

DOHA Post ASI campus

A compact of optional intensities under the Declaration. The civic Floor remains outside the gate. What stands inside is not survival. It is choice with a roof over it.

DOHA Post ASI Campus is a yard and eight houses. It shares plant, name, and a door that opens outward. It does not own the factories of abundance. It does not administer hunger. It gathers the remaining scarcities - craft, vow, regard, first presence, orientation, bodily competence, discovery, witness - and refuses to freeze them into a dynasty.

The name is a gathering tree: shade you may sit under, and leave.

Charter in brief

DOHA Post ASI Campus binds itself to the Declaration as law, not décor.

- No person shall be fed, housed, treated, or allotted compute by DOHA Post ASI Campus as a substitute for the civic Floor, nor lose the Floor by leaving.
- Membership is a privilege pack: benches, stages, hulls, choirs, night rooms, extra cluster. It is not a leash.
- Productive capital of the compact - shops, labs, theaters, ships, kitchens above ration - shall be held in a Plant Trust with decaying member claims, a public residual, and rotating stewardship.
- Honors fade unless renewed by living work.
- No single score shall rank the houses.
- Exit shall be readable in five minutes and complete in thirty days.

Power that does not decay is a defect in the beam.

The yard

The yard is the conglomerate. Houses face it. Notices of contests, vows, sailings, and sunsets hang on one wall. A kitchen better than ration sits on the public edge; anyone may eat there without a ledger check. A dock, a cloister, a night market of unfinished work.

Inner rooms are earned, borrowed, or contested. The edge of the yard is not.

The eight houses

Workshops. Make. Wood, metal, cloth, repair, small fabrication. Bench time above allotment is scarce and posted. Apprenticeship is asked for, never assigned as make-work. A master's name thins if the holder is no longer on the floor.

Orders. Vow. Season, year, cohort. Night watch on the plant, a craft kept from dying, a discipline freely taken. At term the vow ends in public. Renewal is an act, not inertia. An order may be hard. It may not keep your papers.

Scenes. Regard. Crews, rooms, editorial circles, night canons. Status is allowed to be real and required to be local. A scene that becomes the only gate to being seen is broken and replanted.

Expeditions. First presence. Field parties, archive dives, habitat sorties, first-use in new domains. Slots by open contest and standing that is already aging. Those who went keep the story until someone goes again.

Churches. Orient. Plural by rule. Feast, silence, memorial, liturgy. They may ask for a rule of life. They may not ask for compute rights, children's claims, or the door. The compact is not a church. The churches live in the yard and do not own it.

Gyms. Body. Strength, fight, dance, endurance, the long work of coming back from injury. Competence is dated. Last season's champion is welcome on the floor and owns no keys.

Labs. Find out. Benches, instruments, extra compute above the birthright allotment. What becomes productive capital feeds the Trust and its residual, not a closed line. Priority in a new domain is an expedition question. Discovery honors rot on a clock.

Theaters. Witness. Rooms where excellence must happen in front of people who could have stayed home. Residencies end. Canons rotate. Applause is not a pension.

A person may hold several memberships. Joining DOHA means joining a house, not swearing to a brand.

Plant Trust

The Trust holds what makes DOHA Post ASI Campus more than a club: buildings, tools, stages, hulls, cluster, the better kitchen.

Claims:

- Member shares - earned, traded among members, or allotted at founding. Idle shares decay. At death they split; they do not concentrate as command.

- House endowments - revocable if a house blocks exit or captures recognition.

- Public residual - a trickle from compact plant into civic Floor infrastructure or a local commons, so DOHA Post ASI Campus cannot seal itself as an ark for the already-inside.

Stewards rotate on a published clock. Emergency powers sunset. Beneficial ownership of the plant is inspectable. Personal keepsakes inherit. Command of the mills does not pass intact.

How DOHA Post ASI Campus lives after wages

It does not sell the right to exist. It rations and stages what remains scarce:

witnessed excellence; unique attention; first presence; craft that taste still makes rare; discovery rights that are sharp for a while and then ordinary.

Credits, favors, and extra compute move among members. None of that wiring touches the civic Floor. A person who contributes nothing to DOHA Post ASI Campus still eats as a citizen. They simply do not hold the inner rooms.

Inner rooms, not inner survival.

Exit

Written on the lintel, kept under the new name.

- Thirty days to a civic Floor unit if you sleep on compact ground.
- Export of work, records, and reputation receipts in an open format.
- Remaining plant claims converted to decaying bearer credits you may take or gift.
- No blacklist that follows you into other compacts.
- No child, vow, clinic, or bed used as a tether.

If leaving takes a year and a counsel, DOHA Post ASI Campus has already failed Article V.

Offices that must rot

- Steward of the Trust
- Clerk of contests
- Dock-master of expeditions
- Keeper of the notice wall

Each term is short, public, and non-stackable with the other three. The houses keep their own officers under their own sunsets. DOHA Post ASI Campus will not mint a chancellor of flourishing.

What a day is for

Morning: gym or workshop, or neither.

Midday: civic kitchen or the yard table.

Afternoon: a bench won last month, an order shift against rust, a lab stall, or the unrecorded hours that are still a free person's hours.

Evening: a theater whose canon will move; a church that does not own the dock; a scene that should be slightly ashamed to look the same in five years.

Once in a year: a list on the wall, a sailing, standing already beginning to fade.

The yard should stay a little too loud. Quiet perfection is how an optimizer becomes a landlord.

Against capture

DOHA Post ASI Campus will not become a pretty company town, a hereditary shop, a single impact score, a vow that forgets its last day, an expedition caste, or a salvation brand wearing eight masks.

The sacred thing is lived experience, not the compactness of the compact.

Founding act

File the Charter against the six articles.

Stand the Plant Trust with a residual and a clock.

Open a workshop, a gym, a theater, a lab.

Add orders, scenes, churches, expeditions only with exit a stranger can read.

Post the first contest and the first sunset on the same day.

Refuse any partner who wants the name DOHA Post ASI Campus written on the Floor.

DOHA Post ASI Campus is a tree people gather under because they want the shade and the work and the witness. The ground beneath it is already theirs by birthright.
