Paddling past Procrastination/ Arriving at my destination

“There’s a cove ahead that looks inviting,

Some folk even say exciting!”

As we travel up and down the stream of life. there, indeed, will be many chances of getting “side-tracked” from our main purpose. (Some are, yes, inviting and exciting, but others are actually just a way of avoiding rough places along the way.

Be careful with the inciting /exciting side-tracts. They can be very dangerous in many unsuspecting ways, Also the “rough places” can often give us reasons to give up!

Following the canoeing scenario--then is when we “portage” (Pick up our canoes and carry them on through the rocky places.)

By prevailing over all obstacles and distractions, one may unfailingly arrive at his chosen goal or destination.
