Press Kit

Thank you for sharing your experiences and expertise as a guest on The Séance podcast.

The Séance is a pre-recorded podcast that explores the various mysterious aspects of the human condition. Our guests include metaphysical practitioners, paranormal researchers, spiritual and community leaders, scientists, academic researchers, investigative journalists, archaeologists, anthropologists, and more.

Many have inquired about our practice of recording episodes well in advance of their broadcast date. While this may be uncommon among typical podcast hosts, there are several strategic reasons for this approach that directly contribute to the overall quality of our network.

Conscious Radio Network™ operates as a one-person production, unlike many other podcasts that are supported by teams or crews. The founder, who also serves as the host and producer, must balance the responsibilities of a full-time job to cover the network's operational expenses.

By scheduling recordings 4 to 6 months ahead of the broadcast date, we ensure ample time to prepare each episode's media content and allow for necessary coordination with guests to confirm accuracy. Given these critical factors, it is essential to have this buffer to produce high-quality episodes.

We apologize for any inconvenience this scheduling approach may cause. If you have a time-sensitive story to share, please notify us during the scheduling process so we can adjust broadcast times as needed.

You were selected for your knowledge, expertise, and unique experiences. Your innovative approach in your field makes each interview particularly insightful. The goal of each episode is to inform the audience about the topic and, when applicable, provide practical strategies they can implement. (Please refrain from offering medical or legal advice unless you are a board licensed and certified practitioner).

Your recording session typically lasts 30-45 minutes. It may run longer depending on the conversation but not over 1 hour. Afterward, we may edit the content, and your interview is subject to review before broadcast. You can schedule or book at any time, but the recording session will not proceed until the guest release as seen on Page 13 is signed. We will send a link for signing after scheduling and review.

VIDEO INTERVIEW GUIDELINES

To ensure a smooth, productive, and acceptable interview experience, please review the following guidelines:

1. TECHNICAL PREPARATION

- Check Your Internet Connection - A stable and high-speed internet connection is essential for a seamless video call. If possible, use a wired connection for better stability.
- Use a Reliable Device - A laptop or desktop computer is preferred, but a tablet or smartphone can work as well. The greatest outcome for quality will be using a camera or webcam.
- Test Your Camera & Microphone - Check your video and audio settings before the meeting. Ensure your microphone is clear and not muted. Also make sure your microphone is not in an area where you will be tapping/hitting it if you move a lot while speaking.
- Use Headphones (if possible) - Headphones can help reduce background noise, improve audio quality, and reduce the chance of echoing.

2. ENVIRONMENT & SETUP

- Choose a Quiet Location - Find a space with minimal background noise and distractions. Inform others in your household about the meeting time.
- Ensure Good Lighting - Sit in a well-lit area with light facing you rather than behind you to avoid shadows. The best outcome will be using lighting equipment, so you can control the light at all times. If you're unsure of your setup, YouTube provides a wealth of tutorials on light placement.
- Be Mindful of Your Background - A simple and well-lit background displays professionalism than if it just looks like someone hopped on a last-minute zoom call.
- Be Aware of Potential Licensing Issues in Background - Please be mindful of any items in your background that may be copyrighted or licensed, such as logos, brand names, or artwork. These could potentially cause issues with the broadcast if they are not cleared for public use. To avoid complications, we recommend removing any branded items or copyrighted materials from the shot or opting for neutral, non-branded decor.
- Position Your Camera Properly - Set your camera at eye level for a more natural and engaging presence.

GUIDELINES CONTINUED

3. PROFESSIONALISM & ETIQUETTE

- Be Punctual - Log in a few minutes before the scheduled time to resolve any last-minute technical issues.
- Dress Appropriately - Wear professional or presentable attire, as you would in an in-person meeting. Watch for clashing colors from your attire and your background. We don't want you to compromise your own personal style, but keep in mind that you're being interviewed as someone knowledgeable in your field and that people will expect a certain level of refinement.
- Engage & Maintain Eye Contact - Look at the camera when speaking to create a more personal connection.

4. MEETING PARTICIPATION

- Come Prepared - Have any necessary notes, tools, anything you might use on camera, or questions ready before the meeting.
- Avoid Multitasking - Stay focused and engaged in the conversation.

5. IMPORTANT REMINDERS

- Confidentiality - Unless otherwise agreed upon, please avoid sharing any confidential or unpublished information.
- Media Permissions - By appearing on the show, you're giving permission for the use of your image, voice, and any content shared during the interview. There will be releases given to you to sign as well.
- Legal Concerns - Be mindful of defamation, false information, or anything that could be deemed inappropriate or offensive during your appearance.

The above guidelines may seem like a lot, but we don't want it to feel overwhelming. We do want to strive for the best quality interviews possible.
