

Seed Art Share - Updates
Garner Area Homeschool Classes
Week of 1.11-15.2021

IMPORTANT SEED ANNOUNCEMENTS:

And we're back! Looking forward to seeing everyone this week. While our Shakespeare class has ended, Britannia Howard is still preparing to represent GAH in the virtual Branch Division competition on February 18th. Everyone stay tuned for more details about that and how we can cheer her on virtually!

Congratulations to our own Dylan Bailey who was recognized as one of the Triangle's Arts Educators of the Year by Chatham Life and Style Magazine for 2020!

Beginning next week, this email will be posted on www.seedartshare.org. You will be able to access it there rather than waiting for my emails, check the homepage of the website and follow the links. It will also lead to you to more info on our upcoming Saturday morning drop-in classes, Spring Break camp, summer production camps, and teaching assistant opportunities for students 9-12. Of course you are always welcome to email me any of our instructors with questions or suggestions.

Tuesdays 12pm -1pm
Instructor - Dylan Bailey
dylan@seedartshare.org

THIS WEEK: Welcome to Mercy Cordell who will be checking out the class this week. Be awesome and show her how great you are. That goes for you too, Mr. Dylan!

HW:

NEXT WEEK:

Seed History Seekers

Wednesdays 10am -11:30 am

Instructor - Renee Wimberley

renee@seedartshare.org

THIS WEEK: We are sadly saying goodbye to Magnus this week. But it is for the COOLEST reason ever - he is continuing with his pilot's program and the class conflicts. Or at least that's what he says. Magnus, if we find out you are blowing us off to sit around, eat cheetos, and play video games we will come find you... Blackbeard has nothing on a drama class ditched for cheetos and video games. Seriously, Magnus - we are so grateful for our time with you and we will miss you greatly. Come back and play with us anytime!

HERE is the production schedule for Light's Out which will be on Zoom. We have an outline and a plan now! I am excited. Take a look at both of these documents: the production schedule and the outline. It includes what is DUE each week () and what we will be working on in class. As you are finalizing your scenes this week - PLEASE REMEMBER TO SITE YOUR SOURCES!

Production schedule:

https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1hTBP8hnhk0K2YtsXA_FFwFu2gvx3DGWCc3DekQWrRyHM/edit?usp=sharing

Story Outline:

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1WyuBpnFBh07IZHnxQ1lxKoHEqhaYA84OWYpVe_6igul/edit?usp=sharing

NEXT WEEK: We'll warm up with our NC Trivia drama game and then read through the show!

HOMEWORK: ALL scripts (including MINE) are due in your folders by NOON on Tuesday the 19th. As always, stay connected with your team and if you have any questions - email me!

Shakespeare - Study and Performance

Thursdays 11-12 (Fall 2020)
Instructor - Tony Pender

THIS WEEK:

HW:

NEXT WEEK:

Time Travel Theatre

Thursdays 11-12
Instructors - Shannon Mitchell, Dylan Bailey
Teaching Assistant - Alexandra Wright
the1shan1972@gmail.com
dylan@seedartshare.org

THIS WEEK:

HW:

NEXT WEEK:

For more information on additional Seed Art Share theatre programs, auditions, classes, upcoming events, or our teaching artists, please visit: www.seedartshare.org. Seed Art Share is a Triangle-based 501c3 nonprofit organization that exists to create community through innovative theatre productions and art-integration programs. Throughout the year we partner with other community organizations, municipalities, museums, schools and families to provide quality, inclusive, and affordable arts programming. We are always seeking volunteers, team-members, and tax-deductible donations to continue our work. Feel free to contact us at info@seedartshare.org or visit our website to learn more about how you can get involved!

Seed's office:
Pure Life Theatre
3801 Hillsborough Street
Suite 113
Raleigh, NC 27607
(in the Royal Bakery building across from Meredith College)

