

MUSIC SERVICES

COMPOSER

Music is the sound of emotion. Giving voice to emotions so that they may be heard and shared is what I do. It is my joy as a composer to share that voice and help you connect with your audience.

ORCHESTRATOR

Orchestration: I work with composers to help bring their music to life when performed with an orchestra or band. These music services include cleaning up midi files, making orchestration decisions, and providing complete scores.

Orchestration requires attention to detail and knowledge of what an orchestra can perform (usually sight-reading with time constraints).

MUSIC COPYING

Music Copying: Making sure that scores and parts are ready to play. We check for extraction or transposition errors while ensuring that the rest of the score and details are correct. We'll get everything to the recording sessions well in advance with music in hand and ready to play.

PRODUCTION

Music Production Library: Aside from the simple, well-thought-out moods and styles section, there is a deep base of keywords related to those moods and styles. When selecting tracks from the library, there are five basic emotions to guide your search:

- Joy, Happiness, and Triumph
- Humor and Fun
- Fear, Anxiety, and Energy
- Mystery and Fantasy
- Sorrow, Pain, and Defeat

These emotions will help with your initial searches. You'll also be able to look through keywords, descriptions, instrumentation, key, and tempo. Our music production is all about:
