AESCW Beef Ambassador Application Due March 3rd

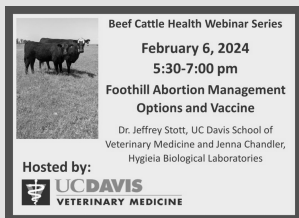

Ambassadors have the job of sharing the good story of beef and ranching with fellow Californians.

Being a Beef Ambassador can help you be ready to share your passion for BEEF!

The AES Beef Ambassador will represent the Amador, El Dorado, and Sacramento County Cattlewomen's Association in the state contest March 29th and March 30th, virtually and in person. Details on state contest rules, dates and requirements can be found at <https://cattlewomen.org/beef-ambassadors/>.

IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO COMPETE IN THE STATE COMPETITION, PLEASE STILL APPLY. WE NEED LOCAL AMBASSADORS EVEN IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO COMPETE AT THE STATE LEVEL

In addition to the state contest and any events and appearances that may be required by the California Cattlewomen's Association, local beef ambassadors are asked to participate in local events where they act as educators about the beef industry and representatives of our local unit. These events include, but are not limited to, Farm Day presentations held in the spring and fall for third grade students, attending unit meetings and events and activities as schedule allows.
