

Madeline Perry, Costume Designer

Madeline Perry is an artist and costumer in Vancouver. She graduated from Capilano University's Costuming program in 2020 and now works as a stitcher at Ocean Drive Leather. When she's not stitching she's running a small business on the side called Superstar Bazaar

Shane Martin, Editor

Editing Go for Broke was a refreshing experience. I was immediately drawn to the subject matter as someone with a keen interest in all things aviation. Over the past few years I've been fortunate enough to collaborate on a variety of projects with like-minded talents with an infectious passion for filmmaking, and I hope to continue doing so for as long as I'm able.
