

Counting Animals

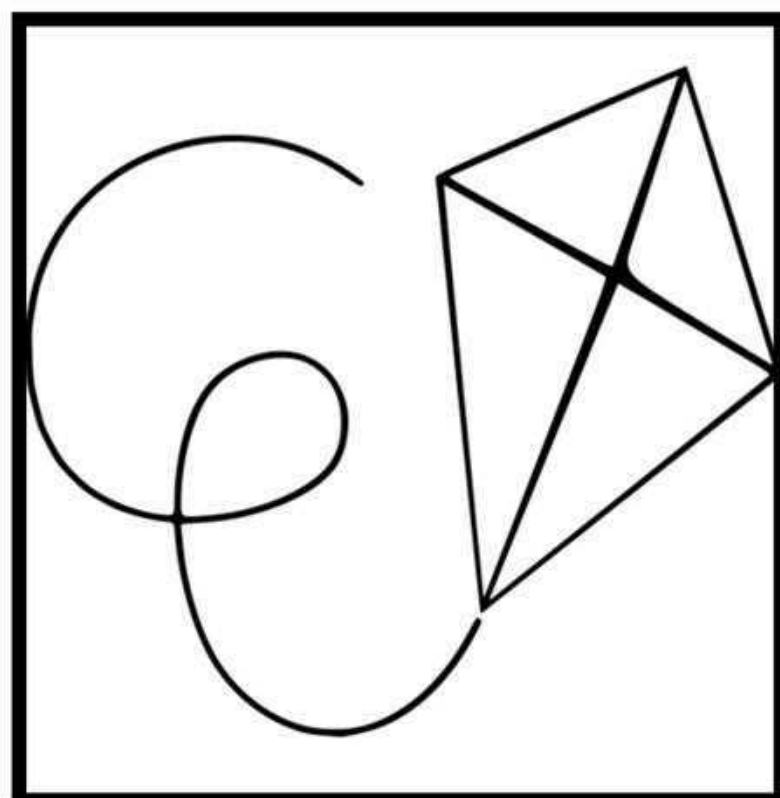

HOPE

hearing & language
opportunities for education

MILLION WORD GAP PROJECT

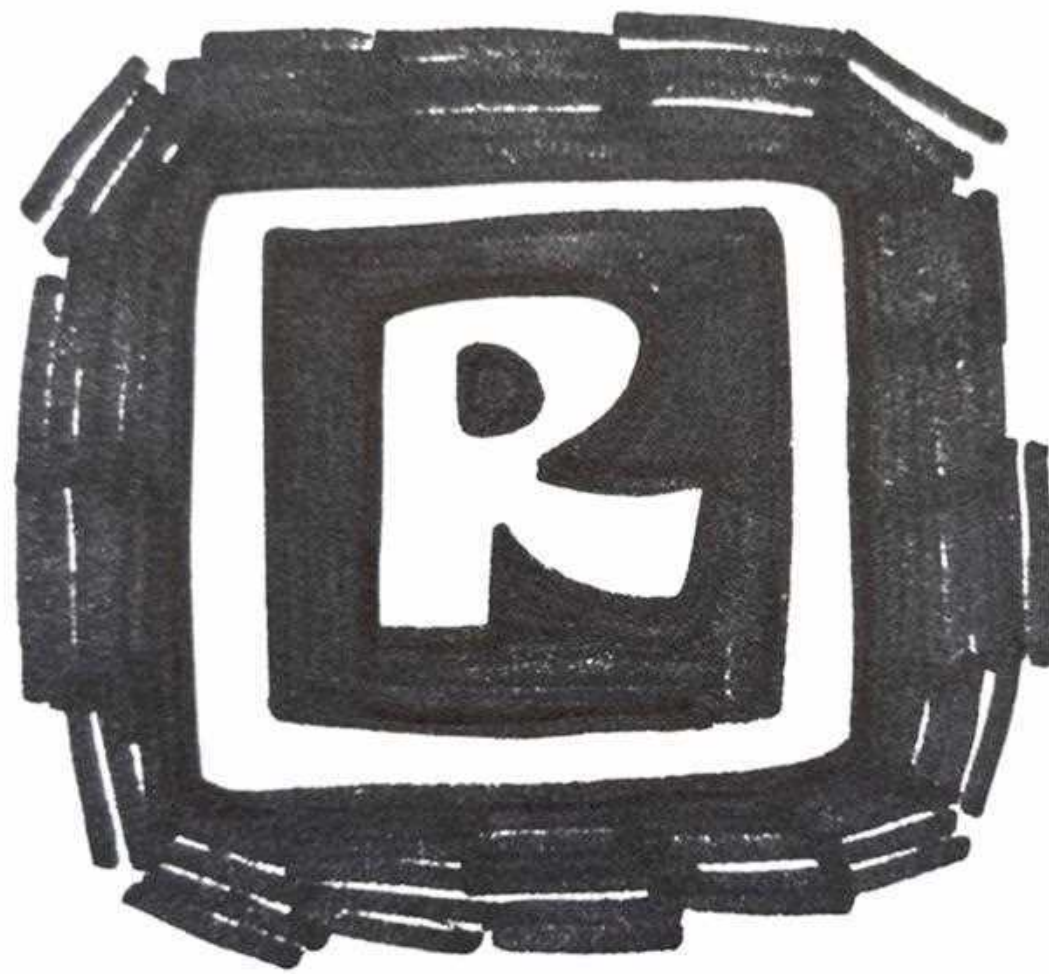

Learning about animals encourages children to interact with animals. Communicating and interacting with animals will build their brains and grow their hearts. A child who loves animals may explore the world by watching ants carry food, watching worms and caterpillars as they crawl on the ground. Counting and animal recognition is not only fun! It is a wonderful way to help their brains grow, stimulate them to think, and strengthen their curiosity about the world in which they live.

www.hope-hear.org
#HOPE-learn

Illustrated by

Robyn van Zijl

ROBYN VAN ZIJL

Numbers and Animals

One – guinea fowl

Two – elephants

Three – hornbills or birds

Four – giraffes

Five – trees

Six – owls

Seven – feathers

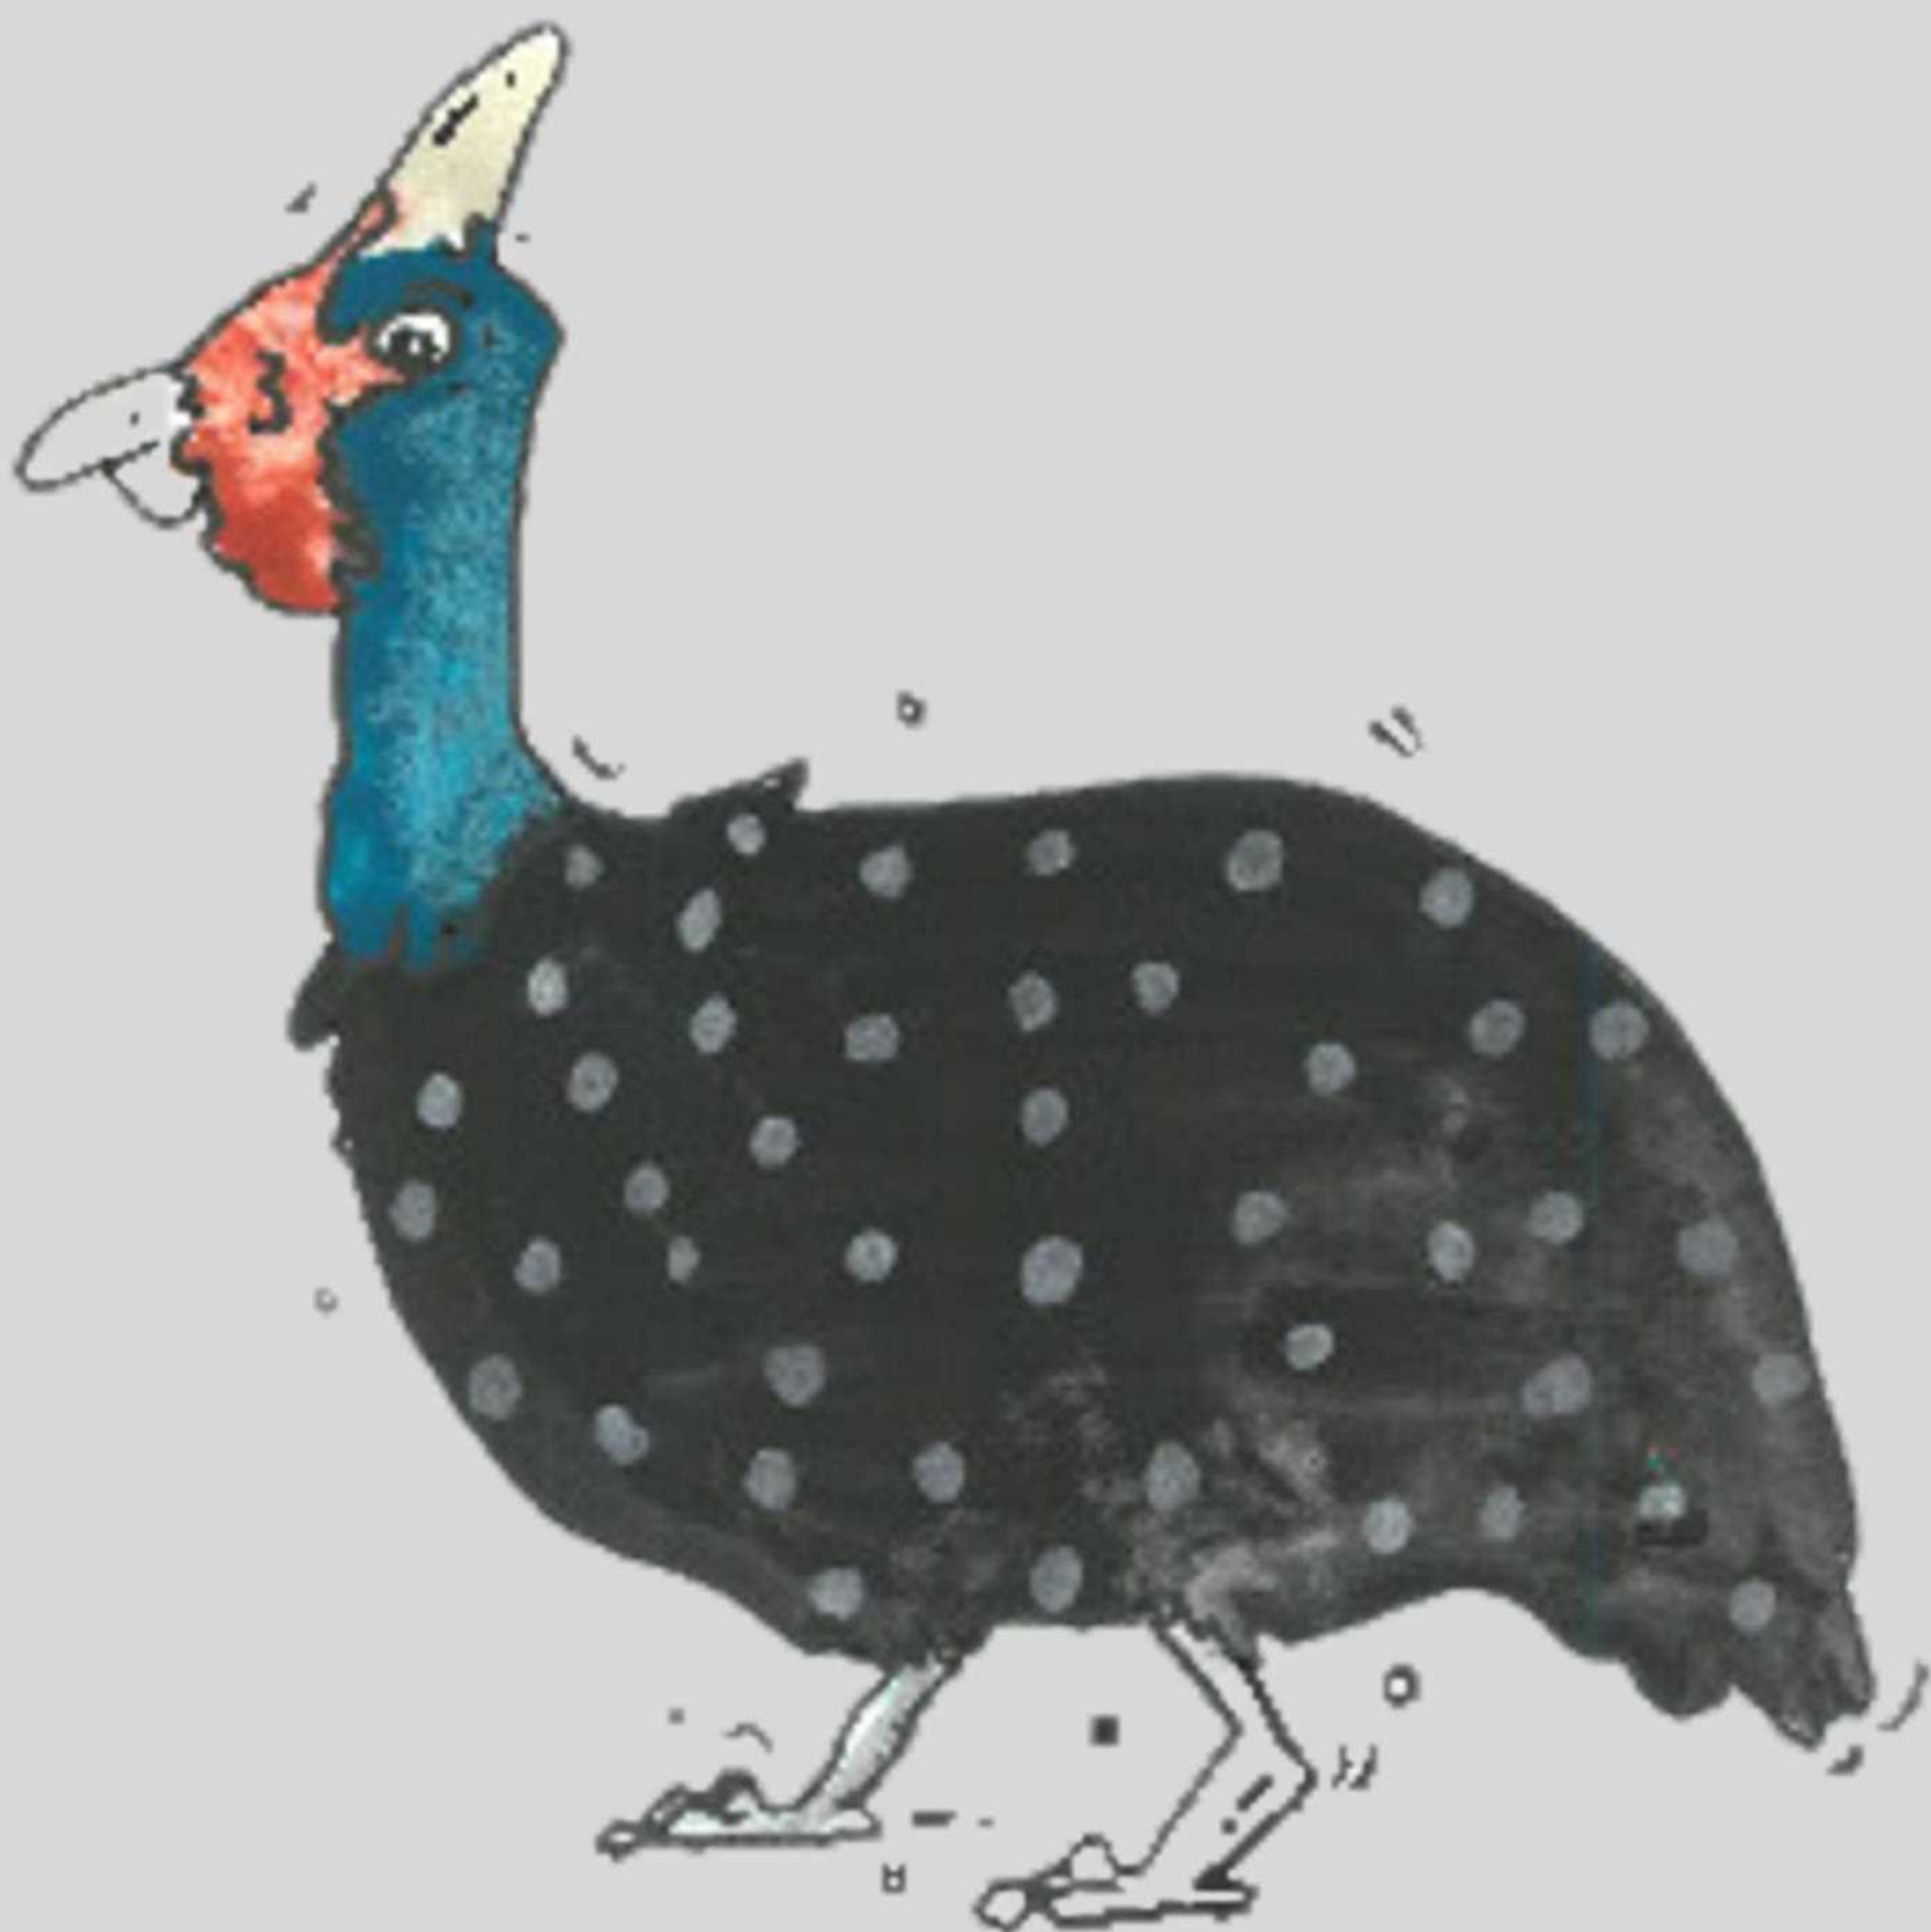

Eight – elephants

Nine – tortoises

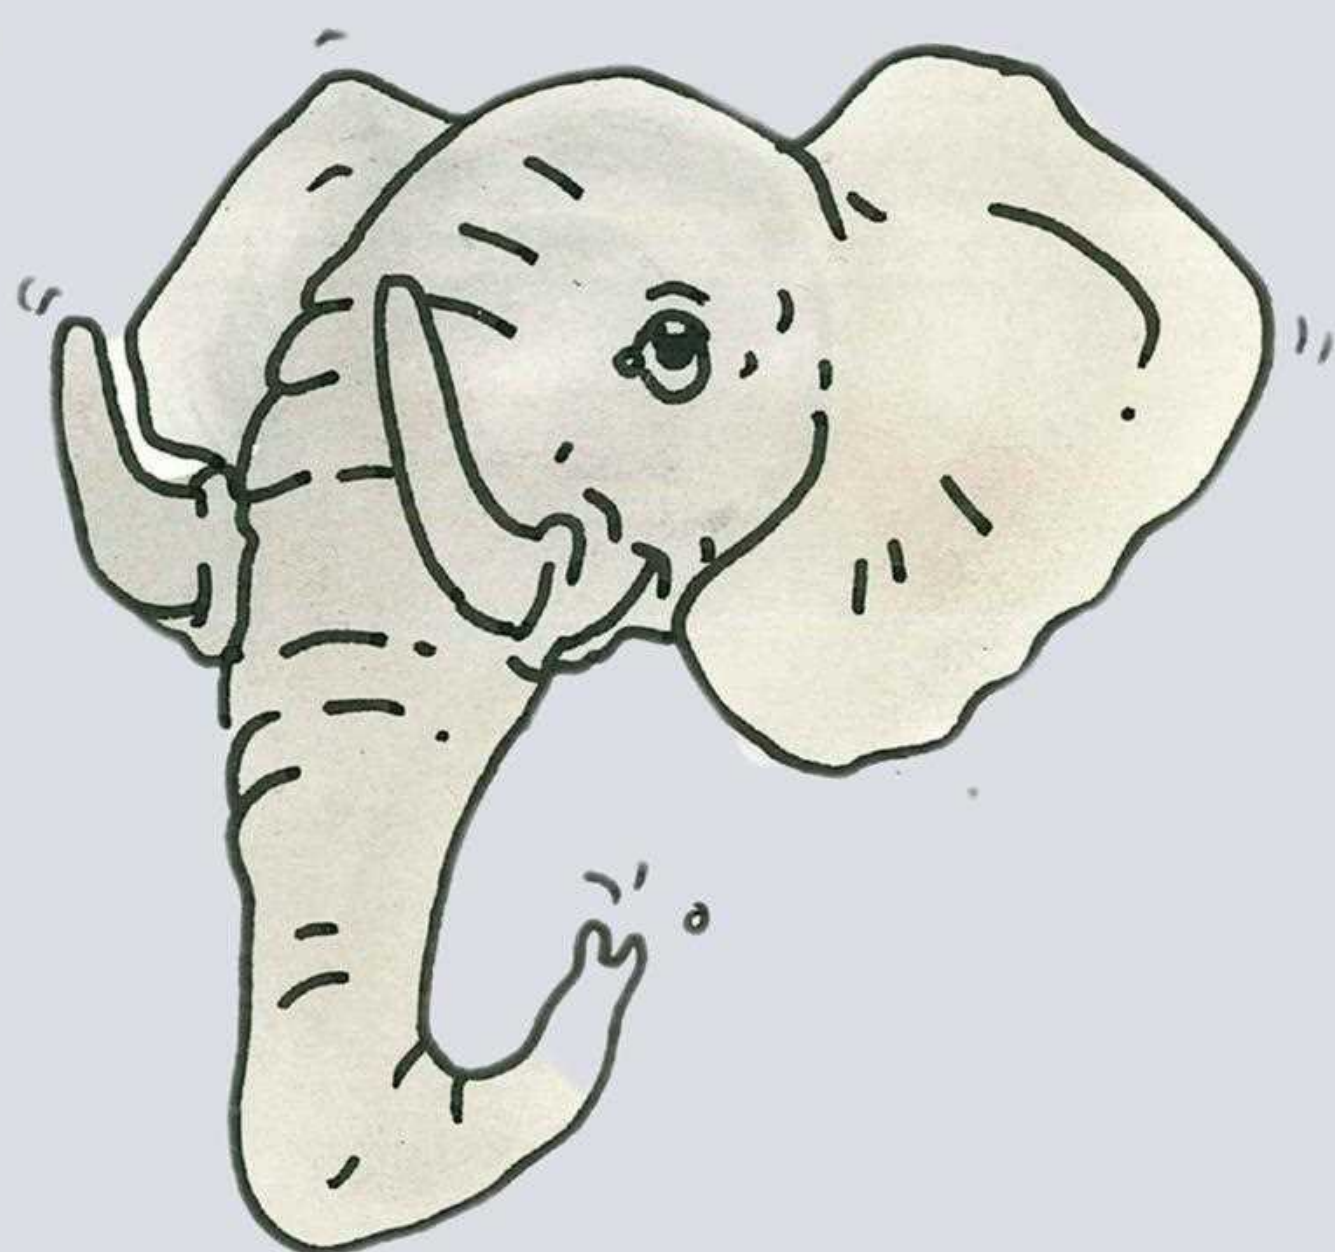

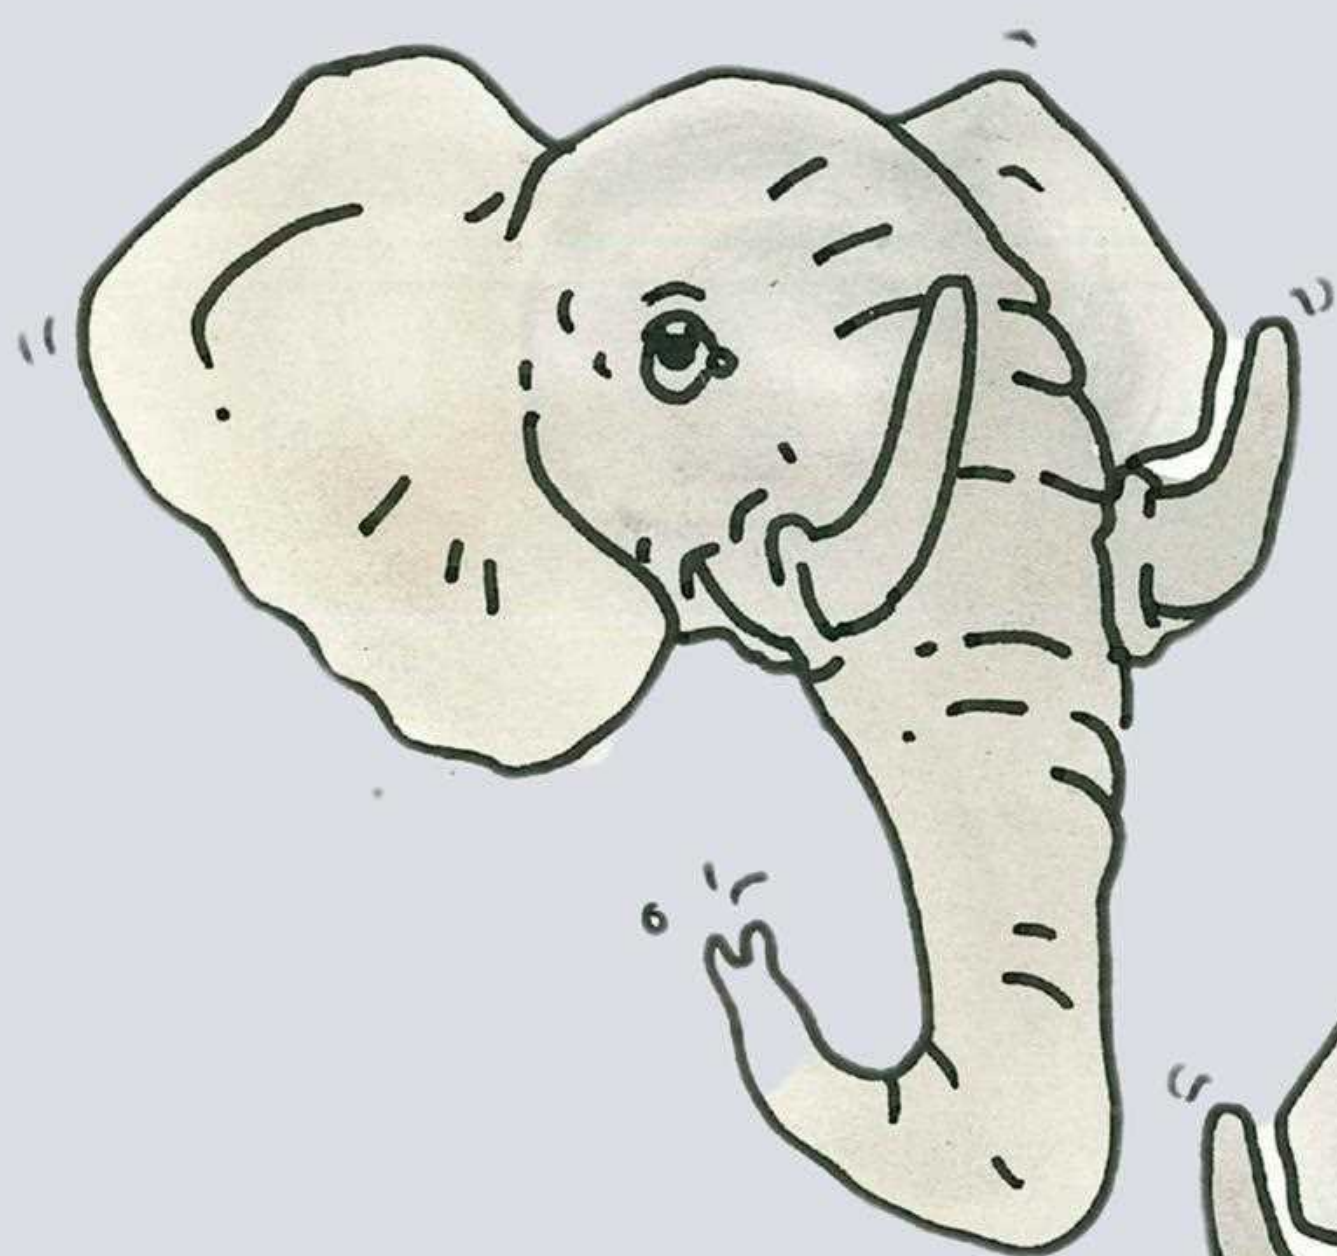

Ten – guinea fowl

1

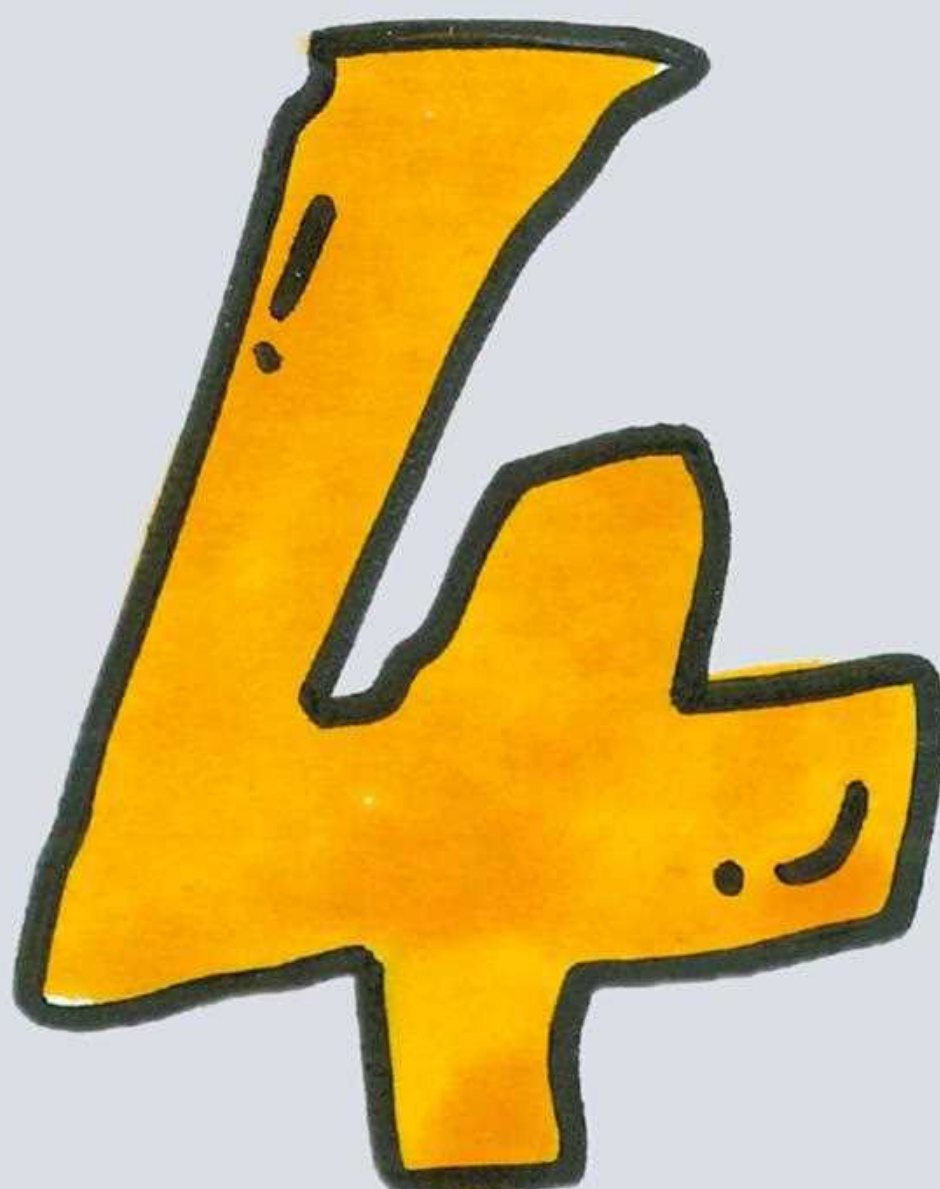

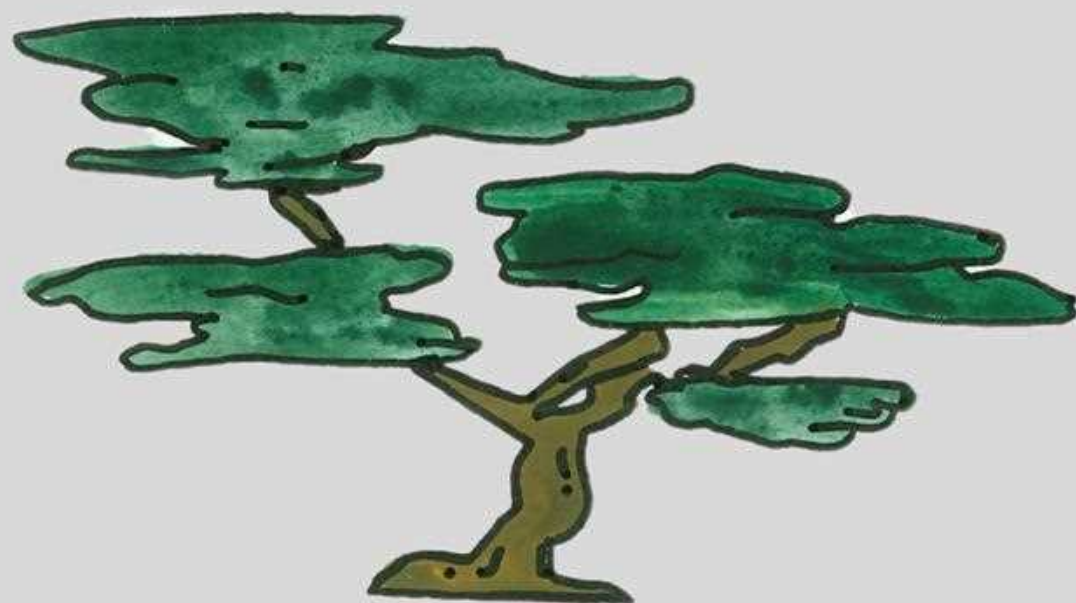

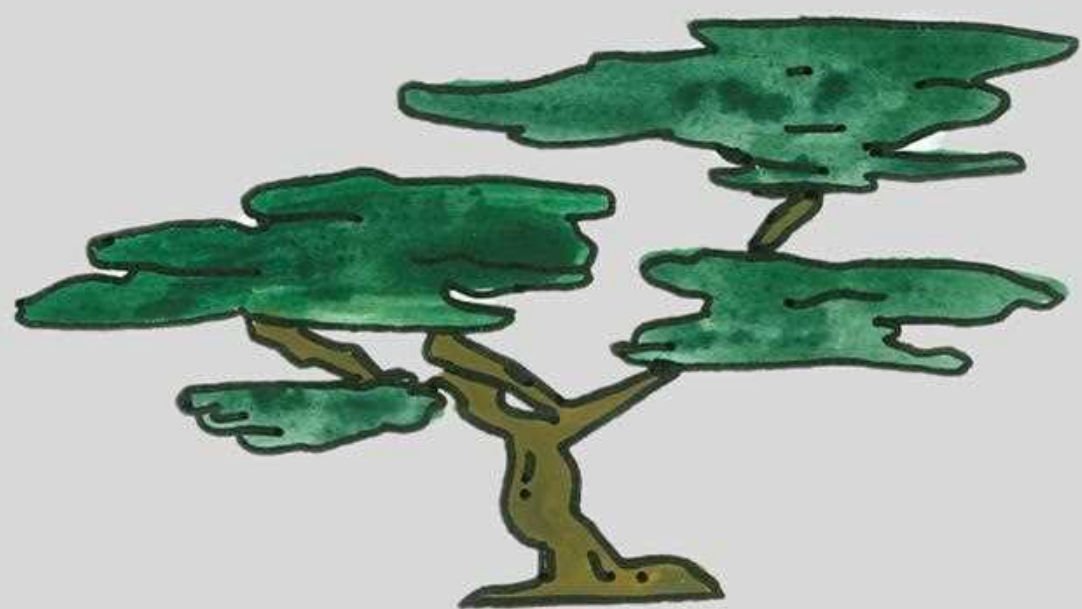

2

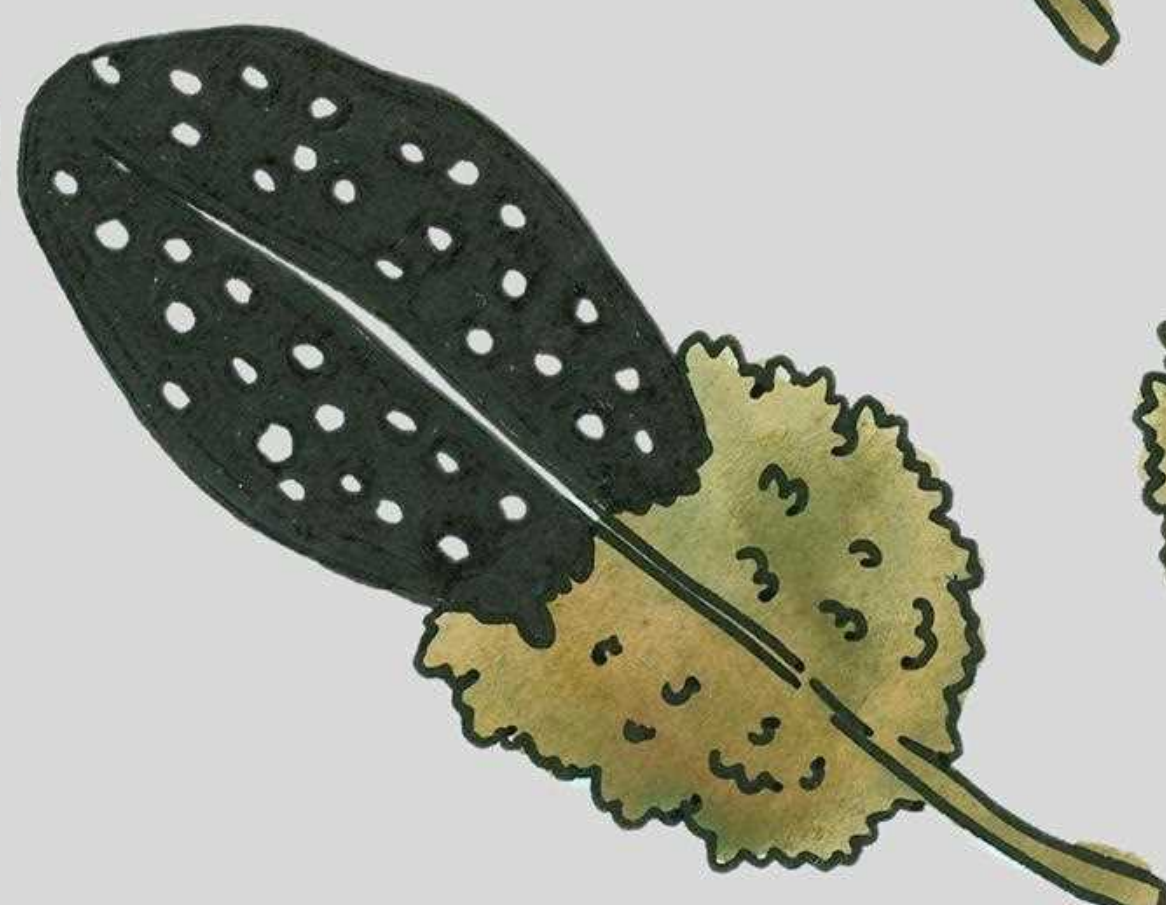

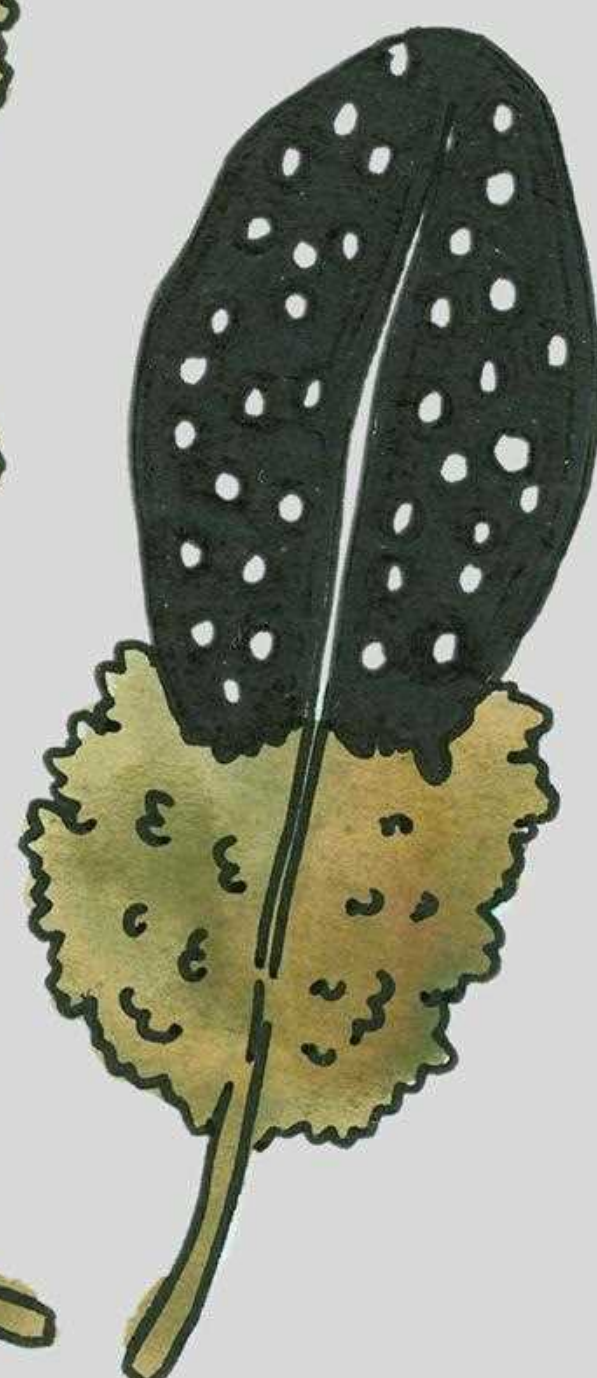

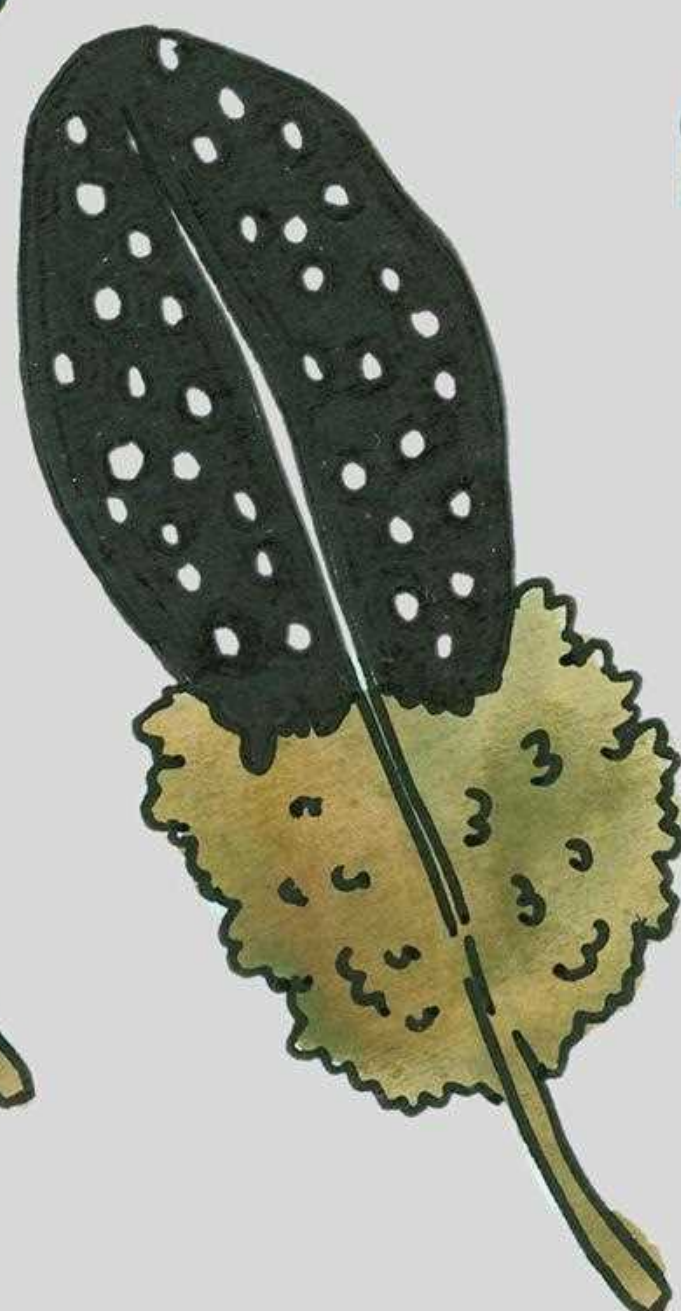

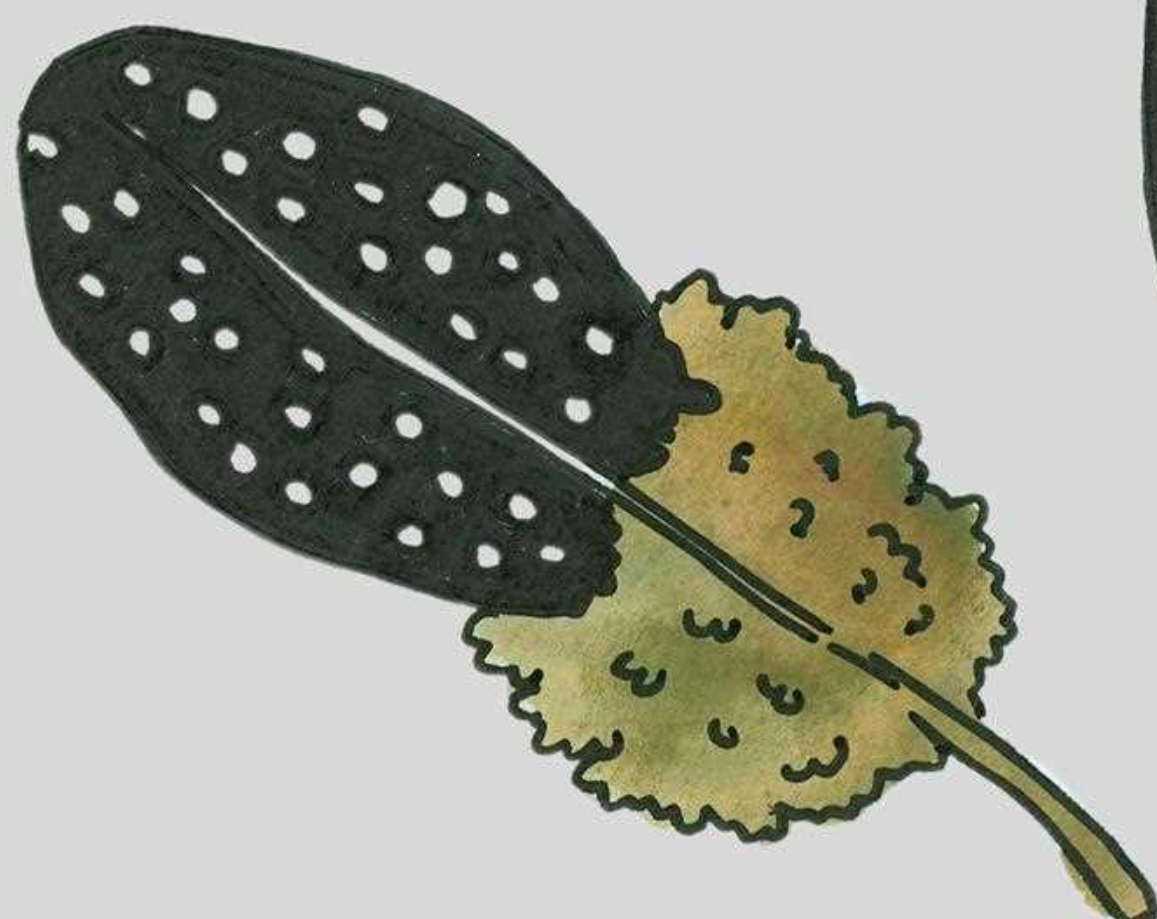

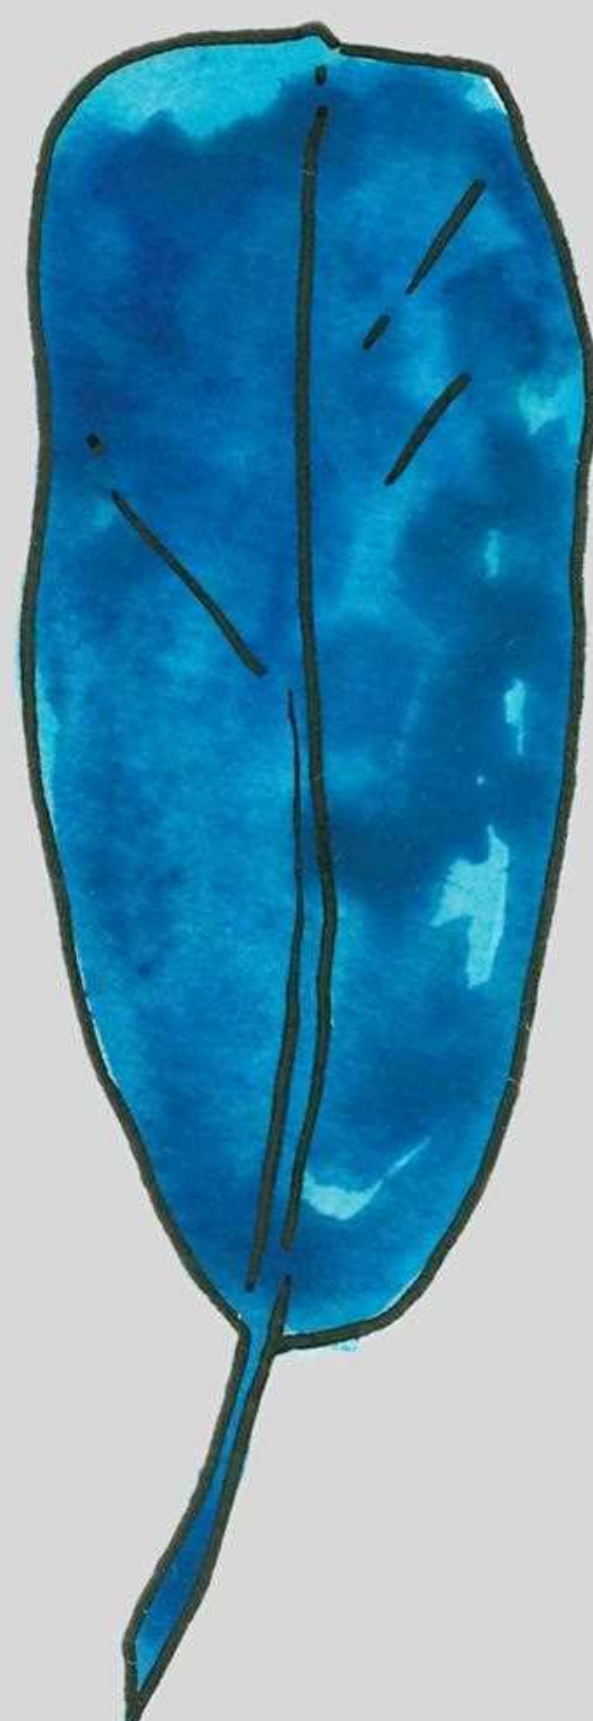

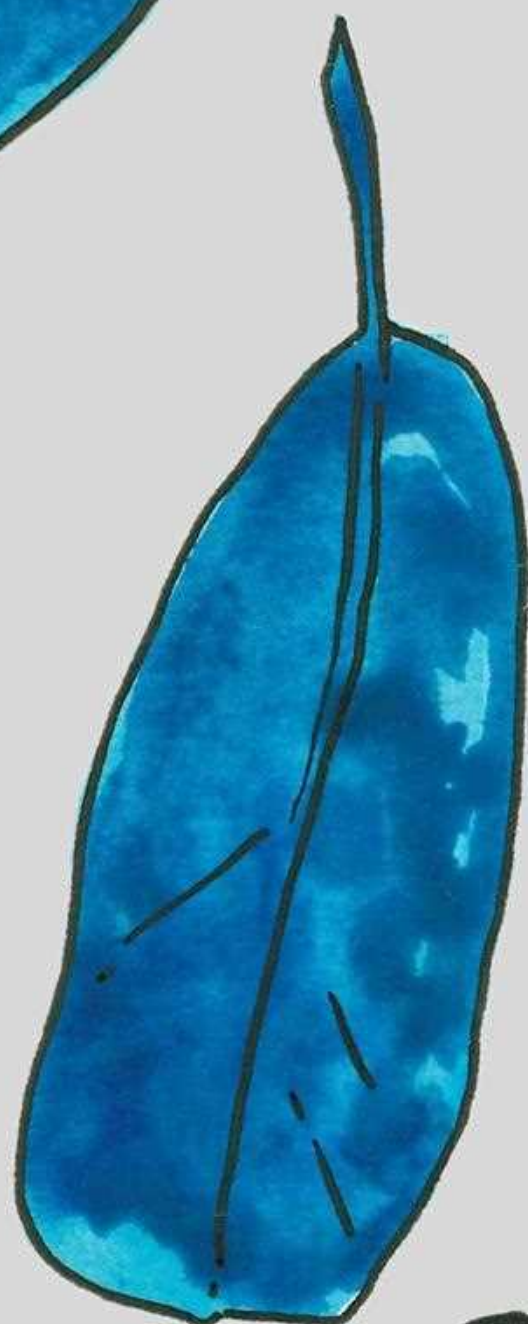

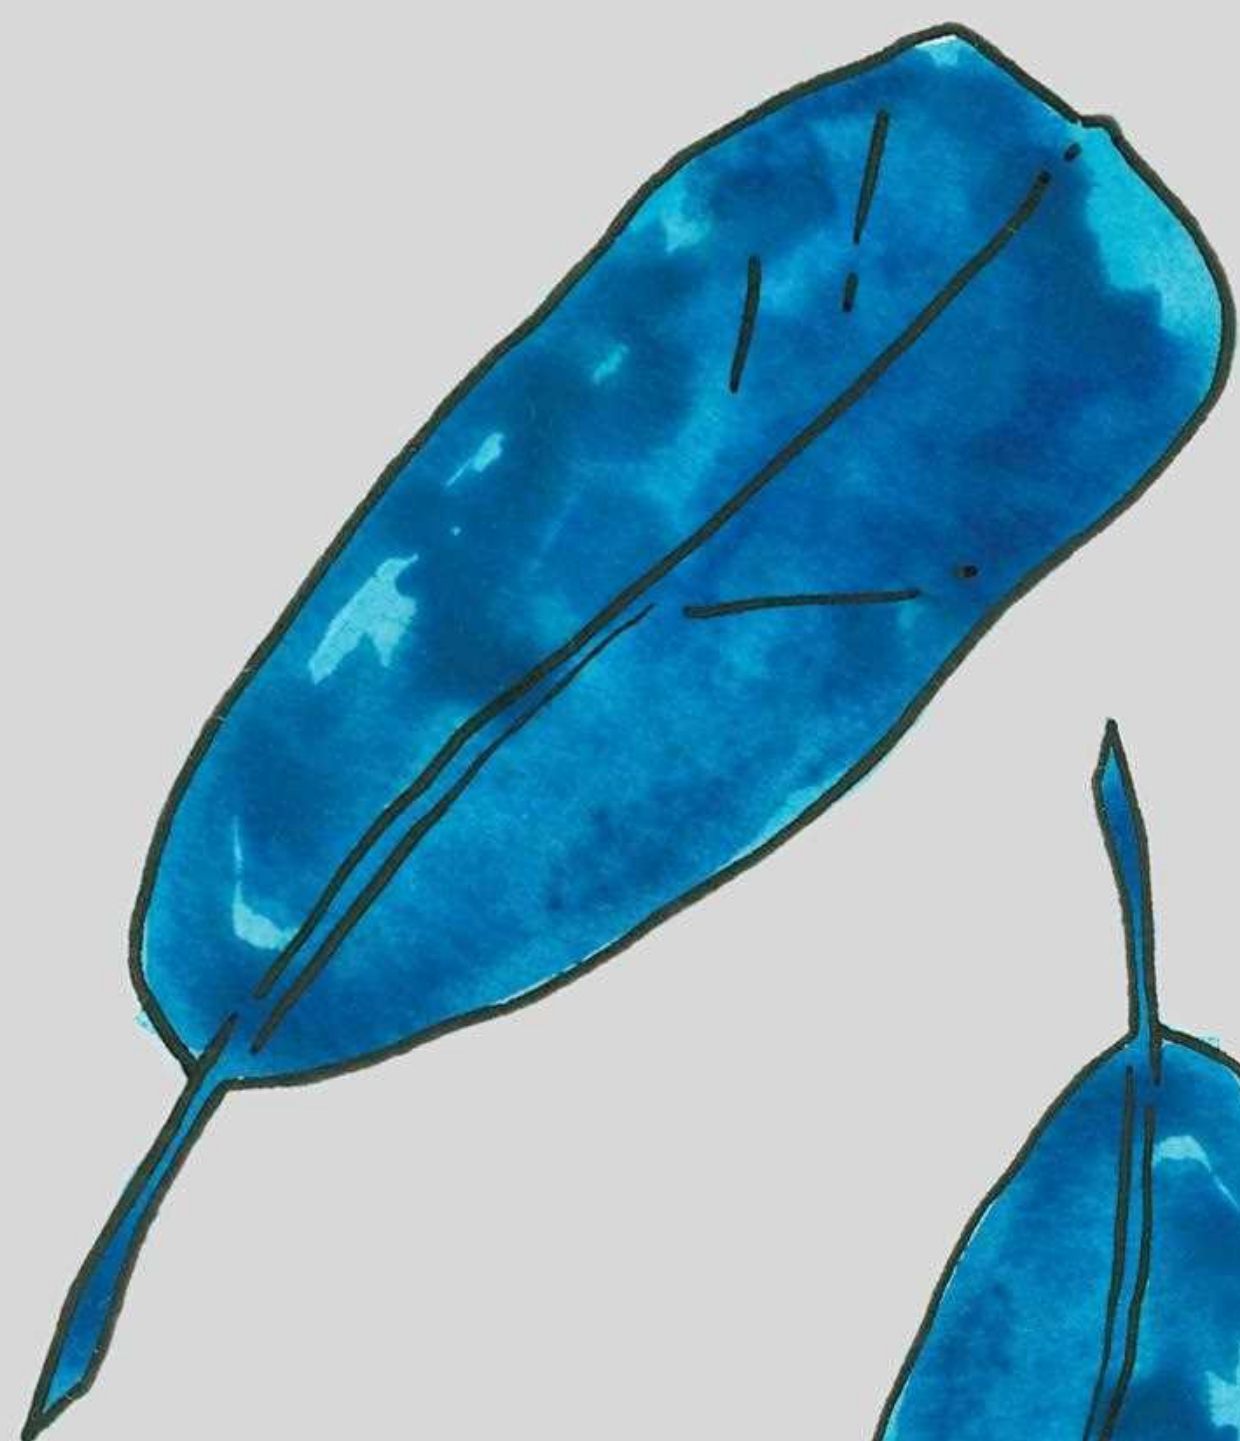

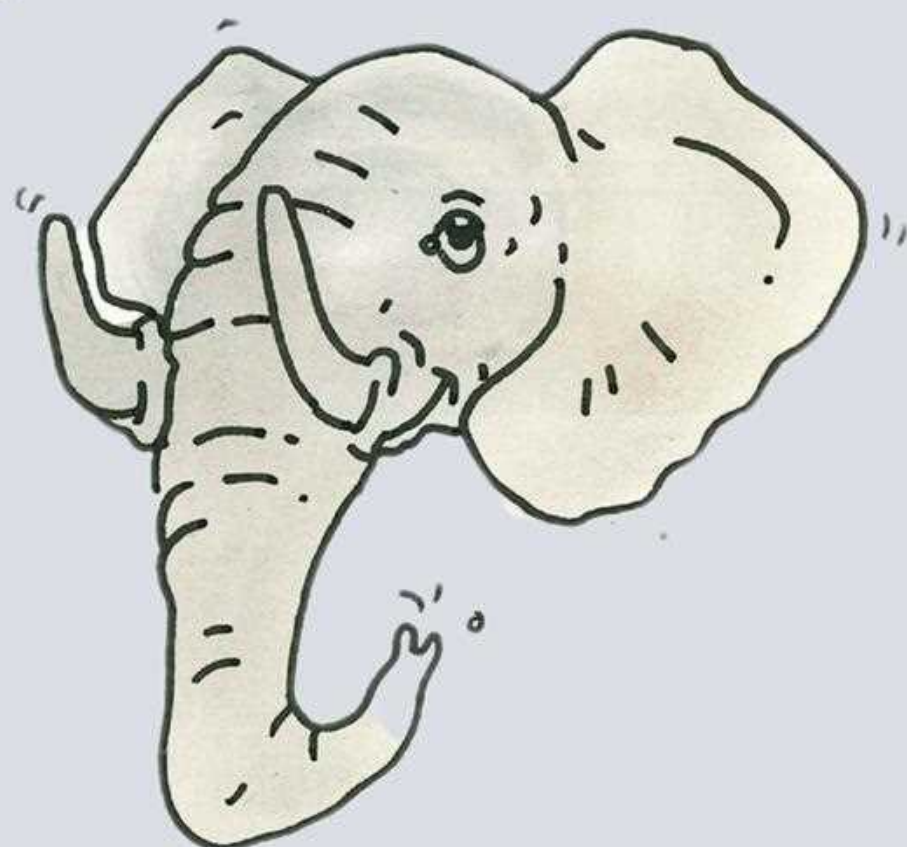

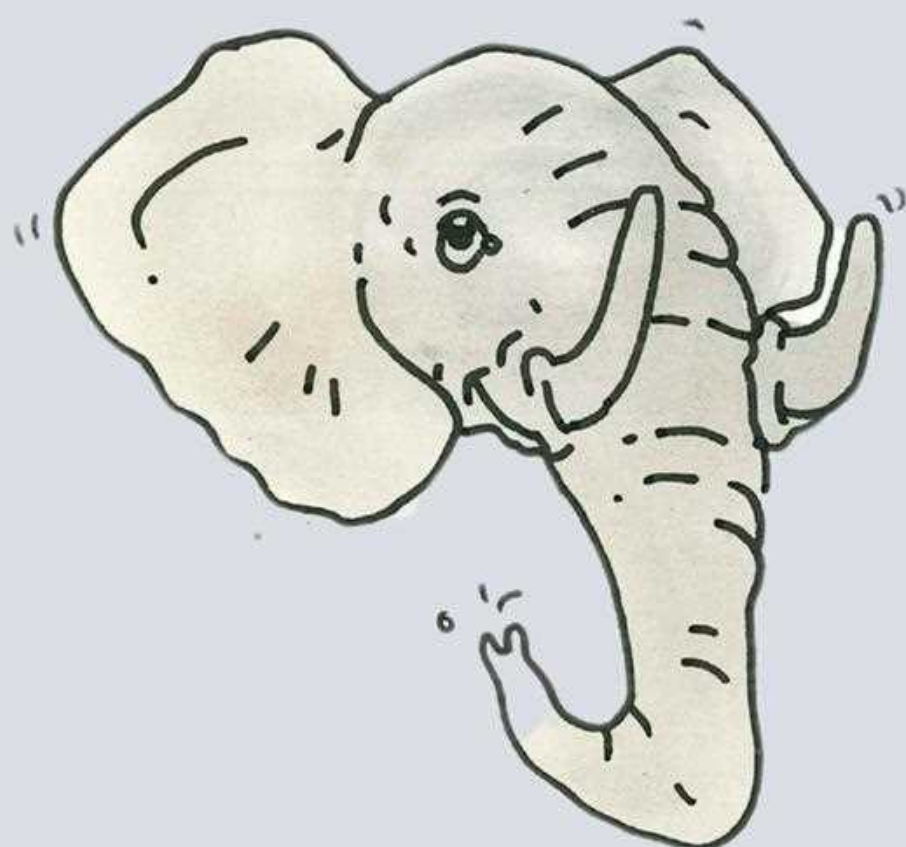

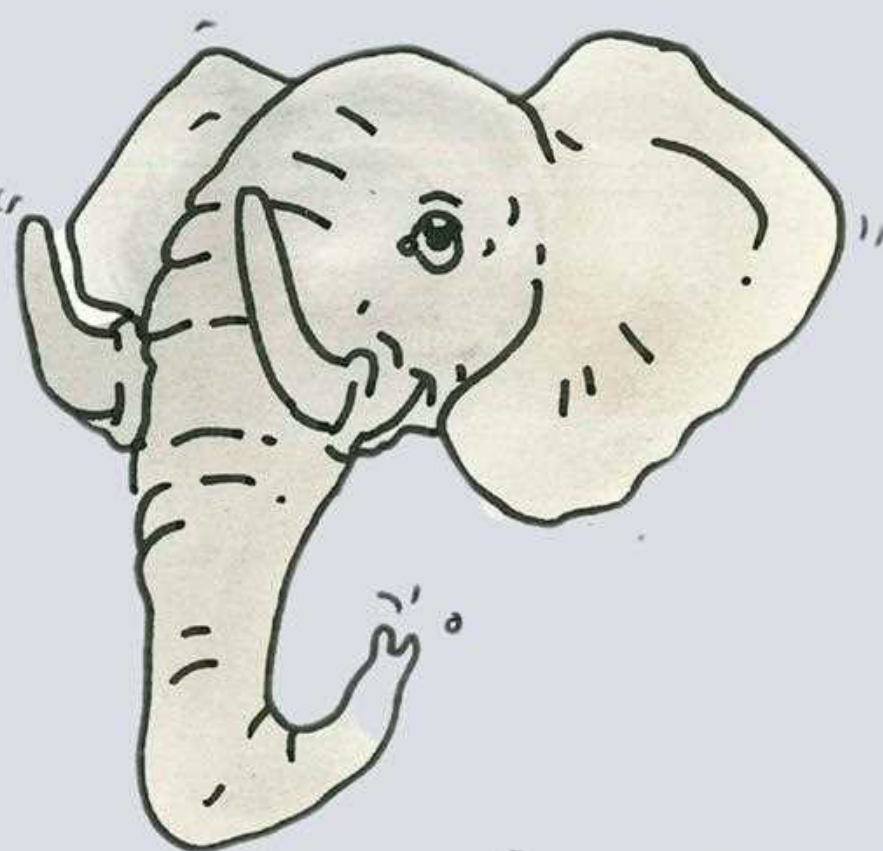

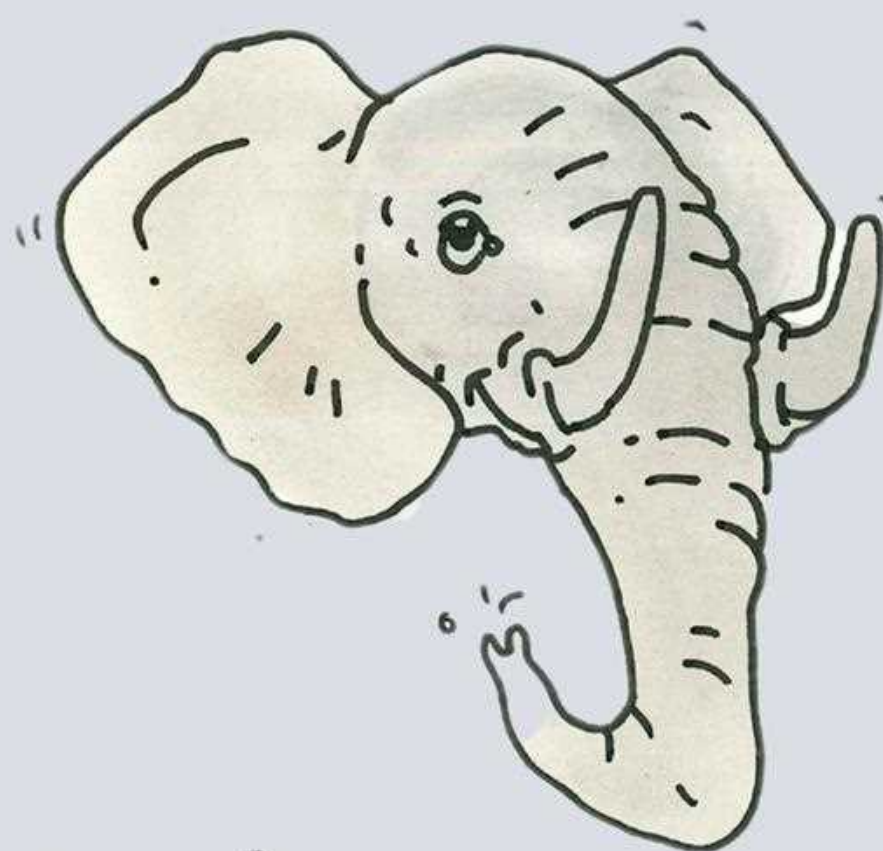

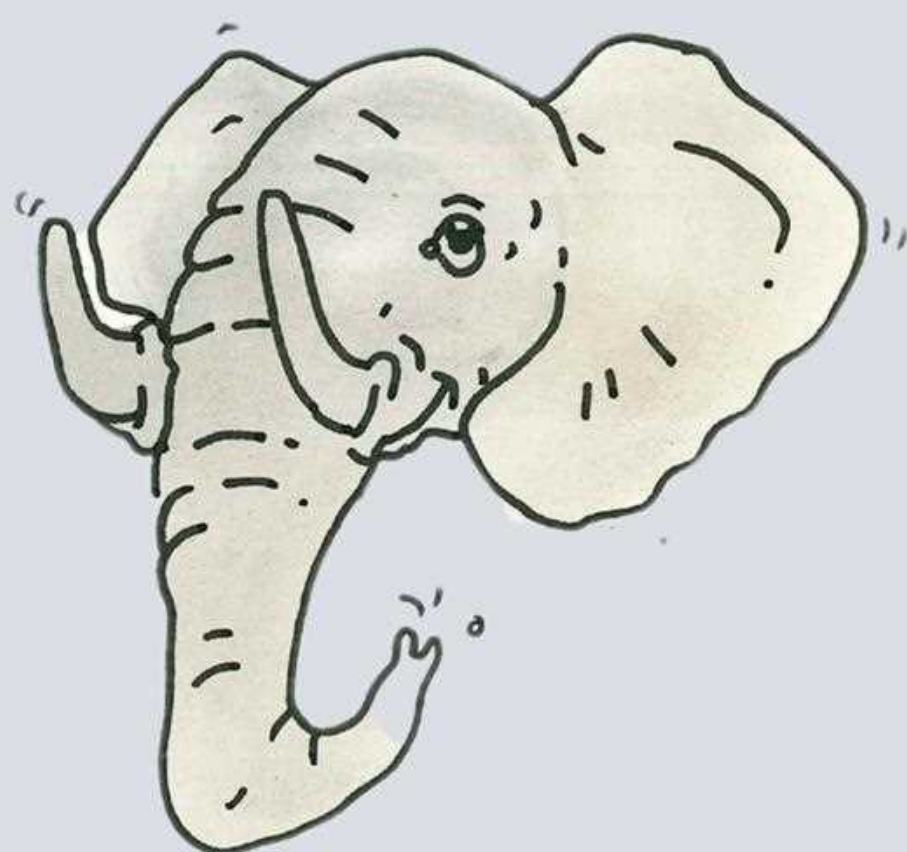

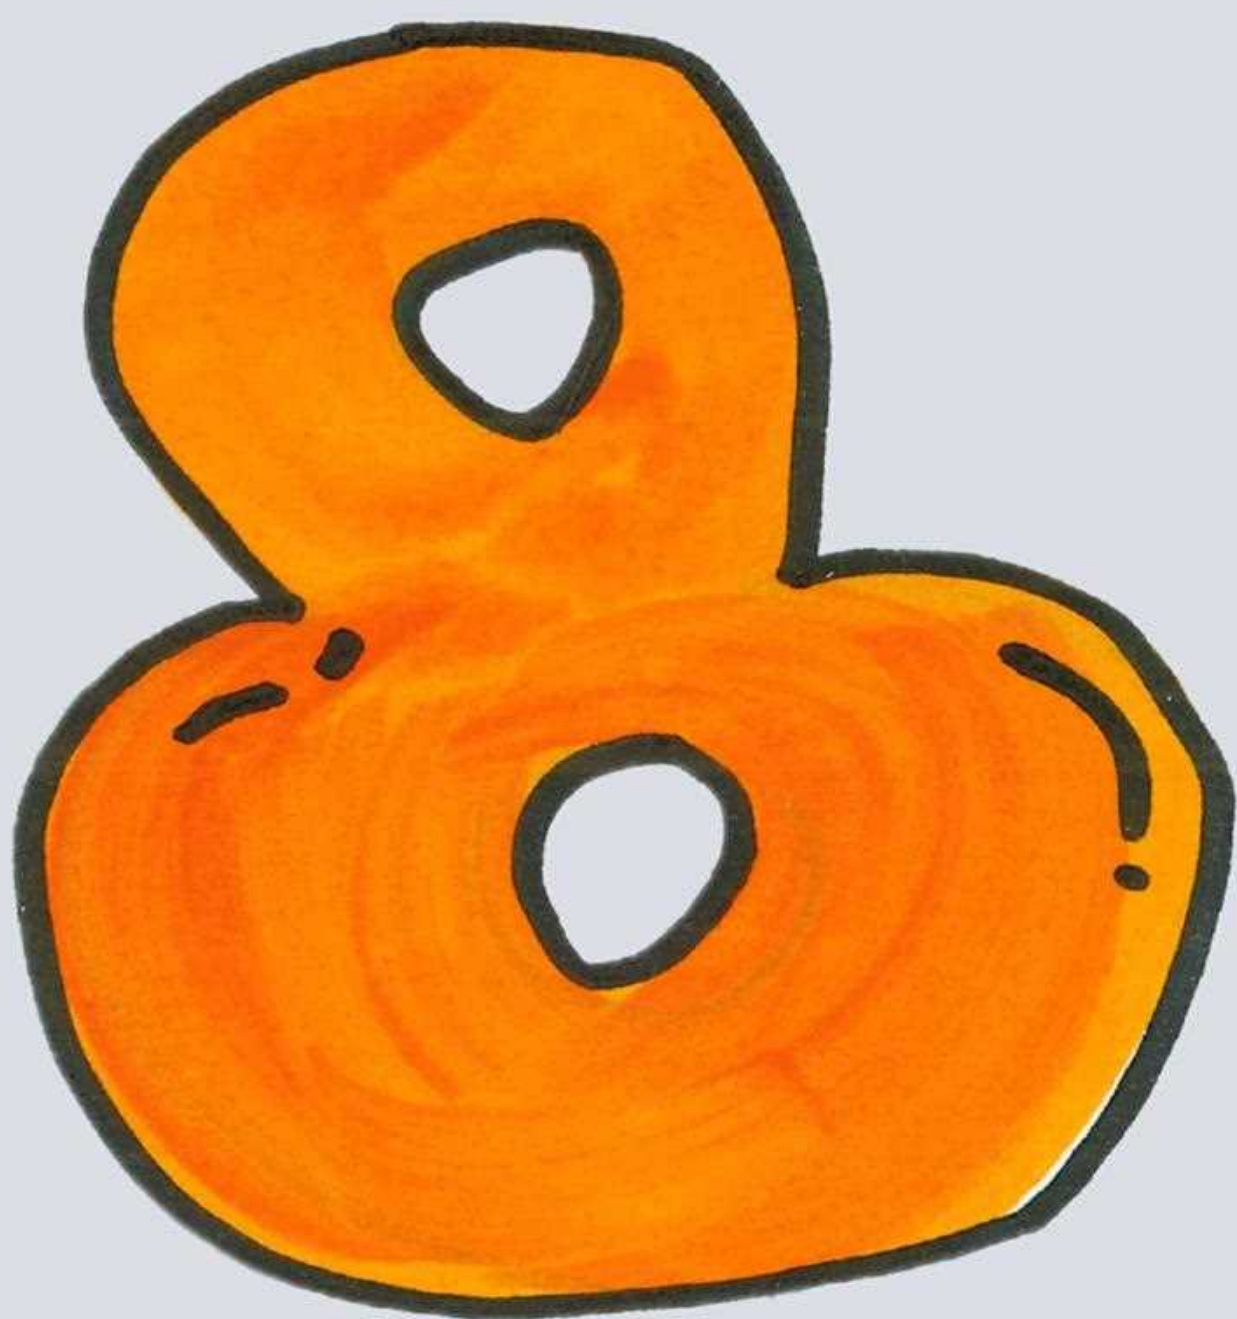

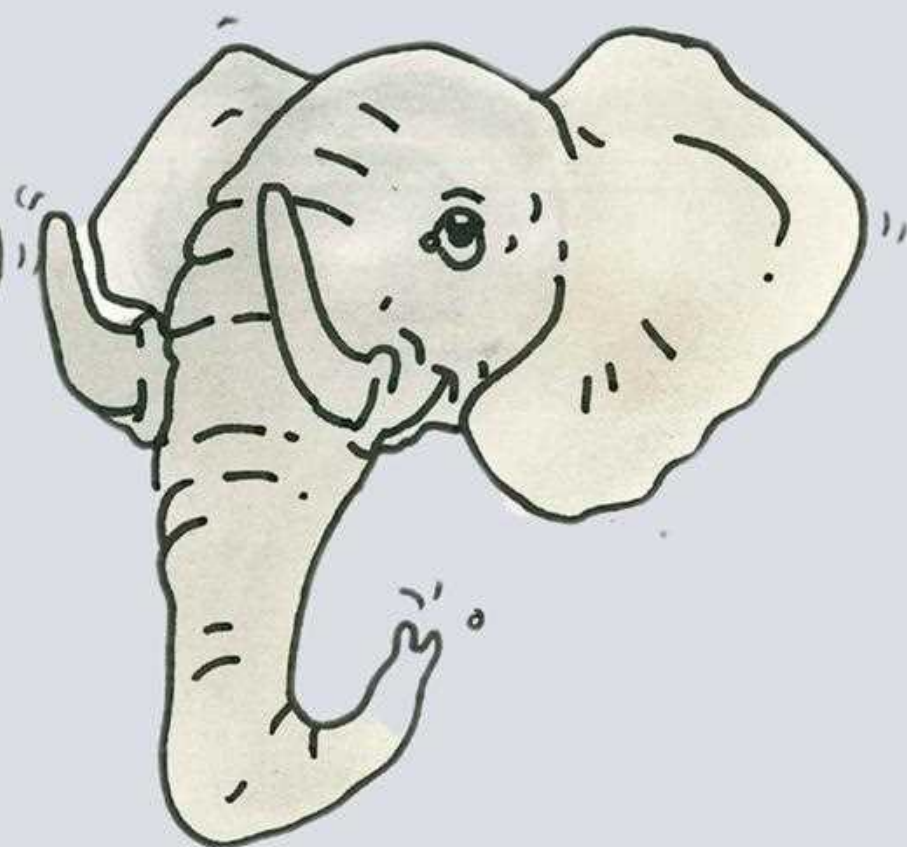

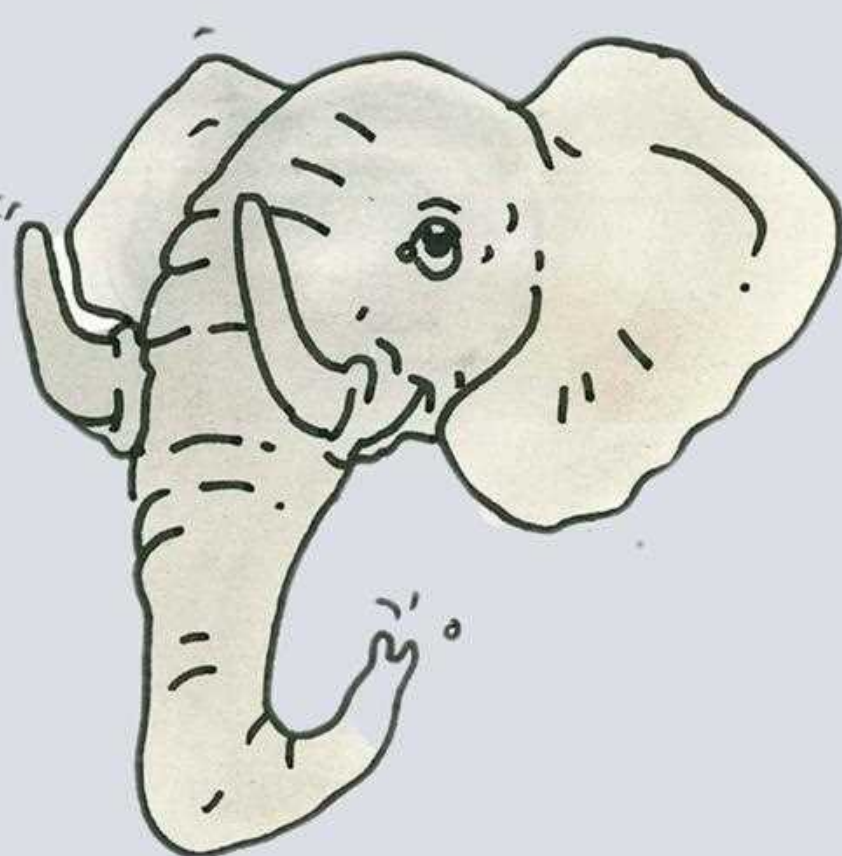

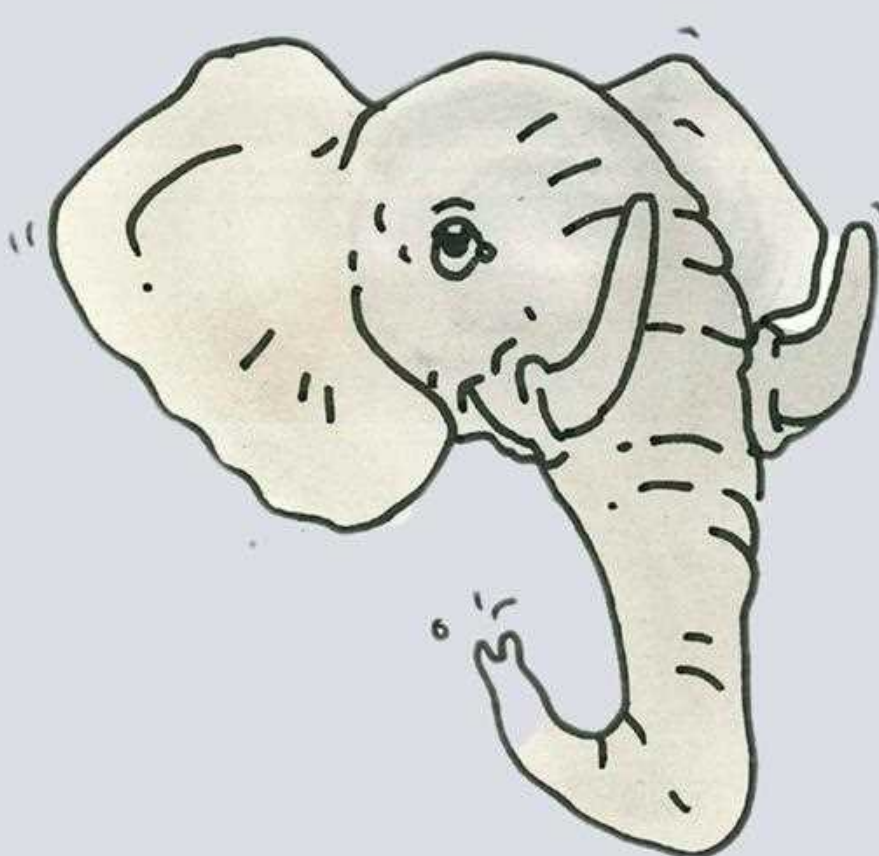

3

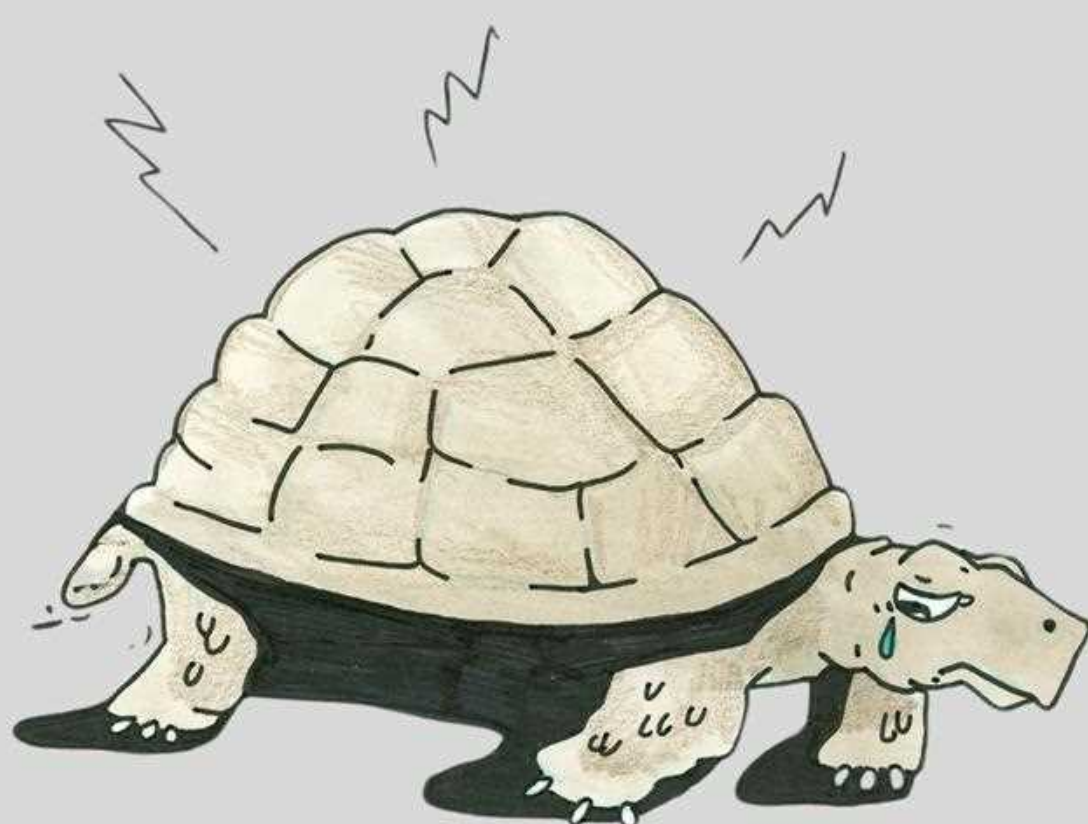

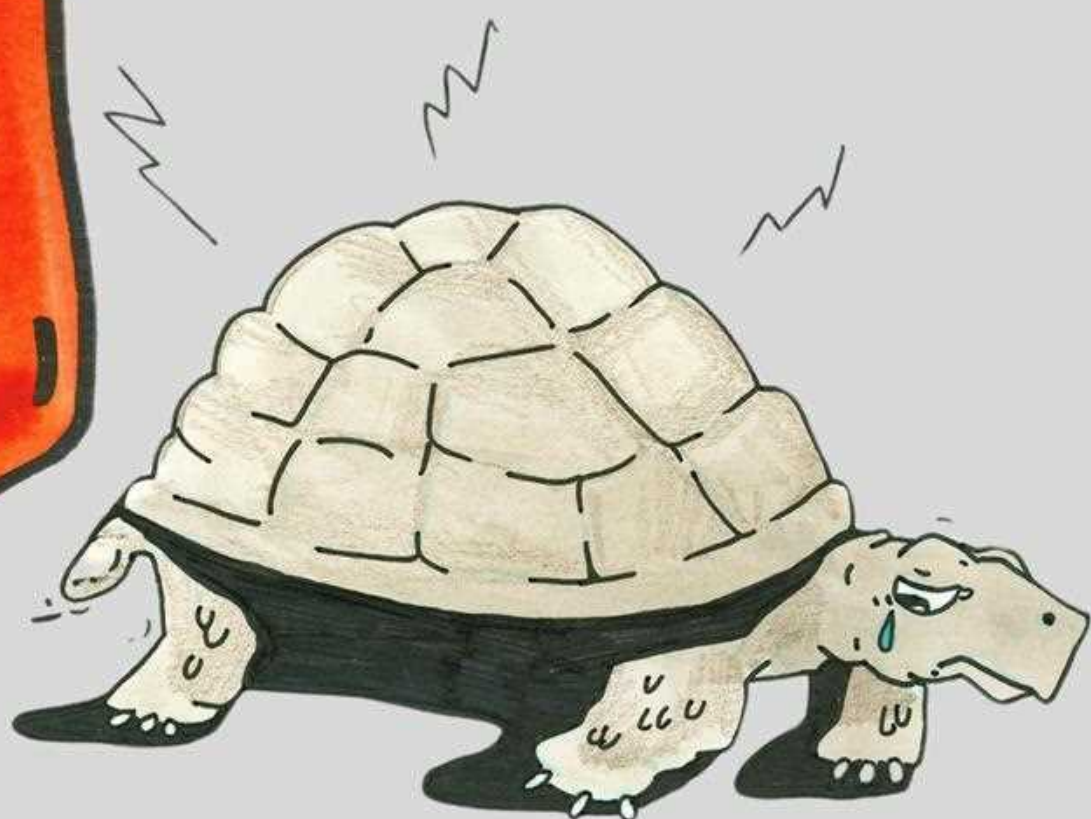

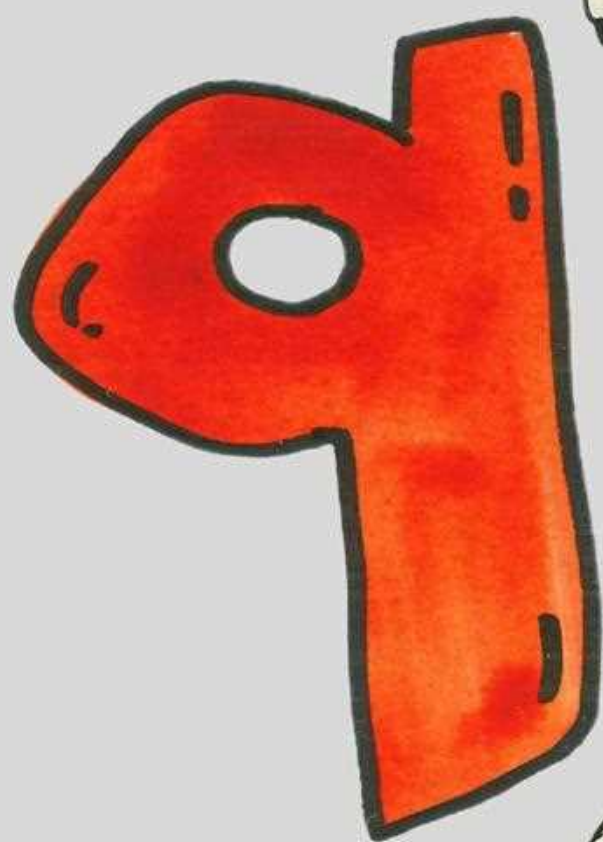

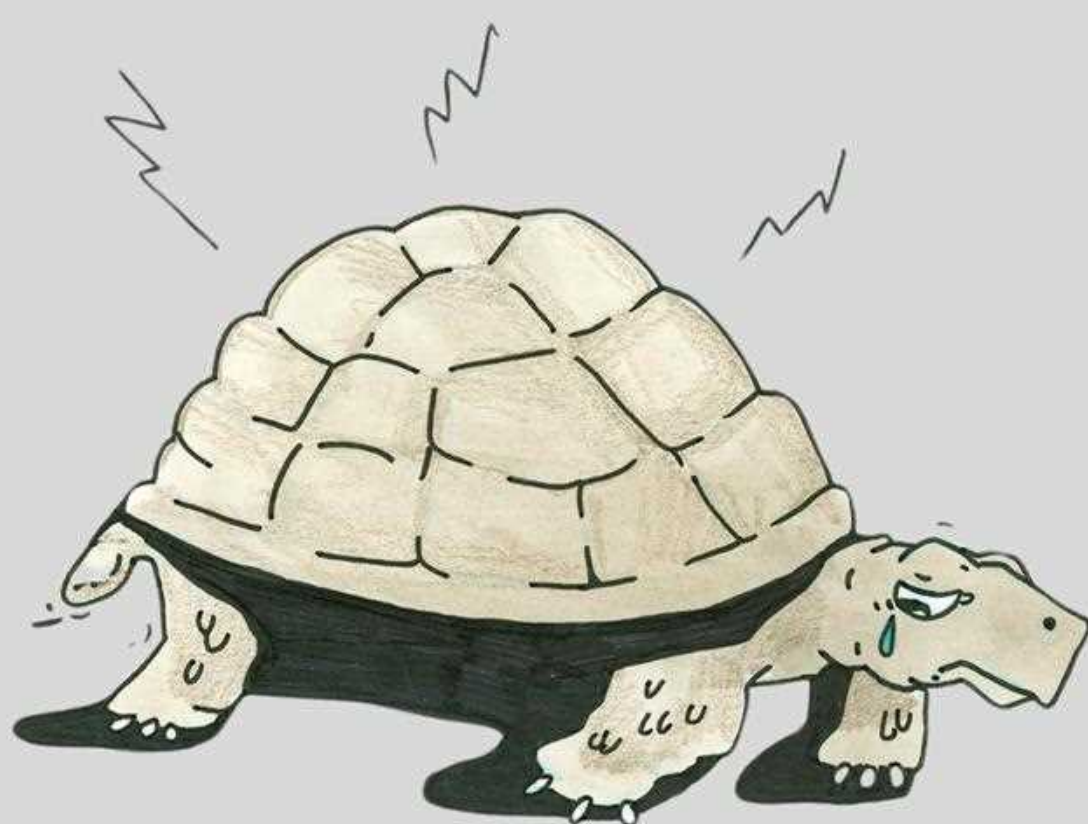

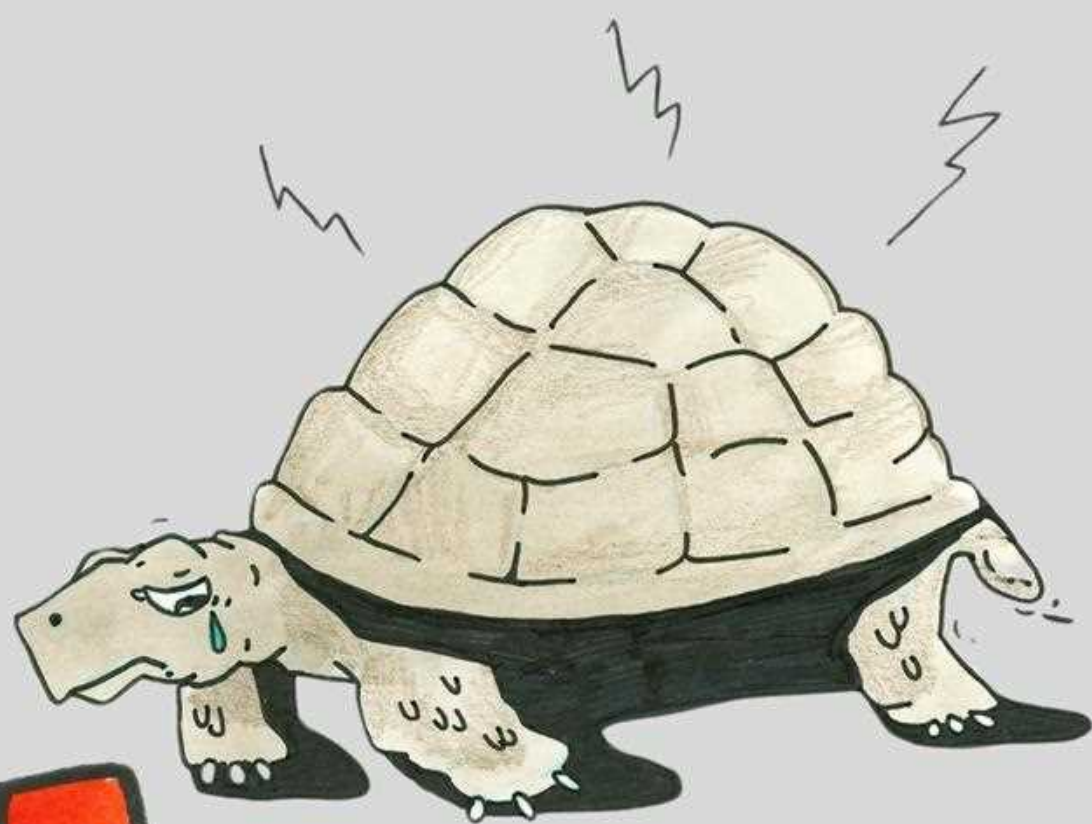

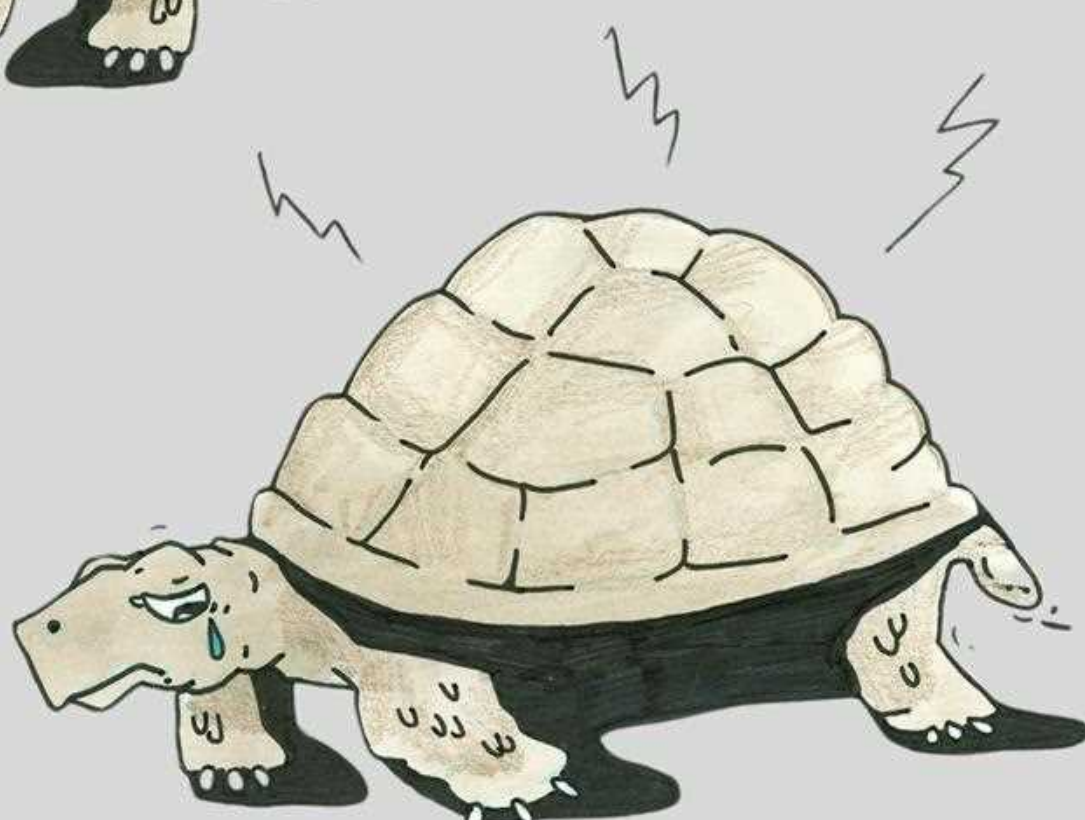

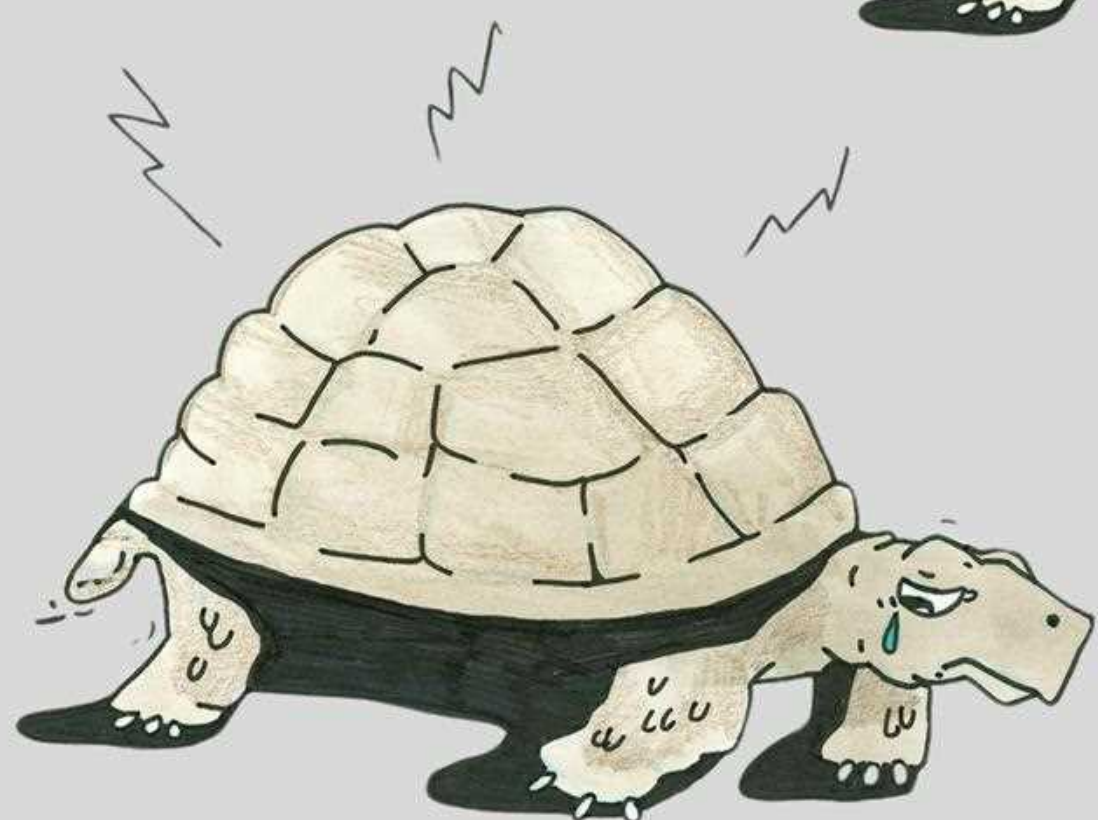

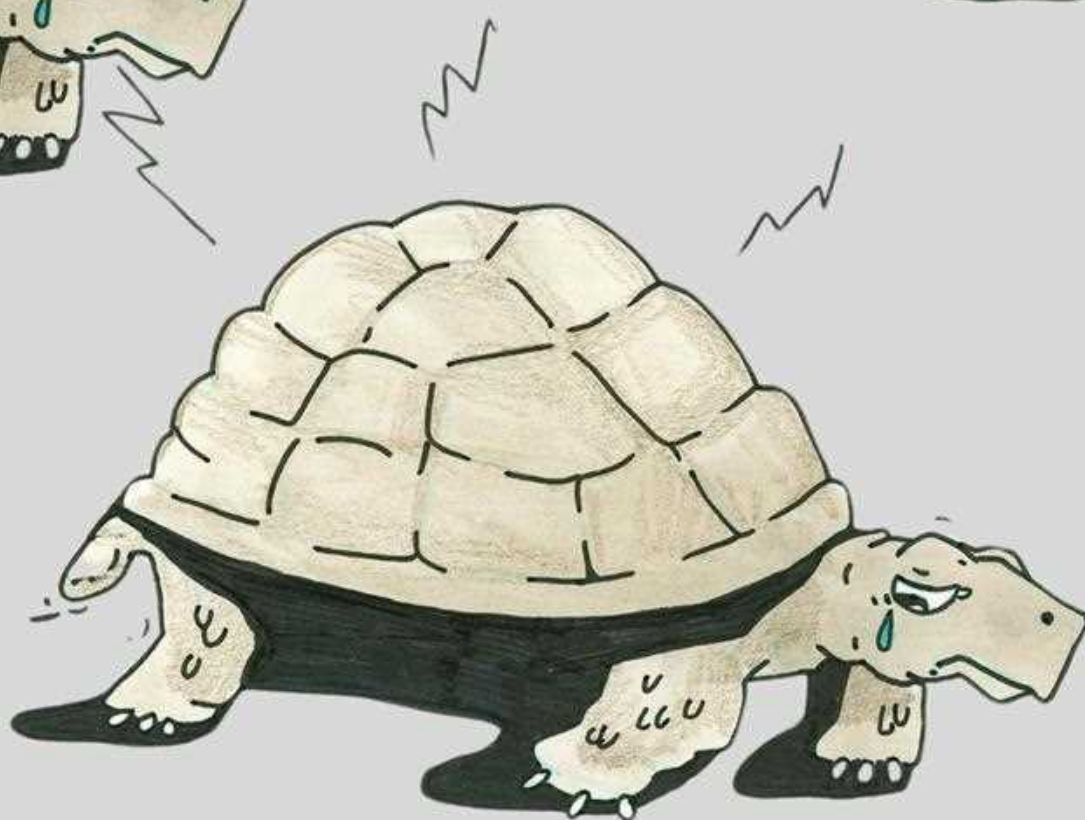

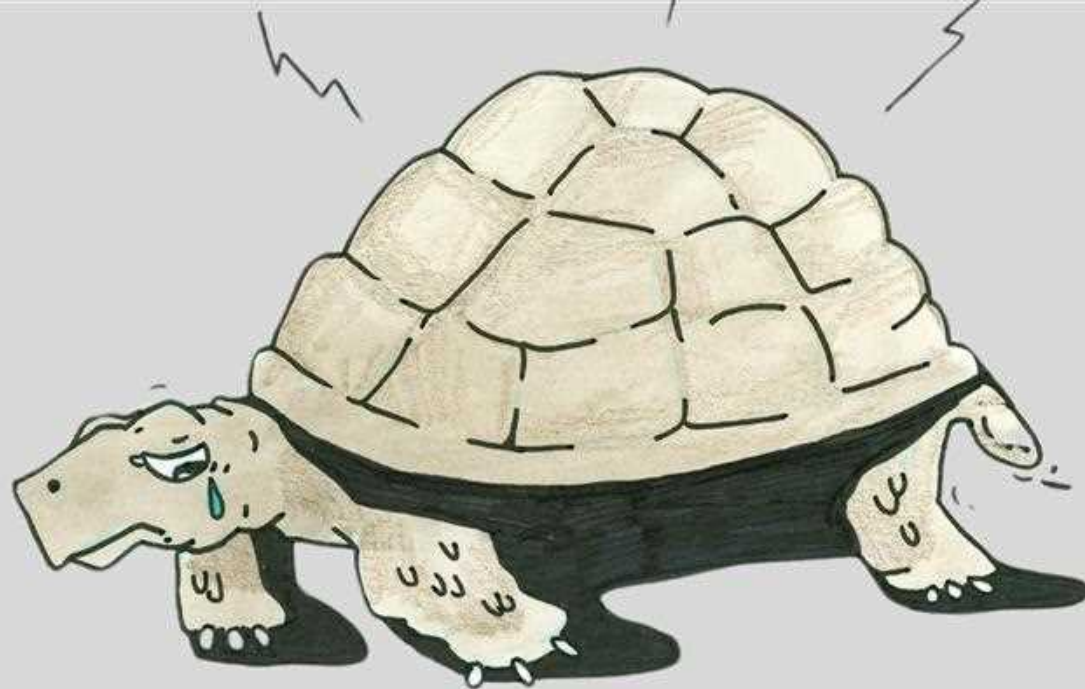

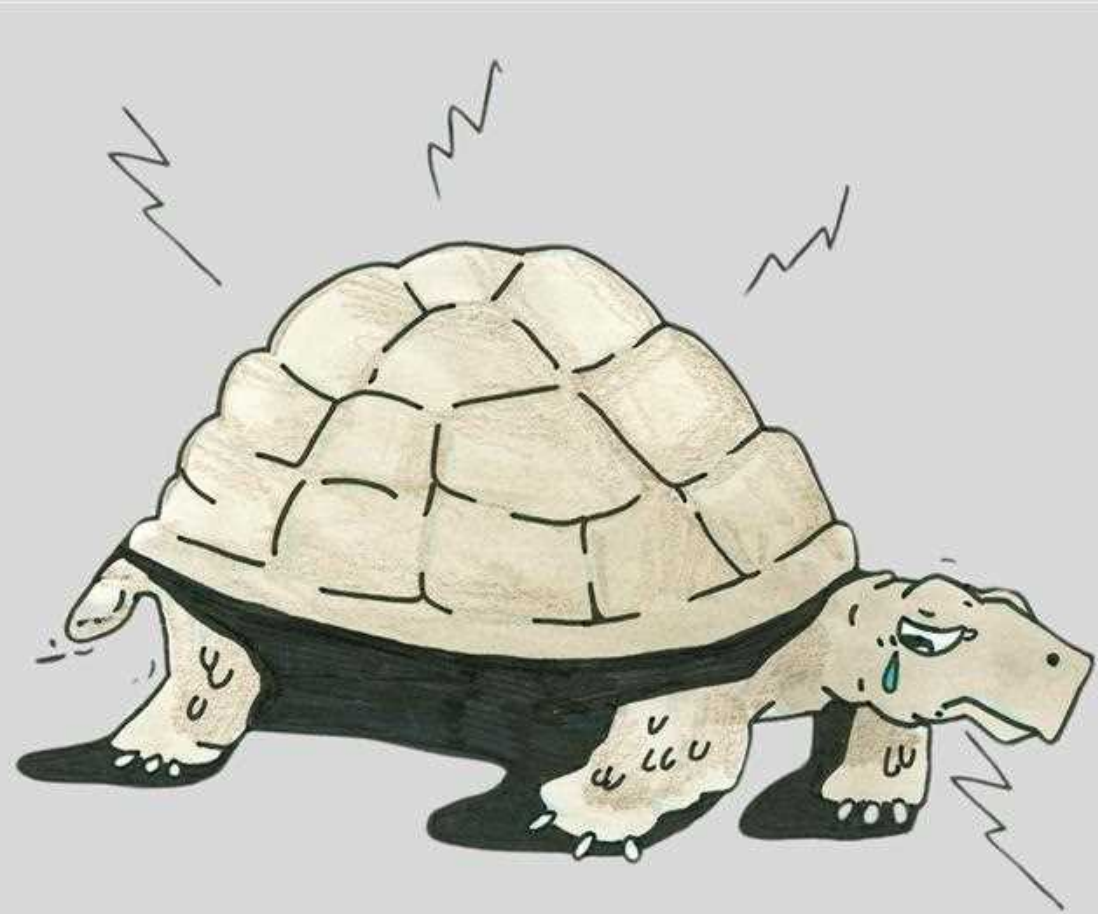

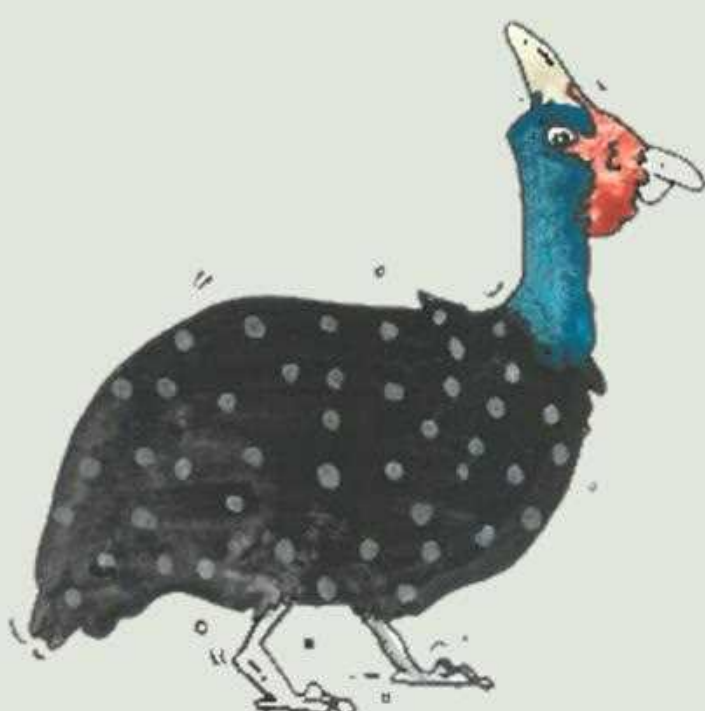

1

0

