New Dog/Puppy Care Instructions

MUST READ!

Congratulations on your new dog/puppy! We hope to help make your experience a positive one for you and your family. New puppies, especially the Miniature and Toy Breeds, need specific care guidelines in the first weeks and months in their new environment. Your puppy will need to transition from his current home to his new home, and it is very important for your puppy's health that you read and follow our guidelines closely. Puppies can be fragile and your attention to the following will make your puppy's experience and your experience a better one.

1. Transport your new puppy home in a pet transport crate. This crate will also serve as the puppy's kennel for the first few months to make them feel safe and secure. Providing your puppy or dog with an indoor kennel crate can satisfy their instinctive need for a den-like enclosure. Besides being an effective housebreaking tool (because it takes advantage of the dog's natural reluctance to soil its sleeping place), it can also help reduce separation anxiety, prevent destructive behavior (such as chewing furniture), keep a puppy away from potentially dangerous household items (i.e., poisons, electrical wires, etc.), and serve as a mobile indoor dog house which can be moved from room to room whenever necessary. We encourage you to learn about the benefits of crate training your new puppy.

2. Wait a day or two before introducing your new puppy to existing pets, and avoid excessive and rigorous play, and unsupervised contact with young children during that period.

New puppies need a lot of quiet time to rest. Too much playtime can stress the puppy. Put the puppy in its crate and leave it alone for regular naps. Remember everything is NEW for the puppy and the puppy needs time to acclimate to its new home.

3. The most important thing is to make sure that your new puppy eats and drinks. We recommend feeding the food we send home with you to transition your new puppy into their new home and atmosphere. Changing food abruptly can cause digestive problems.

4. For TOY and MINIATURE breeds: Make sure that your puppy is eating!

If a toy or miniature breed puppy goes 2-3 hours without eating you need to call your breeder immediately and work with the breeder to supplement the puppy's feeding.

If your puppy is lethargic and is not interested in eating or drinking, SEEK HELP IMMEDIATELY-CALL YOUR VETERINARIAN! Remember that hypoglycemia is preventable and is not covered by the puppy's health warranty.

5. Do not give your puppy bones, table scraps, milk, or treats. Any change in diet will upset the puppy's stomach.

6. Keep your new puppy inside and warm in the winter, and cool and shaded in the summer.

7. COCCIDIOSIS – or Coccidia in dogs, is a parasite which can be commonly found in puppies. Coccidia can become a problem during stressful periods such as transport, relocation, and entrance to a new environment. Some of the first signs of this problem is a bloody or loose stool, or diarrhea, lethargy, and not eating or drinking. If you notice these symptoms, take your puppy to your regular vet for evaluation and treatment immediately. Coccidia can be easily treated if you are alert and seek veterinarian help early on.

8. Please be advised that until your puppy has had its full set of inoculations, it is susceptible to certain illnesses, and therefore should be kept out of areas where other dogs (and other animals) have been. This would include parks, pet stores, and even neighbors' yards. While at the vet, keep your puppy on your lap or in a kennel, away from other animals. When your veterinarian tells you the shots are complete and your puppy is immune, you can then begin to "show off" your new family member.

9. Your breeder is your best resource for information and solving most puppy problems or concerns. We are here to help you and make sure your puppy experience is a positive one. Be sure to call us sooner than later.
