a $5 donation, books and materials will be provided. Christmas is coming and these journals make unique gifts. Join the creative fun.

Thank you from the South Danbury Church to everyone who participated in our October events! We are so glad for your support, and we hoped you enjoyed everything as much as we did!

On Sunday, October 7, our friend and neighbor Rev. Andy Gilman led the worship and Communion service. This was our first formal worship service, complete with pulpit and pews, in our "resurrected" meetinghouse (as the church founders called it). October 1867 was the first time that the newly-built meetinghouse was used for worship. Andy's inspiring sermon was about "Sacred Places," the experience and knowledge they embody, and the stories and lessons they convey.

Friday evening, October 12, the Speaker Series featured Keegan Farr, an extraordinarily talented singer/songwriter, who performed classic songs from the 60s to the present, and a selection of his own compositions, reflecting the evolution of his music and poetry. Keegan has a standing invitation to perform at the South Danbury Church; but until he returns in person, you can reward yourself with his music whenever you wish, at his You Tube channel -- <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCU6JNkEhxDvGJ33uRIppN5A> -- and his ReverbNation site <https://www.reverbnation.com/keeganfarrvt>.

Saturday, October 13, was the Third Annual Pie and Gently Used Cookbook Sale -- plus crafts. Despite the rain, there were many happy (and eager) visitors. THANK YOU to church members and friends who brought books and baked pies, to the helpers and sellers, and to everyone who bought pies and baked goods and crafts and books! All of the proceeds of the pie/book sale go to our Mission Fund, and will make a special difference in the lives of many people.

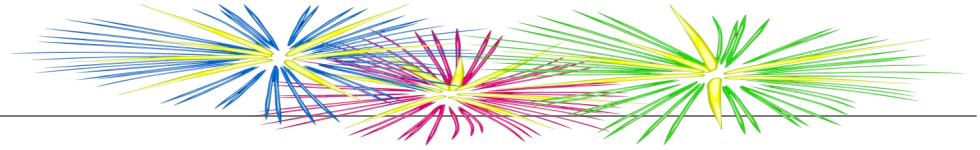

In November, the Holiday Happy Hour returns on Friday, November 16, from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Stop by and warm up with a cup of mulled cider or cocoa, and an apple donut. Learn about local businesses and their wares. Chat with author Mary Lyn Ray, who will be selling and signing her books for children. Browse the handmade crafts and holiday items, plus pies and baked goods (doggie treats, too). And stock up on a wide variety of delicious homemade meals to go.

Donations of baked good, crafts, or holiday items will be gratefully accepted! All proceeds benefit the Church Preservation Fund.
