SUMMER FEEDING

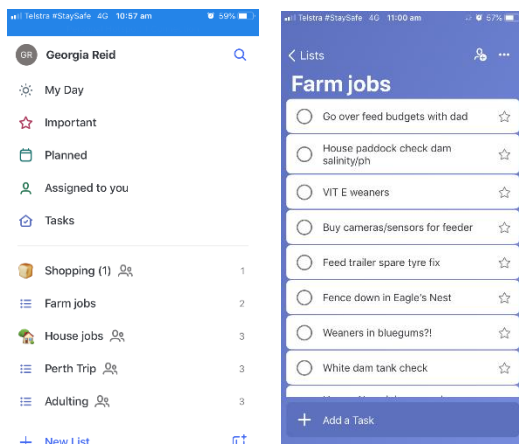

Its crunch time for feeding, with a bit of a curve ball thrown by recent rains. Check creeping worm numbers in weaners, ensure you're adjusting rations/stocking rates for declining stubble value. See here for our run down of summer management:

TASK APPS

On WhatsApp recently we've been discussing task apps- Simple apps for sharing lists between multiple people on the farm or within the family. Use for planning when you're away, keep tabs on odd jobs, or daily.

Microsoft 'To Do' came up as the preferred option. Shown here is Georgia's list of lists. Download from your phone's App store.

MEAT UP: 5th AUGUST

Save the date for MeatUp Forum.

Hear about the latest R&D in red meat, tools and programs to improve your business, with events all over Australia. Programs developed by local producer working groups in collaboration with MeatUp Coordinators (that's us) and MLA, the forums are designed by producers for producers.

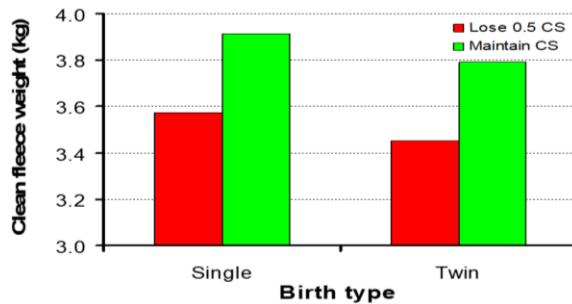

More details to come. No cost to MLA levy payers. @meatlivestock #meatupforum

CONDITION SCORE MANAGEMENT

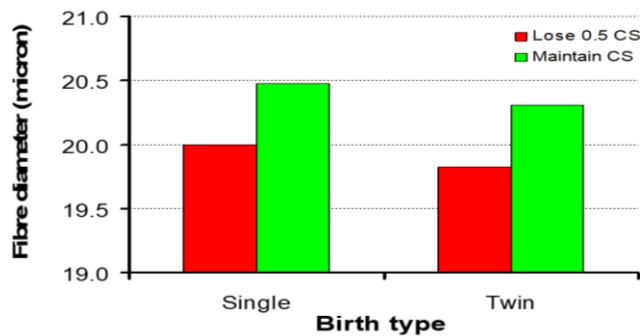

Remember why we hammer on about condition score? Its key to maintain condition score over summer and the season break, because its WORTH IT. Think how much it costs to have 0.38kg/hd less wool? $7k over 2000ewes @ 18micron. And that's only losing 0.5CS, not accounting for impact on lowering micron and staple strength

LISTENING TO...

We've realised that between us, we listen to a lot of podcasts! What are you listening to & enjoying?

Ed's pick of the fortnight: Its about 'throwing lots of darts at the board before one sticks'.....Tim Ferris interviewing Marc Rudolph, Netflix's founder. "Its good stuff": DARTS

Georgia: I'm working through "The Profitable Farmer", which is applicable to both farming and personal life. "Episode 66- The Art of Negotiation" redefined thoughts about what negotiation actually is, and how to go about it: NEGOTIATE
