

Sunday Morning Watch

Follow the Detours In Your Life
70 years of CAMP

Happy Sunday and welcome to the 70th year of CAMP!

Today is the day we take all our planning, prayers, detours (yes—even the literal one on the way here), and we start a new week of CAMP.

Some of us have been doing this for most of our lives. Some of us are here for the very first time. But no matter how you got here, know this:

You were led. You were called. You are part of something bigger.

Seventy years ago, Janny and Boonie followed a calling that didn't come with perfect directions. It came with faith. And like so many of us this week, they had to trust God to guide them—even when the path took unexpected turns. And now it's our turn to do the same.

This week won't go perfectly. It never does. But it will be meaningful. And God—who specializes in detours—will be in every twist, every conversation, every song, every laugh, and every quiet moment.

So today, as we get ready to meet our campers, remember this: You don't have to be perfect. Just be present. You don't have to have all the answers. Just be willing. Because the God who called you here is already ahead of you. And as Janny would always say, "Don't forget to HAVE FUN!"

Let's follow the detours this week together—and help others do the same!

"The Lord will fulfill His purpose for me." — Psalm 138:8

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart... and He will direct your paths."
— Proverbs 3:5–6
