

Husband's Prayer

Jesus,

I come to you to ask how I can be a better husband. Show me and guide me how to treat my wife like a queen. I will likely fail on occasion, maybe from anger or ego, so reminded me of that failure, take away my anger. Have me run to my wife, tell her I am sorry, hold her, and ask her for forgiveness.

Help me to understand all that my wife asks of me, no matter how small or trivial and regardless of the request. Completing these requests, honors her, brings my wife joy and happiness and in turn will show my wife I believe in unconditional love for her, a love that she deserves.

I understand, initially my wife may not fully understand my "servant" attitude. I pray, in time, my wife will come to understand it is my way of creating a happy marriage and demonstrating my unconditional love to and for her.

I know, in time, my wife will pass away, a time I will grieve, be sad and think of things I should have done with her and for her. Living by this commitment will help me to avoid regrets, unhappiness in our marriage, bring us closer to God and a beautiful, harmonious marriage.

To God through Jesus!
