

MORNING WATCH

for the week of January 23, 2022

(Not the one I intended, but-----)

Yesterday morning I was awake before dawn with an idea for the morning watch that I knew Dave was going to need for the upcoming week. I try to stay a couple of weeks ahead of him in case I get caught up with something and miss writing one for that particular week, and he was to post the last one I sent him yesterday morning.

Well, that “something” I was talking about happened and although I had the entire morning watch written in my head--- Following the “something”, It is totally gone---soooo--- Here’s what’s gonna happen--

SEIZE THE DAY!!

If indeed you have been able to connect with your Heavenly Father and are allowing Him to guide your way,

PAY ATTENTION.

He’s a busy guy. Do not put off till tomorrow what He has sent you to do today! (This is as important a Morning Watch message as I have ever offered you!) If I ever recall what that other morning watch was to say, I’ll use it. :-)-later on..
