

Monday Morning Watch

Follow the Detours In Your Life

“Follow the detours and you’ll see, they will lead where you’re supposed to be.”

Well, here we are about to start our first full day of CAMP! Whether this is your first time or your seventh (or even 70th!) you're stepping into a week full of new people, new routines, and maybe even a little nervous energy.

Let’s be real—sometimes life doesn’t go as planned.
You might end up in a cabin you didn’t expect. You might miss home.
You might wonder: “Why is this my path?”

This year’s theme reminds us that even when things feel off-track, God is still working. A detour isn’t a mistake—it’s a redirection. And those turns and twists? They might just lead you somewhere better than what you imagined.

This is Morning Watch. A CAMP tradition started by our founders, Janny and Boonie, and one they did every day of their lives. It’s a brief pause in our CAMP morning where everyone finds their own “bubble” and reflects with God in silence. We can take this time every morning to pray, to listen, to “watch”, to be grateful, to prepare for the day ahead. So, as you sit in your bubble this morning, take a second to ask: “What could God be doing in my story this week—even if it’s not going the way I pictured?”

Let this be a week where you look for God in the unexpected. Trust that He’s walking with you—even if the road curves.
