

The Man in the Middle

“There they crucified him, and with him two others, one on each side and Jesus in the middle.”

John 19:18 (NIV)

Hazel Arthur has been a Christian 54 years. She is thankful for the Godly influence of many who taught her about the “Man in the Middle” of Golgotha and His promise to be in the middle of her heart wherever life would take her. Hazel has taught numerous children and adult women through bus ministry, church camp and Bible classes. She currently serves as part of the teaching team for women’s classes at the Crieve Hall church of Christ, where she has also taught a ladies’ class in the Nashville School of Preaching.

Hazel attended then David Lipscomb College, earning the BS degree with a major in social work. She went on to earn the MSSW degree from the UT College of Social Work and the EdD degree from Trevecca Nazarene University. As a social worker, Hazel served dialysis patients, spent two years working in Christian Child Care, and worked 11 years for the Tennessee Dept. of Human Services. Hazel’s professional practice career culminated in 24 years of service as faculty at Lipscomb University, where she was a social work professor, BSW Program Director, and Chair of the Dept of Social Work and Sociology. Hazel held the Licensed Advanced Practice Social Worker license in Tennessee and was a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers until her retirement in 2018.

Hazel is married to her college sweetheart, Walt Arthur. Together, they are blessed with one son, Jacob. Jacob and his lovely wife, Katie, are parents to three children, Addie Grace, Mia Kate and Aubrey. Being Nana to these three sweet ones is the highlight of many days and a host of dreams.
