

Young love, a generation ago.

- Scott Delaney, 1998

SUNFLOWER OF THE SKY

Lord Helios
walks with his equal,
the Sun,
the sunflower of the sky.

She is strength,
she is confidence,
she is an individual
who is whole without half,
yet complete in her love.

She strides with grace:
her legs,
embodiments of elegance;
her hips,
an exercise in rhythm;
her arms
swing from shoulders
that are bold and beautiful.

He walks beside her:
his laugh,
punctuating conversation;
his hand,
gently held with hers;
his eyes
meet hers
embrace one another's thoughts.

He is strength,
he is confidence,
he is an individual
who is whole without half,
yet complete in his love.

He is Lord Helios,
but she is the Sun,
the sunflower of the sky.