

Sometimes I wish that you and I could find a quiet place, Could sail for the horizon
and adopt a slower pace.
It isn't that I really want to leave the world behind, It's just that love's
a precious thing,
and time is hard to find...

So, for a while,
let's set aside
the schedules and the fuss—Let's celebrate
our marriage—
let's make some time for us.

Happy Anniversary
With All My Love

This is the ~~best~~ best of many more to come. I love you very much.

Your Wife,
Karen
