

Slogayns

These are Agayzing, Trademarked (patent pending) slogayns of yours truly, for everyone in the community's everyday usage, in alphabetic order, because, that's how an organized * works.

All are available for order on a tee shirt. Fr fr (for real, for REAL, for $9 + shipping and handling). Do feel free to use any and all that you see here, any and everywhere that you'd like, with kindness! And a little dash of sass. If you use them on social media, through picture descriptions, in comments, etc. please tag me @1492problems! I love to read, and spread that gayspel truth!

AdDAMN. In the age of everything is an advertisement, all those whom are/think they are social media influencers, as well... this doth apply. Sidenote, and ironically, I shall now promote, that I have an IG handle @adamnG that makes fun of this very notion. Just saying.

AstroNOT interested. In no way shape or form Ogay with an idea/situation/person. Not in this or any galactic orbit. Nope.

Can we diss-cuss? When wanting to talk about a steamy topic, sometimes it can be confused as gossip. Nothing in the diss-cussion group is to ever be said that would not be said to the individual directly that is being diss-cussed. However, sometimes you need to vent. Once permission is granted, diss-cuss.

Courtney LOVE that idea. She's a rockstar grunge mood, and when a TrASSh idea presents itself at the crossroads with which your on-board momentum is standing, you hop on and scream on. Go, girl, go. But before you hop on, ask yourself if you love it... or if your COURTNEY love it.

Currently @1492problems, don't be my 1493. My mantra. My daily affirmation. My warning for all those I come into contact with, because I kNOW the power of saying no if they will be that 3rd.

Enough saying. When people say "just saying," or you find yourself too often expressing the line, perhaps it is time for ENOUGH saying and to simply follow through. All talk and no PLAY? No thx in spankx.

Gimme the Deets with a Capitol D. Please note "w/a Capitol D" on anything actually, because $ over D, always. Yes, sis, get that money!

Homo FOMO. When you're an Agayzing introvert, sometimes you miss out on stuff and the fear of missing out does set in.

I don't give a gluten free f. Dietary restriction pending, I simply cannot. I beyond don't care.

I never judge, I only Judy. Yes, because every Judy is goals, and who wants to judge, less they be judged? No thank you.

I'm here to hear. As an ally, friend, and family member to you all, this is straight up Fagts. Anything from help needed, to soupy Deets. My ears and door (mailbox for some of you) are open!

Introvert: my presence is a present. If you're an extrovert, you may not understand this. But I'm not an extrovert, so I shan't explain it to you.

kNOw. Know the power of NO at all times. Some of you don't know this word, and you could use it more often. You always have the right to say no on any and every thing. Even if it could potentially grant you homo FOMO, you can still say it. Don't over exert yourself. Don't burdern yourself. No.

Lady Ga-Gone. Once past TrASShed, this phrase can be used. Also, on any outfit that is simply a no-no.

Let us open our him-no. When a friend tries to get back with an ex, and you have the receipts to remind them exactly why not. If you have to open this on the same individual pairing more than once... walk away. Your breath is being wasted.

Let's ASSess. Ass up, tits out, let's go ASSess a situation, whether it be financial or physical dosage.

Let's PLAY. An encouraging roster to go out and make money. But not to simply garner money, to make earing money a fun gayme, equivalent of any task your friends would do on a Frigay. After all, how will you pay to get TrASShed, if you don't play the PLAY gayme? Got it? Good.

Not togay. The power of no, as it pertains to togay only. Tomorrow the sun may come out on that idea! But it shan't togay. Not for this gay.

OBITCHuary. When gobsmacked, taken aback, clutching the pearls from an event, you simply find yourself dead, three sheets to the wind, and somehow still standing from the madness.

Obsext! An idea so good you would make sweet music with it.

Of corpse you did. I'm so dead from the repetition of people's actions, and their predictability sometimes, it just coffins up.

PotatHOE. A restaurant savvy term. Yes, I'm a gluten free, Irish descendant. It's a staple of my diet. And if you don't like how many potatoes I eat, then kiss my ***.

Sake to 'em. When your inner feist needs a wake-up call, to deliver the Fagts. Often stated when punch drunk.

Ship Happens. It does! It's inevitable. We all got a multitude of problems (myself, 1492) but we also come prepared with 1493 solutions to TACKLE this mess. We aren't expecting it to happen, but when it does, we are ready to accept, defeat, and move on! Awomen.

Slip into my * VENMO * DMs. In the modern error (note I didn't say "era"), many people like to Direct Message each other crass and crude things. Good! Get yours. Live your truth. But sometimes it leaves one feeling like a piece of meat. Rather than chase the meat, I recommend you chase the money. Just a suggestion. Take it, or leave it.

Siri-ous problems. Technology be tripping. Am I right? Or am I just too white?

Ten points for Liverwhore. When your friend is a drinker... sometimes you have to put it in check. Keep tally, but don't judge. Never judge.

Tequilng the Gayme. You don't have to drink to use this phrase, but it certainly helps.

The only BS you need in your life is Britney Spears. Ain't it the truth, ain't it the truth?

Thx in Spanx. A thank you to haters and friends alike. We keep it tight and right, Ogay? Looking fit, even when we don't feel it. And looking fit includes a fit of beautiful manners.

TrASSh. This can take on many forms, and is not a cASSual word to be used flippantly. Often, used to describe oneself when plastered, or unable to foot the bill without a sugar DaDDy.

What in the global f? For all global issues, this can be utilized.

What in the handmaid's tale? For any and all issues dealing within the United States, this can be utilized... unfortunately. Especially when dealing with anti-feminist rhetoric.

What Would Carol Do? This is a question I have to ask myself very, very often. Because, Carol Burnett is an aspiration, a mood, a whole attitude of balanced proportions, and when in doubt, it's best to look up, and try to rise up. Ya feel?
