Janny's 2021 New Year's resolution

A year ago, on New Year's Day, my daughters, Barby and Becca and also Cindy Larvie, in an attempt to ease my lost feeling following Boonie's "check-out", took me to a movie. -- A Disney movie--happy -fun - uplifting--right? (Hah) We "went to see "Frozen 2" and through most of the movie, I sat there with tears spilling over my eye-lids--Anna was lost in the woods--much the same as I, but by the end of the movie she and I got an answer- "Do the next right thing.", and so I have tried, but finding the "right thing" during the circumstances of 2020 has been difficult. These circumstances have brought out the best in some of us, but sadly in some of us the worst, instead. (My own heart has been broken time and again by the war of words that has been made public. It has made me wonder that with many of our "motivating" themes, Have we completely forgotten about one small simple theme—"Is it Kind?" Now I'm not saying all those "motivating" themes were bad, but perhaps lurking behind all of them should also have been the thought, "Is it kind?" So, I'm changing my year's resolution for this year to:

I desperately hope that all of our CAMP family will, in all we say and do, in this new year will ask first, "Is it Kind?"

and if it makes us think, "What is Kind?"
That will be good, too!
