PRESS KIT

Thank you for sharing your experiences and expertise as a guest on The Séance podcast.

WHAT IS

The Séance is a pre-recorded podcast that explores the various mysterious aspects of the human condition. Our guests include metaphysical practitioners, paranormal researchers, spiritual and community leaders, scientists, academic researchers, investigative journalists, archaeologists, anthropologists, and more.

Many have inquired about our practice of recording episodes well in advance of their broadcast date. While this may be uncommon among typical podcast hosts, there are several strategic reasons for this approach that directly contribute to the overall quality of our network.

Conscious Radio Network™ operates as a one-person production, unlike many other podcasts that are supported by teams or crews. The founder, who also serves as the host and producer, must balance the responsibilities of a full-time job to cover the network's operational expenses. Additionally, as an active military reservist, the founder is required to fulfill duties during official federal or state emergencies and mandated drills.

By scheduling recordings 4 to 6 months ahead of the broadcast date, we ensure ample time to prepare each episode's media content and allow for necessary coordination with guests to confirm accuracy. Given these critical factors, it is essential to have this buffer to produce high-quality episodes.

We apologize for any inconvenience this scheduling approach may cause. If you have a time-sensitive story to share, please notify us during the scheduling process so we can adjust broadcast times as needed.

You were selected for your knowledge, expertise, and unique experiences. Your innovative approach in your field makes each interview particularly insightful. The goal of each episode is to inform the audience about the topic and, when applicable, provide practical strategies they can implement. (Please refrain from offering medical or legal advice unless you are a licensed or certified practitioner).

PREPARE FOR RECORDING

If you haven't yet booked a show with us, please visit the TidyCal® Scheduler App. Be sure to review the information on the site before selecting your date (see page 4 of this packet). By booking a show, you also agree to the terms outlined in the Podcast Guest Release on page 9, which you'll receive for review after scheduling.

TidyCal® will ask you the following while scheduling:

- Your Preferred Episode Title,
- Your Time Zone,
- Short Bio,
- Occupational Designations & Professional Titles,
- Social Media links,
- Three Questions;
- Clear Headshot Photo (email to us separately).

Your unique login URL will be provided via email and Google® Calendar following scheduling. Please note that all media created for your episode is meticulously crafted by hand using Canva® and does not involve AI-generated content, with the sole exception of automated processes used to remove poor-quality audio and/or video segments from the raw recording.

We use Wave.video® live studio for its user-friendly platform, accessible worldwide. Please use the Google® Chrome browser to access the platform. A strong internet connection is essential, so ensure you are in an area with a reliable signal. If using a mobile device, access the platform through the web browser rather than the app. For better audio quality, please use external headphones and a microphone to minimize background noise.

(See page 5 & 6 and page 9 for devices).

BEFORE, DURING & AFTER RECORDING

Your recording session typically lasts 30-45 minutes. Afterward, we may edit the content, and your interview is subject to review before being broadcast. To reduce echo and background noise, please use independent earbuds or headphones with a microphone. For smartphone or tablet setup, refer to page 7. You can schedule or book at any time, but the recording and broadcasting will not proceed until the guest release on page 11 is signed. We will send a link for signing after scheduling and review. For instructions on completing the form, see page 8.

Promote, Share & Engage

Let's share your message! Feel free to promote the episode before, during, and after its release. We encourage you to ask your clients, friends, and family to subscribe or follow the YouTube® channel, and to follow the podcast on their preferred listening platform.
