

HUBLOT RANCH

Miniature Australian Shepherds

I strive to educate people on my ethical and moral standards of this wonderful breed, assisting my buyers with questions of health, nutritional, behavioral and other issues they may encounter throughout the life of their puppy to adult dog.

Though this breed is the shrink version of the standard size Australian Shepherd, they contain the same energy, personality and characteristics of the " big " brother.

These are my kind of " grand kids " that buyers are taking home and I expect updates with photos on a regular basis. Why? I want to see how they grow, how they change and evolve and take part in their life. Also some of my bloodlines are very interesting to see maturing.

This breed is certainly not for everyone because it is a very active breed, not hyper.

I do encourage people interested in the Aussie to do their homework in regards to temperament, health issues and time management with getting a puppy and what to expect in general to contribute in reducing the amount of sheltered Aussies or placed in wrong homes.

Please, I ask you to understand my position as a responsible breeder and enthusiast of the breed on my thorough investigation to see if a Mini Aussie is right for you and your family, as we see them more and more in advertisements and as their popularity is on the rise.

And I must say I was very disappointed of buyers of a past litter who left me worrying if they were the right persons for my puppies...

As we do not have puppies all the time, filling out this questionnaire will also help me memorize earlier contacts I have and have potential Buyer on a waiting list / deposit list for a specific litter or puppy. I do get a lot of requests.

If you are not willing to share address or some personal information then you may want to look to find a puppy somewhere else where they gladly take your money and do not care of anything else.

I wish for a connection with my puppy buyers, not just being a breeder among others you are looking at to buy a puppy for the best deal, don't worry I won't call you every week to get updates, but still want to be considered as somehow important to you of finding the right new family member.
