Why do we love teen books? Is it a heightened sense of urgency? Permission to really FEEL your feelings? The universal sense of being an outsider? It's probably all that and more. Explore your affinity for teen literature—and the crossover books that are written for grown-ups but approachable to teens — in the Forever Young Book Club. This month we are discussing Naomi Novik's Deadly Education. Please register & let us know you'll be there. Mellisa Hannum 530-470-2695

Are you a retired teacher? Or someone who has a skill you'd like to share with children? We're looking for an additional algebra tutor and a chess player who could share their love of the game. Give us a call if you are interested in supporting students by contributing your knowledge! 530-273-4059
