Where in the World...

There is a contest over moose statues happening right now! Canada and Norway are working to outdo each other for the world's tallest moose statue. Mac the Moose, Canada's moose, has existed since 1984 and held the record for over 30 years. But in 2015, Norway decided to build its own moose statue called Storelgen, in hopes to beat Canada for the record. Some of the ideas to make Mac bigger are to make his antlers bigger or give him a hockey stick and helmet. Norway has said that if Canada ends up beating them they will make efforts to outdo Canada again. Sounds like a rivalry that will not be ending anytime soon.

How's it Possible...

Did you know that grasshoppers have ears in their bellies? Grasshoppers hear sound with two tiny "ears" located on their belly. The grasshopper hears by means of a tympanal organ. On each side of the first abdominal segment, situated at the base tucked under the wings, you'll find membranes that vibrate in response to sound waves. Usually, people think that they hear from their antennae. However, the grasshopper senses touch through organs in various parts of its body, including the antennae.

When Did That Happen...

The Peace Corps was established in the month of March. It was founded by John F. Kennedy on March 1, 1961. The Peace Corps core objective is to promote world peace and friendship through helping third-world countries develop, as well as teaching said countries about our culture and learning about theirs. At the height of enrollment in 1966, at least 15,000 volunteers had been sent to 52 countries around the world in order to facilitate the advancement of these countries. This year marks the Peace Corps 57th year.

Who Knows...

1. Take me out and scratch my head, I am now black but once was red. What am I?
2. What can point in every direction, but can't reach the destination by itself?
3. Flat as a leaf, round as a ring; Has two eyes, can't see a thing. What am I?

That's Incredible!

Zsolt Sinka showed he had plenty of bite as he set a new Guinness World Record for pulling the heaviest aircraft using only his teeth. The Hungarian strongman pulled a 50-ton Airbus A320 almost 40 meters using just his teeth and a rope attached to the front wheel of the plane. Sinka has done similar stunts in the past and has used his gnashers to pull other heavy transport vehicles, including fire trucks and trains.

That's Trendy!

One of the popular trends this spring season is to add feathers to clothing. Dress it up by pairing large plumes with leather or dress it down with tie-dye tops. A relaxed suit feels freshest with looser layers and softer silhouettes. Don't be surprised to see short suits and skirt suit options which are also emerging.

That's Funny!

1. What did the left eye say to the right eye?
-Between us, something smells!
2. What do you get when you cross a vampire and a snowman?
-Frost bite!
3. What did one plate say to the other plate?
-Dinner is on me!

That's Twisted!

Roberta ran rings around the Roman ruins.

That's Inspirational!
