Michael Pandolfo has been singing most of his life, starting at age 8. The personable Texas native has won numerous competitions and prestigious awards for young classical singers and is versatile in many genres. He used his 2016 Shirley Rabb Winston Scholarship in Classical Voice to study the summer of 2017 at the Brevard Music Center's celebrated international Summer Institute and Festival in Brevard, NC. He appeared as Dick McGann in the Festival's production of Kurt Weill's Tony Award-winning Broadway hit, Street Scene, and as Count Almaviva in Mozart's opera, The Marriage of Figaro. This coming spring Pandolfo will receive a bachelor of music degree in vocal performance from the University of Kentucky, where he studied with renowned lyric soprano Cynthia Lawrence. About her student, Professor Lawrence said, "Michael's voice has a warm and romantic nuance. He sings with a charismatic charm that exhibits a maturity and a manly vulnerability. I have no doubt that he will excel in his development and vocal growth"
