TWO CHORD SONGS - HOW TO USE THIS BOOK.

People starting to play the uke will often want to start with the simplest of songs ie. those that do not require many chords. There are lots of well known songs that only require two chords and there is a list on the following page but the chords are written in three different keys F, C, and G, for just six of those songs.

Jambalaya,
Singing in the Rain,
Clementine,
Deep in the Heart of Texas,
How much is that Doggie in the Window,
Down in the Valley.

The aim is

1. To get changing chords effortlessly.
2. Extending chord vocabulary by degrees.

To achieve this you

1. could work your way through all the songs in F then move to the songs in C then finally to those in G

OR

2. could play one song in F then try the same song in C and finally in G then move on to the next song.

AT THE END OF THIS BOOK YOU SHOULD KNOW THE FOLLOWING CHORDS

F C7 C G7 G D7

With the addition of Bb and A Minor you should be able to tackle many three and four chord songs.

TWO CHORD SONGS

All these songs have only TWO chords in them.

If played in the key of C you will need to know C and G7.

If played in the key of G you will need to know G and D7.

If played in the key of F you will need to know F and C7

Once mastered in one key (suggest you start with F) then try and play them in C and then G.

If you know the lyrics of any of these songs then write them out and then attach the chords.

The Golden Rule of two chord songs is – If the chord sounds wrong as you sing the tune then it is the other one.

Every morning just at nine,

Hit her foot against a splinter

Fell into the foaming brine.

Robed in garments soaked in brine;

Though in life I used to hug her,

Now she's dead, I draw the line.
