Tennis isn't just a sport at BRC; it's a passion that has propelled many of our own to international stardom. Over the years, our club has cultivated many tennis champions.

BRC members have won over 150 National Championship titles, a testament to the caliber of talent nurtured on the courts of our club. Some of these talents have ventured onto the world stage, leaving their mark on tennis history.

Hank Pfister

Dennis Ralston (#4), Sally Moore (#9), and Hank Pfister Jr. (#13) didn't just stop at international recognition; they minted their names as Grand Slam Champions.

Our club has always been a hub of tennis excellence, attracting elite players through prestigious events like the Davis Cup, Exhibitions, and Junior tournaments such as the Central Cal and Maze Cup.

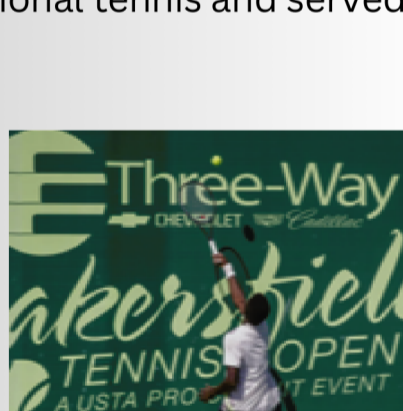

We've hosted more than 20 of the world's #1 ranked players, including Pete Sampras, Billie Jean King, Big Bill Tilden, Pancho Gonzales, Ken Rosewall, Arthur Ashe, Jack Kramer, Lindsay Davenport, Bob and Mike Bryan, Rod Laver, and even a young Andre Agassi, at the tender age of 5, hit on our court 4, have left their indelible mark on our courts.

But what makes BRC truly special is not just the names on this impressive list. It's the experience of watching these tennis legends in action in our community. In Bakersfield, a city sometimes underestimated, we've been privy to world-class tennis.

In recent years, our club has continued its tradition of excellence through the Bakersfield Tennis Open (BTO). Since 2014, this tournament has showcased men's professional tennis and served as a launching pad for future stars.

Today, we proudly count 5 BTO alumni ranked in the top 20: Taylor Fritz (#8), Casper Rudd (#9), Frances Tiafoe (#11), Tommy Paul (#13), and Herbert Hurkacz (#16).
