A Message from the County Chairman

A Message from the Chair

Ellis County Republicans,

I hope everyone got some of this good rain because it was so needed everywhere. It seems the democrats thought the floodgates to the Federal Bank needed to be open wide. They are spending like drunk sailors, and I apologize to the drunk sailor because the evilness of the democrats is digging a deep hole for this country.

This brings me to my main point. We need campaign workers. We have three contested races in this county: JP3 Dan Cox, JP4 Louis Ponder, and Judge 40th District Court Bob Carroll. We have sixty-five days until election day, November 8th. We have signs to put out, blocks to walk, events to cover, voters to register, and we need help in the headquarters. Please get involved in one of these areas.

I want to thank Commissioners Court for passing the Invasion Resolution that was presented by Com. Paul Perry and Judge Little and the proposed HNR rate at their last meeting on August 23rd. Even though it was a very long meeting that lasted well after 6 p.m., over thirty people gave testimony on the Invasion Resolution. There will be a public hearing on September 23rd for the fiscal year proposed tax rate. Show up and let your voice be heard.

There are a lot of people speaking out against the democrats and how they are destroying this country. Many are talking about a red wave, and it seems we are peaking early. We need to get people out to vote. People believe this is in the bag and are becoming complacent. The democrats are just getting started buying votes through legislation and executive orders. They are pulling out all stops like the false Twitter account stating that Gov. Abbott did not leave a tip at a restaurant he has never patronized. Then there is the October Surprise. The democrats will bring out a half-truth as though it is all true. You will hear it on radio, TV, and social media until you can recite it from memory. Once again I say, get involved. This is the only way to overcome the demise of our beloved nation.

Our next meeting will be Tuesday, September 6th, at Tuscan Slice in Waxahachie. The social hour begins at 5:30 p.m. Executive session begins at 6:30 p.m. General session begins at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome for all three sessions. Gov. Abbott's representative will speak about GoTV. Other candidates who attend will also have a couple minutes to address us.

Hope to see you there,

Randy Bellomy
Chairman
Republican Party of Ellis County

Greetings Patriots!

It is a busy season! We are headed into the November mid-terms and are assigning election workers ! Please let me know if you are interested in working Election Day and/or early voting. We always need to have plenty workers ready to go!

Joel Loua from Governor Abbott's campaign will be speaking at the September 6th meeting you won't want to miss it.

We had a great turn out to get the ball rolling to clean up our voter roles. 40 people came out and burgers and dogs were provided by Judge Bob Carroll at the Pointe Event Center. We appreciate all the hard work and we have much more to do. We plan to set up another date after the November elections.

I have put my name on the ballot to run for Buena Vista Bethel water board along with fellow Republican Debbie Manning. We would very much appreciate your votes if you live in the district and if you know those who do please pass it along. Our goal as board members is to provide communication and transparency to the Buena Vista Bethel customers. Please feel free to reach out to either of us with any questions.

Kitchen Table Campaigning

According to a recent job posting "The Marketing and Communications Manager is responsible for the development and supervision of all marketing and communications strategies for the company. This individual will oversee the development of goals, strategies, and implementation plans to execute comprehensive marketing campaigns."

As someone who's done all of those things for many years, I sometimes get hung up in the big picture but forget that often times it's not about speaking to a large audience or doing a great on-camera interview. It really comes down to looking another person in the eye, allowing them to read your facial expressions and speaking from the heart.

I'm writing this after returning from a storm plagued drive to and from Victoria where I joined family members in celebrating my mother and stepfather's 50th anniversary. My maternal family consists of names such as Gutierrez, Galvan, Nunez and De Leon. It was among these family members that was reminded of the importance of talking with others and not just speaking to them. My aunt Teresa, a direct descendant of Martin De Leon, is a former school board trustee and self professed staunch Democrat. As I sat at the kitchen table with Teresa, her daughter (Natalia), husband (Beto), my mom and stepdad we ventured into the topic of politics and the changes happening in South Texas.

Knowing that I was surrounded by an all Catholic audience, I asked how everyone felt about the overturning of Roe v Wade. As expected everyone spoke of their pro-life position. This led the conversation to talk about the growing trend of Hispanics (especially in South Texas) to support Republican candidates. Natalia told a story of a friend who's husband came to Texas illegally 12 years ago and is a flag waving, MAGA hat wearing Trump advocate. She said this was confusing to her, she could not understand how he could support Republicans and especially Donald Trump.

I looked over at her father and my uncle, Beto (Gutierrez, not O'Rourke) and pointed out that he may be the single hardest working man I've ever known. This is the man who retired from Union Carbide after more than 50 years and at nearly 80 years of age still remodels houses "to keep busy". I explained to Natalia that the Hispanic heritage I know is one of hard work, dedication to family and deep religious conviction. Her friend's husband came to this country not looking for a handout but in pursuit of a better life with the understanding this hard work would be required. I reminded Natalia that when you go to Home Depot you often see Hispanic men looking for day labor jobs but not standing there with signs asking for money.

I pointed out that the Democratic party made a grave error in assuming that Hispanics would follow the path of others and be a block vote that they could count on. I explained that the Republican party's principles of self-reliance, freedom and opportunity represent the American dream. In the end I noticed that even Teresa was nodding. I don't expect to ever see my aunt wearing a MAGA hat, but I'm confident that when she next stands in the voting booth, she'll remember our discussion around the kitchen table.

Beto Makes the Hatch Go Down

I'm not saying don't discount him Ellis County. I know there was a big ol' stink raised at Big Al's this month. I'm not against a good old fashioned butt-whoopin' either. Here are the facts about voter turnout in Ellis County...

I saw a claim that 1,700 people were in downtown Waxahachie for the Robert Francis event. If this is true and all the people at the Robert Francis rally were Ellis County voting Democrats, that's still less than half of the vote he received here in Ellis County for the primary. The fact remains there are 124,000+ registered voters in Ellis County as of March 2022. A whopping 4.4% voted in the Democratic Primary where RFO received around 5,000 votes. In the Republican primary 18,000 voted (15+% turnout). Nearly 13,000 votes were cast for Abbott while the other 5,000 votes, including my own, went to West, Huffines, or one of the other candidates. I'm not a betting man, but if I were (pronouns be damned) I predict between 15-20% of voting Republicans will turn out for the general election and less than 10% of Democrats will turn out. I'm being overly generous and gave them 5 points.

The fate of Big Al lies within Ellis County, and with the Conservatives here that have decided to use their pocketbooks to take a stand. It's unfortunate that a small business will suffer the consequences of a political blunder. Or maybe Ellis County will have mercy on Big Al as only a portion of that day's menu's proceeds went to RFO. Time will tell.

As for everyone else saying: "if it were Trump... " or "if it were Abbott..." Yes. Absolutely. That's precisely the point. You nailed it. That street car goes both ways. You better believe if Allen West had an event in Ellis County and some of the proceeds were going to his campaign, I would have bought a plate. The pulse of Ellis County is red, let's hope red is the pulse throughout the great state of Texas come November.
