Nearly every Precinct Caucus attendee in my precinct was present in the space assigned to our precinct caucus and was waiting to begin the work of nominating and voting for officers, delegates and alternates and to discuss and vote on resolutions at approximately 7:00pm. Those present were waiting for directions to be given to begin this precinct caucus business.
8. Minnesota Statute §204C.05, Subd. 2 states:
“Voting shall not be allowed after the time when it is scheduled to end, unless individuals are waiting in the polling place or waiting in line at the door to register or to vote. The voting shall continue until those individuals have been allowed to vote.”
The precinct caucus elections fall under election law and the caucus attendees were, in essence, in line waiting to vote. The voters in my precinct waited patiently to do the work required at the caucus and their votes, and the election results, must be recognized as legitimate.
