HELLO! MY NAME IS DELORIS

ABOUT ME

Deloris Hervey child of God, Mother, Director, Writer, Acting Coach, and Producer. A woman with many talents has delivered authentic stage plays, films, acting courses, and more through her production since 2012. Her passion for the youth and community inspired her to start her 501c3 Youth Acting Corner. "At Youth Acting Corner, we provide children with various learning techniques. Her students participate in film productions, stage plays, and acting workshops. She collaborates with the Brilliant Women In Film and other production companies to provide opportunities for her students." Our students learn hands-on, behind the scenes, and in front of the camera, script analysis." Her approach is centered around the growth of the student while incorporating building the student's self-esteem.

The New York native moved from upstate New York to Houston where she studied business and received a Bachelor's in Business Administration in 2005. Her passion for acting was strong and she was led to start a production company. After years of helping others, Deloris realized her skills for guiding and uplifting others she decided to pursue her Master's degree in Mental Health Counseling in 2021. Deloris' talent for writing, directing, and coaching is a gift from God.
