

Nils Kimmel, Director of Photography

Nils Kimmel is a graduate of the Motion Picture Arts Program at Capilano University. Since the age of 8 he has been a passionate filmmaker, and in recent years has focused more attention on his cinematography. His style is naturalistic, but without sacrificing style, and he plans on pursuing cinematography as a career.

Josh Choi, Sound Designer

Josh Choi, is a sound designer who recently graduated from the Audio Engineer program at SAE Institute. He specializes in capturing on-set audios and sound editing, but goes above and beyond in collaboration and problem solving. Josh has a passion for storytelling, attention to details, and always places careful consideration for the audience to have the best immersive experience. This is Josh's first short film collaboration, he is grateful for the opportunity to bring the sound of Go For Broke to life and plans to continue to pursue sound design as a career.

