October News from the South Danbury Christian Church

South Danbury, New Hampshire Fourth Annual South Danbury Church Homemade Pies & Gently Used Cookbooks Sale

Saturday, October 12, 2019 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Stock your pantry and freezer with delicious homemade pies from the talented bakers of South Danbury. Then, take home some treasures from our collection of gently used cookbooks to try out more recipes at home. There will be other baked items for sale, too!

All proceeds benefit the church's Mission Fund. Donations of cookbooks and homemade pies are welcome in advance of the sale.

To learn more about the church and its activities, follow "Friends of the South Danbury Christian Church" on Facebook, email southdanburychurch@gmail.com, or call 603-491-3196. The South Danbury Church, located at 1411 U.S. Route 4 in South Danbury, New Hampshire, 03230, is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. We are an Open & Affirming Congregation of the United Church of Christ, UCC. Please contact us if you need a ride to attend worship or events. We'll be happy to help.

Friendly Forum

Geese help each other. They take turns with leadership & help when others are sick or injured. Elders can be isolated, which is a huge loss for them & their communities. Like geese, we can share our experience & skill, to assist others.

Having just celebrated the equinox we are beginning to enjoy the beauty of autumn. We have had thoughts of Cannon. Their add says the tram will be running until October 20th, "subject to change without notice". First ride up is at 8:30 and last ride down is at 5:00. Nancy researched this for us and suggests we could walk around the rim trail and have lunch at the cafeteria. Let us know what you think. (Free tram for people over 65)

We hope to see you at the Friendly Forum meeting, which is right after Bone Builders at 10:15 on Friday, October 4. Please find the card parties and bone builders on the calendar.

Library News – October 2019

October is National Book Month. The goal, of course, is to encourage reading, an activity with proven benefits. It provides mental stimulation and knowledge. It reduces stress and expands vocabulary and memory. It's a month focused on remembering great authors and books and recognizing contributions of new authors. FYI - the top 5 American authors are Mark Twain, Ernest Hemingway, Edgar Allen Poe, John Steinbeck and F. Scott Fitzgerald. You can find their works in our library.

Another important goal of National Book Month is to encourage families to enjoy books together. Reading aloud and talking about books supports family time and bonding. A fun book to read aloud with your children is Judy Sierra's WILD ABOUT BOOKS. It begins in "the summer of 2002, When the Springfield librarian, Molly McGrew, By mistake drove her bookmobile into the zoo." The animals were hesitant to see what she was offering at first but, "By reading aloud from the good Dr. Seuss, She quickly attracted a mink and a moose.....In a flash, every beast in the zoo was stampeding, To learn all about this new something called reading. Forsaking their niches, their nests, and their nooks, They went wild, simply wild, about wonderful books." The story continues with each animal choosing a favorite kind of book. The giraffes wanted tall books and the geckos could read only stick-to-the-wall books. You will learn which animal chose books about Nancy Drew and "Began solving mysteries right there at the zoo".

Celebrate the month by reading a new book. Recommended is Kim Michele Richardson's THE BOOK WOMAN OF TROUBLESOME CREEK, inspired by the Kentucky Pack Horse Library Project, a WPA program that delivered books to remote regions in the Appalachian Mountains between 1930 and 1943. The story is about Cussy Mary Carter who, despite danger and prejudice, is determined to bring the joy of books to folks in the remote, isolated regions of Troublesome Creek. One critic writes that this is a "timeless and significant tale about poverty, intolerance, and how books can bring hope and light to even the darkest pocket of history".

Are books an important part of your life? It would be interesting to hear and share thoughts, via email or, better yet, come to the monthly Book Discussion group meetings, the last Wednesday of each month, 6:30pm at the library.
