

Morning Watch

for the week of 7-17-22

He'll give you all the Help you need to reach the very top, but you must start, Keep going, friend, and Never – ever - Stop.

KEEP GOING!

If you thought “Taking the first step” along the way of your new endeavor was going to be the hardest step, it was because you’ve never had to try to “keep going.”

Once you’ve launched your project, it will not be long before you realize that maybe you should have learned a bit more about what you are starting than you did, and so it’s gonna take a lot longer than it should have...Then suddenly a competitor realizes you are on the scene and are threatening his territory! He sets about to sabotage you! .. And, “Lord, this is all so tiring!” (You will think of giving up because you just don’t have the energy to keep going!)

And again, if you do persevere, and folks see you are hanging in, they will come at you even harder!
(Jealousy? / Fear? Misunderstanding?)

But through it all there is one Constant (Our Heavenly Father.)

He'll give you all the Help you need to reach the very top, Soo----

Keep Koin' Friend!
