What is FieldXL?

FieldXL is a field services management application. Our primary purpose is to provide simple tools and innovative experiences that enable operational success in a collaborative environment.

FieldXL allows technicians to stay connected to critical information outside of the office while management receives real-time feedback on what's happening in the field.

Manage locations, assets, projects and work orders all in one intuitive application. We also provide analytics that allows organizations to measure ROI and process efficiency in order to improve operational performance.

CLOUD-BASED

Built in the cloud to keep your data secure, accessible, and available. No need to keep those contracts in that old filing cabinet.

FLEXIBLE

Built for your business, process and team. You're never limited to what FXL can do for you. Custom modules available to meet your needs.

INFORMATIVE

Analytics that drive better decisions for your growing business. Keep track of your work so you know what and how to improve.

MOBILE

Mobile first approach. Access our app from anywhere on any mobile device.
