Mr. Sean A. Dunagan Judicial Watch 1038 Boltz Drive Fort Collins, CO 80525

Dear Mr. Dunagan:

I refer to our letter dated October 23, 2018, under the Freedom of Information Act (the "FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552. The Department has located an additional 59 documents responsive to your request, of which we have determined 20 may be released in full, 32 may be released in part, and 7 must be denied in full pursuant to FOIA Exemption 5, 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(5).

In addition, the remaining two documents located by the Office of the Inspector General ("OIG") (OIG No. 2018-030/IPS F-2018-01741) have completed the submitter notice process. We have determined that both may be released in part. This completes the processing of the records located by the OIG.

An enclosure explains the FOIA exemptions and other grounds for withholding material. Where we have made excisions, the applicable FOIA exemptions are marked on each document. All non-exempt material that is reasonably segregable from the exempt material is released in the enclosed pages.

If you have any questions, you may contact Assistant U.S. Attorney Scott Sroka, at (202) 252-7113 or scott.sroka@usdoj.gov. Please be sure to refer to the case number, F-2017-15330, and the civil action number, 17-cv-02489, in all correspondence about this case.

Sincerely,

Susan Weetman

Chief, Programs and Policies Division

Great speaking yesterday.

As our time here is running very short I am starting to panic re getting done any unfinished business.

I decided this am to reach out with this email which copies several of my relevant senior colleagues, including Jim, who will be Charge after I leave.

This is the relevant group who would work on the topic you raised. While we would need to be certain there were no restrictions on the role we could play, we are ready to dive in.

For the benefit of my colleagues, John raised the following: Jet Blue and Lufthansa are considering 2 locations for a maintenance center - Puerto Rico or Mexico. The Governor of PR wants this badly. The question is can we get to LH at the right levels and make the case.

Either John or colleague OR John's brother Tony or colleague will get to us with more details.

Hope all this makes sense. Be well all and thank you! PM

Codel travelers are in Kinshasa. Plane is in Tanzania. Codel travelers may require additional day's per diem in Kinshasa.

Cabo Verde is dropped from travelers' itinerary. Aircraft is disabled, I do not know when or if it will travel through Cabo Verde, defer to Captain Schardt.

We know that non-Congressional employees must make their own arrangements. The last Codel Royce's plane was also disabled mid-trip.

Please have tickets issued ASAP. Thank you.

Subject: CODEL Royce -- final schedule (January 18) and other docs

Colleagues,

With just 12 hours to go, here's our streamlined semi-final schedule for CODEL Royce. We're looking primarily at two bilats Tuesday + a pending audience with President Kabila as well as interactions with adoptive families. We should have enough space at the National Assembly and Primature for all Members and interested staff. The motorcade will leave from JAO at 0830 for the airport, and move directly to the hotel after the delegation's arrival.

Thank you to all of you and the additional volunteers who are tracking various moving parts of the overall trip. A group this size requires intense inter-agency coordination on the ground, and I am grateful!

The Control Room is called Berlin (on the 3rd floor). We also have meeting room Accra on the same level. The entire third floor is dedicated to the CODEL and its sidebar meetings. Wednesday morning handicraft "booths" and logo goods for sale will be displayed also in the corridors of that 3rd floor area.

Revised schedule highlights:

Tuesday, 1300 - Delegation (Members x7, Staff, Amb, DAS Christensen) meets NA President Minaku

Site officer: Jean-Claude Kamanga

Interpreter: Daniel Nzau (will meet us on-site w equipment) Notetaker: Brian McKean (will arrive with DAS Christensen)

{1400 at hotel - Staffdel Warner civil society meeting}

Site officers: Richard, Alpha, Lauren, Sean

Tuesday, 1500 - Delegation (Members x7, Staff, Amb, DAS Christensen) meet at Primature with PM Matata, FM Tshibanda, VPM Boshab, Justice Minister Thambwe, DGM, ANR, and Diplomatic Advisor

Kikaya bin-Karubi Site officer: John Kelley Notetaker: Perlita Muiruri

Interpreter will accompany and be available for press after

Tuesday, 1700 - Spouses meet up with Members, Staff at CMR for family briefing

Site officer: Bill Barry

Tuesday, 1800 - All stay for reception

{1900/1930 at hotel - Rep. Meeks, Ms. Warner meet with Rendeavor group including Preston Mendenhall, Frank Mosier, Stephen Jennings, and Steve Rademaker (Podesta Group)} Site officer: John Kelley

Tuesday, 2000 - No-host dinner at Cercle Gourmand

Site Officer: Meg LaFontaine

Onward! Thank you!

Subject: CODEL Royce -- latest version of schedule (January 15) and other docs

Kinshasa Team -

Thank you for all your hard work so far to prepare for and welcome this important delegation!

Updates

- All our cost estimates have been approved! Please continue to keep track of all extra hours worked in connection with CODEL Royce.
- The new, approved control room space will be on the 3rd floor of the Fleuve Berlin (larger, multi-purpose room where computers will go) and Accra (meeting room on other side of elevator lobby). We will have this entire wing of the 3rd floor. Set up to be complete by Monday evening.

Airport: Motorcade will depart from JAO at 0830 Tuesday, January 19. Embassy staff in convoy: AMB, RSO, Stro.

- Embassy staff at airport: Karén, Peter + 1. Anyone else?
- GDRC reps: AMB Balumuene; National Assembly President Aubin Minaku will send two people (Rapporteur Nono Berocan and President of the Foreign Affairs Committee Emile Etumangele) to airport to greet the delegation on arrival.

Hotel: Probable arrival at hotel is 1130, and we will have very limited time to prepare the delegation for their first meeting. Embassy staff expected at hotel for arrival: John Kilima (lobby), CLO, Diane and control room team, Maryoth and Pierrot (with per diem envelopes), Carlton (to meet with Cory Fritz), Bill and Brian (with DAS Christensen). Anyone else?

Meetings:

Meeting with President Kabila not yet confirmed, but looking good. Could take place Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning, and we will flex!

Amb. Balumuene is still working on getting PM Matata to host one large meeting Tuesday afternoon with all the other ministers. In the meantime, Zhoe has confirmed a marathon schedule on bilateral meetings that day:

- 1. Minister Tshibanda is scheduled on Jan 19 at 12:15 p.m.
- 2. Minister Thambwe is scheduled on Jan 19 at 1:15 p.m.
- 3. VPM Boshab is scheduled on Jan 19 at 2:00 p.m.
- 4. President of the National Assembly on Jan 19 at 3:00 p.m.

I am attaching the latest schedule, subject to change and updates, as well as related documents that I have shared with CODEL planners about other aspects of the program.

Please let me know if you have any questions, and share as appropriate with your staff.

Subject: FW: Documents for meeting with Jon Finer

Rich, John:

Vin Roberti and Tony Podesta have asked to meet with Jon Finer tomorrow about the attached case. Is there anything you or your teams know of that Jon needs to know before the meeting? I've pasted the "key facts" document below to give you a sense.

Thanks very much,

KEY FACTS ABOUT THE MISKOVIC CASE

- Serbia's prosecution of one of the country's most successful businessmen—Miroslav Miskovic, President of Delta Holding—has all the characteristics of President Putin's prosecution of Mikhail Khodorkovsky.
- The 2014 State Department human rights report on Serbia identified a number of irregularities in the case, including intimidation of the presiding judge and unlawful detention of Mr. Miskovic.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia cited the subsequent demotion and removal of the presiding judge in the Miskovic case as evidence that Serbia's "courts remained susceptible to corruption and political influence."
- Mr. Miskovic, who was held in prison for seven months before being charged with any crime, was eventually indicted for two alleged criminal offenses: "abuse of office", and "assisting tax evasion".
- The first of these (arising under Article 234 of the Serbian Criminal Code) is a communist-era crime that makes no sense in a free market society—so much so that the European Union has demanded that it be expunged from Serbian law as a precondition to Serbia's admission to the EU.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia also criticizes Article 234, citing "overuse of the vague 'abuse of office' charge for alleged private sector corruption schemes" as an example of "corruption and lack of transparency in government."
- The second charge involves an allegation that Mr. Miskovic's son Marko failed to pay capital gains tax on a stock transaction, and Mr. Miskovic "assisted" this tax evasion due to his strong influence over his son.
- On March 25, Marko was convicted of tax evasion, despite the fact that he had been advised that the transaction in question was not taxable. This advice was provided in writing at the time of the 'transaction not only by KPMG and other reputable accounting firms, but also by officials of the Serbian Ministry of Finance.

- Marko was, however, acquitted of the "abuse of office" charge. The proceedings related to Mr.
 Miskovic were postponed due to Mr. Miskovic's critical health situation, which required treatment and hospitalization.
- To convict Mr. Miskovic's son, the judge in the case resorted to the unprecedented procedure of formally requesting the advice of the Serbian parliament on whether in their opinion the transaction was taxable at the time it was made.
- The Serbian parliament (controlled by the government) responded by drafting and then formally voting to approve an "authentic interpretation" affirming that the transaction was, in their opinion, taxable notwithstanding the written advice provided to the taxpayer by the Ministry of Finance.
- On the strength of this parliamentary action, Marko Miskovic was sentenced to 42 months in prison. The same judge is expected to render a verdict on the charges against Mr. Miskovic in the very near future.
- Given that Marko was found guilty of tax evasion, it seems likely that Mr. Miskovic will be found guilty of "assisting" that tax evasion, notwithstanding that the evidence presented at trial of his "control" over his son's actions was non-existent.
- He may also be found guilty of the abuse of position charge, notwithstanding that the other defendants were acquitted of that charge and that Serbia is under enormous pressure to eliminate this as a criminal offense.
- All of this is taking place in the context of a recent national election and political controversy ahead of the formation of a new Government led by Prime Minister Vucic, who has repeatedly claimed credit for bringing one of the country's most prominent and successful (but politically unpopular) businessman to justice, and publicly stated that the acquittal of Miskovic would be a "personal defeat" for him.

Vin Roberti and Tony Podesta have asked to meet with Jon Finer tomorrow about the attached case. Is there anything you or your teams know of that Jon needs to know before the meeting? I've pasted the "key facts" document below to give you a sense.

Thanks very much,

KEY FACTS ABOUT THE MISKOVIC CASE

- Serbia's prosecution of one of the country's most successful businessmen—Miroslav Miskovic, President of Delta Holding—has all the characteristics of President Putin's prosecution of Mikhail Khodorkovsky.
- The 2014 State Department human rights report on Serbia identified a number of irregularities in the case, including intimidation of the presiding judge and unlawful detention of Mr. Miskovic.

- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia cited the subsequent demotion and removal of the presiding judge in the Miskovic case as evidence that Serbia's "courts remained susceptible to corruption and political influence."
- Mr. Miskovic, who was held in prison for seven months before being charged with any crime, was eventually indicted for two alleged criminal offenses: "abuse of office", and "assisting tax evasion".
- The first of these (arising under Article 234 of the Serbian Criminal Code) is a communist-era crime that makes no sense in a free market society—so much so that the European Union has demanded that it be expunged from Serbian law as a precondition to Serbia's admission to the EU.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia also criticizes Article 234, citing
 "overuse of the vague 'abuse of office' charge for alleged private sector corruption schemes" as an example of "corruption and lack of transparency in government."
- The second charge involves an allegation that Mr. Miskovic's son Marko failed to pay capital gains tax on a stock transaction, and Mr. Miskovic "assisted" this tax evasion due to his strong influence over his son.
- On March 25, Marko was convicted of tax evasion, despite the fact that he had been advised that the transaction in question was not taxable. This advice was provided in writing at the time of the transaction not only by KPMG and other reputable accounting firms, but also by officials of the Serbian Ministry of Finance.
- Marko was, however, acquitted of the "abuse of office" charge. The proceedings related to Mr.
 Miskovic were postponed due to Mr. Miskovic's critical health situation, which required treatment and hospitalization.
- To convict Mr. Miskovic's son, the judge in the case resorted to the unprecedented procedure of formally requesting the advice of the Serbian parliament on whether in their opinion the transaction was taxable at the time it was made.
- The Serbian parliament (controlled by the government) responded by drafting and then formally voting to approve an "authentic interpretation" affirming that the transaction was, in their opinion, taxable notwithstanding the written advice provided to the taxpayer by the Ministry of Finance.
- On the strength of this parliamentary action, Marko Miskovic was sentenced to 42 months in prison. The same judge is expected to render a verdict on the charges against Mr. Miskovic in the very near future.
- Given that Marko was found guilty of tax evasion, it seems likely that Mr. Miskovic will be found guilty of "assisting" that tax evasion, notwithstanding that the evidence presented at trial of his "control" over his son's actions was non-existent.
- He may also be found guilty of the abuse of position charge, notwithstanding that the other defendants were acquitted of that charge and that Serbia is under enormous pressure to eliminate
 this as a criminal offense.

All of this is taking place in the context of a recent national election and political controversy ahead of the formation of a new Government led by Prime Minister Vucic, who has repeatedly claimed
credit for bringing one of the country's most prominent and successful (but politically unpopular)
businessman to justice, and publicly stated that the acquittal of Miskovic would be a "personal defeat" for him.

MEMORANDUM

BACKGROUND TO THE PROSECUTION OF MIROSLAV MIŠKOVIĆ

Overview

Miroslav Miškovic is the President of Delta Holding, Serbia's largest privately-owned company. He was arrested on December 12, 2012, for allegedly engaging in improper financial transactions involving PZP Niš, a road construction company that was privatized in 2005. He was formally indicted on May 9, 2013 for "abuse of position by a responsible person" and "assisting tax evasion". On July 23, 2013, following more than seven months in jail, he was released on €12 million bail, pending trial on the charges set forth in the indictment.

At the same time that Miroslav was arrested, his son Marko Mišković was arrested for engaging in other financial transactions relating to PZP Niš. Marko was released from prison April 2, 2013 and confined to home detention with electronic surveillance. Marko was also indicted on May 9 for abuse of position by a responsible person and tax evasion.

A review of the underlying facts demonstrates that both Miroslav and Marko did nothing improper. Their offense, if it can be called one, consisted only of seeking to earn a profit on routine financial transactions conducted in full compliance with applicable laws. Their actions would not be criminal under the law of any modern European country. A cursory analysis of Serbian law demonstrates that their actions were not criminal under the laws of Serbia.

About Miroslav Mišković and Delta Holding

Born in 1947, Mišković was raised in Bosnjane, a village in central Serbia, where his parents owned a small farm. He attended the University of Kragujevac, studying finance and earning a degree in economics. After completing college, Mišković went to work for the Jugobanka bank in Krusevac, becoming its youngest finance director at 29. Soon afterwards, he went to work for the largest chemical factory in what was then Yugoslavia — the ZUPA company, also in Krusevac. He became chief financial officer and, by 1982, chief executive officer.

During the final years of the former Yugoslavia, Mišković was named Deputy Prime Minister, with the task of starting the process of privatizing the economy under Slobodan Milosevic. He resigned after six month, disagreeing with how Milosevic was carrying out the privatizations. Mišković believed that Serbian companies should be looking for international partners that would help put in place best-in-class business practices and import the newest technologies.

In 1991, he founded a company – then called Delta 2M – with modest start-up capital and five employees. The business began by selling consumer goods such as toys, chocolate and roller-skates. At that time, the Serbian economy was dominated by state-owned enterprises. Delta was one of the first private companies created in Serbia, and the business climate wasn't conducive to its growth. Yet Delta survived and thrived in an era of ethnic conflict, international isolation, difficult democratic reforms, and rampant corruption.

Over the years, the enterprise evolved into Delta Holding – a family of companies, including a bank, insurance company, investment fund, retail chains, real estate and development, distribution, and agricultural companies.

Delta Holding's real estate investments include shopping malls, business towers and residential complexes, and the firm is known throughout the region for bringing some of the top international brands to Serbia, including Nike, Fiat, Honda, BMW, Renault, Johnson Wax and Unilever. Yet another subsidiary is the largest insurance company in Serbia, also managing pension funds. Other ventures have included trade, retail and wholesale in the sport and fashion industry.

Even after selling its retail grocery units, Delta Holding remains among the three largest companies in Serbia, and among the five largest in the Adriatic area. In a country with 22 percent unemployment, Delta has more than 7,000 employees, almost half of whom are women.

In 2007, he established the Delta Foundation to integrate Delta Holding's humanitarian efforts. So far, the Foundation has conducted at least 300 projects, helping more than 65,000 people at a cost of at least €5.5 million. The major focus has been on orphans and people with disabilities. Among the ventures in 2011 alone were: a daycare center for children with disabilities in Belgrade, assistance to earthquake victims in the city of Kraljevo, and programs for hearing-disabled children in Belgrade.

About PZP Nis

The Serbian road construction company PZP Niš was privatized in February 2003. The company was sold by the state to Serbian businessman Milo Đurašković. In 2005, Miroslav supported PZP Niš in acquiring ownership of PZP Beograd, another Serbian road construction company that was then being privatized. Miroslav did this by arranging for a company owned by him, Hemslade Trading Ltd. (incorporated in Cyprus), to loan €23 million to PZP Niš to finance the acquisition of PZP Beograd. The loan agreement provided for interest to be paid at the rate of EURIBOR plus 3%, which in the Serbian market was a relatively low interest rate in 2005. Consistent with the requirements of Serbian law, this cross border loan agreement was registered with and approved by the National Bank of Serbia before the funds were disbursed.'

The loan was repaid in 2008. The total repayment was €26.366 million, representing €23 million in principal and €3.366 million in interest. This interest payment was the amount owed under the loan agreement, calculated at EURIBOR (€1.799 million during the period of the loan) plus 3% (€1.567 million during that same period—for a total of €3.366 million).

The criminal indictment asserts that this loan repayment resulted in an unlawful gain to Hemslade Trading Ltd. of €217,000." They have not explained the basis of their evident belief that the interest payment should have been €217,000 less than the €3.366 million actually paid (or €3.149 million), and Miroslav's lawyers and accounts have been unable to construct an interest calculation or an interpretation of Serbian law that would have resulted in an interest payment of €3.149."

When initially arrested, both Miroslav and Marko were alleged to have violated Serbia's law prohibiting "abuse of office." For many decades this law applied to both owners and managers of businesses.

The application of this law to businessmen is a relic of communist Yugoslavia. During the communist era, all commercial enterprises were state-owned, so it was not illogical to treat businessmen as state officials. In today's capitalist economy, however, it is anachronistic to treat businessmen in this manner. Accordingly, as part of the effort to conform Serbian law to European standards in preparation for admission to the European Union, the Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) recommended that this law be changed to limit its application to government officials only.

In response to this recommendation, the Serbian parliament last year amended the law to refine its application. Under legislation enacted on January 1, 2013, the "Abuse of Office" law was amended, and a new criminal offence entitled "Abuse of Position by a Responsible Person" was created, effective April 15, 2013.

Under this legislation, the definition of a "responsible person" was expressly limited to persons "entrusted with management, supervision, performance or other activities within the company's operations". In a departure from the previous law, owners of businesses were omitted from the definition. The logic of this change was that the new law is intended to protect business owners from misconduct by their managers and employees.

A defendant must fall within the definition of a "responsible person" in order to face criminal liability under the new criminal offense. It therefore is critically important that neither Miroslav nor Marko was ever personally involved in the management of PZP Niš or its subsidiaries. Both were involved only as financial investors, and in both cases their investments were indirect—through other companies that they owned directly or indirectly—were not made by them in a personal capacity, and never gave them control of a majority of the shares of the companies. viii

Under settled principles of Serbian law, criminal defendants are entitled to the benefit of amendments to the criminal code enacted prior to their conviction. Because both Miroslav and Marko were only investors—and therefore at most minority "owners"—and were never involved in the management, supervision, or performance of the operations of PZP Niš and its subsidiaries, they cannot properly be charged with "abuse of office by a responsible person" as a result of their involvement with these companies. Nevertheless, both Miroslav and Marko were indicted for "abuse of position by a responsible person."

[&]quot;Indictment, dated May 9, 2013.

in addition to arranging financing through Hemslade Trading Ltd. for the acquisition of PZP Belgrade by PZP Niš, Miroslav's company, Delta M, originally took at 48% stake in PZP Belgrade, with PZP Niš taking a 51% stake. Four months after the privatization, all but 1% of Delta M's stake in PZP Belgrade was transferred to PZP Niš. Miroslav has not been accused of any criminal wrongdoing in connection with this investment.

vii Article 12 of the Act of Amendments and Supplements of the Criminal Code of Republic of Serbia.

viii In addition to the fact that Miroslav and Marko cannot be considered "responsible persons" under Serbia's new law prohibiting "abuse of position by a responsible person," there are other reasons why they cannot properly be charged under that law. Even under the previous law which did apply to owners of companies, the law was applied only to the direct owners of companies, not the indirect owners. Miroslav and Marko never invested directly in PZP Niš or PZP Belgrade. Rather, they invested indirectly through other companies that they owned. Further, the law was only applied to owners of Serbian (and Yugoslav) companies, not owners of foreign companies. The companies through which Miroslav and Marko invested were foreign companies, incorporated in Cyprus and the Netherlands Antilles.

Need to bear in mind that Podesta Group is paid lobbyist for Delta Holdings and Miskevic. I met with Tony Podesta earlier this week, but he tread softly on the Miskevic case.

The latest is that the son was convicted of tax evasion a little while back, and Dad's case is expected to come to conclusion soon in the courts. Although Miskevic's folks have pressed the issue of his need to possibly travel a medical treatment in the past, Podesta didn't raise this issue in our meeting.

- Marko was, however, acquitted of the "abuse of office" charge. The proceedings related to Mr. Miskovic were postponed due to Mr. Miskovic's critical health situation, which required treatment and hospitalization.
- To convict Mr. Miskovic's son, the judge in the case resorted to the unprecedented procedure of formally requesting the advice of the Serbian parliament on whether in their opinion the transaction was taxable at the time it was made.
- The Serbian parliament (controlled by the government) responded by drafting and then formally voting to approve an "authentic interpretation" affirming that the transaction was, in their opinion, taxable notwithstanding the written advice provided to the taxpayer by the Ministry of Finance.
- On the strength of this parliamentary action, Marko Miskovic was sentenced to 42 months in prison. The same judge is expected to render a verdict on the charges against Mr. Miskovic in the very near future.
- Given that Marko was found guilty of tax evasion, it seems likely that Mr. Miskovic will be found guilty of "assisting" that tax evasion, notwithstanding that the evidence presented at trial of his "control" over his son's actions was non-existent.

- He may also be found guilty of the abuse of position charge, notwithstanding that the other defendants were acquitted of that charge and that Serbia is under enormous pressure to eliminate
 this as a criminal offense.
- All of this is taking place in the context of a recent national election and political controversy ahead of the formation of a new Government led by Prime Minister Vucic, who has repeatedly claimed credit for bringing one of the country's most prominent and successful (but politically unpopular) businessman to justice, and publicly stated that the acquittal of Miskovic would be a "personal defeat" for him.

KEY FACTS ABOUT THE MISKOVIC CASE

- Serbia's prosecution of one of the country's most successful businessmen—Miroslav Miskovic, President of Delta Holding—has all the characteristics of President Putin's prosecution of Mikhail Khodorkovsky.
- The 2014 State Department human rights report on Serbia identified a number of irregularities in the case, including intimidation of the presiding judge and unlawful detention of Mr. Miskovic.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia cited the subsequent demotion and removal of the presiding judge in the Miskovic case as evidence that Serbia's "courts remained susceptible to corruption and political influence."
- Mr. Miskovic, who was held in prison for seven months before being charged with any crime, was eventually indicted for two alleged criminal offenses: "abuse of office", and "assisting tax evasion".

- The first of these (arising under Article 234 of the Serbian Criminal Code) is a communist-era crime that makes no sense in a free market society—so much so that the European Union has demanded that it be expunged from Serbian law as a precondition to Serbia's admission to the EU.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia also criticizes Article 234, citing
 "overuse of the vague 'abuse of office' charge for alleged private sector corruption schemes" as an example of "corruption and lack of transparency in government."
- The second charge involves an allegation that Mr. Miskovic's son Marko failed to pay capital gains tax on a stock transaction, and Mr. Miskovic "assisted" this tax evasion due to his strong influence over his son.
- On March 25, Marko was convicted of tax evasion, despite the fact that he had been advised that the transaction in question was not taxable. This advice was provided in writing at the time of the transaction not only by KPMG and other reputable accounting firms, but also by officials of the Serbian Ministry of Finance.
- Marko was, however, acquitted of the "abuse of office" charge. The proceedings related to Mr.
 Miskovic were postponed due to Mr. Miskovic's critical health situation, which required treatment and hospitalization.
- To convict Mr. Miskovic's son, the judge in the case resorted to the unprecedented procedure of formally requesting the advice of the Serbian parliament on whether in their opinion the transaction was taxable at the time it was made.

MEMORANDUM

RELEASE IN FULL

BACKGROUND TO THE PROSECUTION OF MIROSLAV MIŠKOVIĆ

Overview

Miroslav Miškovic is the President of Delta Holding, Serbia's largest privately-owned company. He was arrested on December 12, 2012, for allegedly engaging in improper financial transactions involving PZP Niš, a road construction company that was privatized in 2005. He was formally indicted on May 9, 2013 for "abuse of position by a responsible person" and "assisting tax evasion". On July 23, 2013, following more than seven months in jail, he was released on €12 million bail, pending trial on the charges set forth in the indictment.

At the same time that Miroslav was arrested, his son Marko Mišković was arrested for engaging in other financial transactions relating to PZP Niš. Marko was released from prison April 2, 2013 and confined to home detention with electronic surveillance. Marko was also indicted on May 9 for abuse of position by a responsible person and tax evasion.

A review of the underlying facts demonstrates that both Miroslav and Marko did nothing improper. Their offense, if it can be called one, consisted only of seeking to earn a profit on routine financial transactions conducted in full compliance with applicable laws. Their actions would not be criminal under the law of any modern European country. A cursory analysis of Serbian law demonstrates that their actions were not criminal under the laws of Serbia.

About Miroslav Mišković and Delta Holding

Born in 1947, Mišković was raised in Bosnjane, a village in central Serbia, where his parents owned a small farm. He attended the University of Kragujevac, studying finance and earning a degree in economics. After completing college, Mišković went to work for the Jugobanka bank in Krusevac, becoming its youngest finance director at 29. Soon afterwards, he went to work for the largest chemical factory in what was then Yugoslavia – the ZUPA company, also in Krusevac. He became chief financial officer and, by 1982, chief executive officer.

During the final years of the former Yugoslavia, Mišković was named Deputy Prime Minister, with the task of starting the process of privatizing the economy under Slobodan Milosevic. He resigned after six month, disagreeing with how Milosevic was carrying out the privatizations. Mišković believed that Serbian companies should be looking for international partners that would help put in place best-in-class business practices and import the newest technologies.

In 1991, he founded a company – then called Delta 2M – with modest start-up capital and five employees. The business began by selling consumer goods such as toys, chocolate and roller-skates. At that time, the Serbian economy was dominated by state-owned enterprises. Delta was one of the first private companies created in Serbia, and the business climate wasn't conducive to its growth. Yet Delta survived and thrived in an era of ethnic conflict, international isolation, difficult democratic reforms, and rampant corruption. Over the years, the enterprise evolved into Delta Holding – a family of companies, including a bank, insurance company, investment fund, retail chains, real estate and development, distribution, and agricultural companies.

Delta Holding's real estate investments include shopping malls, business towers and residential complexes, and the firm is known throughout the region for bringing some of the top international brands to Serbia, including Nike, Fiat, Honda, BMW, Renault, Johnson Wax and Unilever. Yet another subsidiary is the largest insurance company in Serbia, also managing pension funds. Other ventures have included trade, retail and wholesale in the sport and fashion industry.

Even after selling its retail grocery units, Delta Holding remains among the three largest companies in Serbia, and among the five largest in the Adriatic area. In a country with 22 percent unemployment, Delta has more than 7,000 employees, almost half of whom are women.

In 2007, he established the Delta Foundation to integrate Delta Holding's humanitarian efforts. So far, the Foundation has conducted at least 300 projects, helping more than 65,000 people at a cost of at least €5.5 million. The major focus has been on orphans and people with disabilities. Among the ventures in 2011 alone were: a daycare center for children with disabilities in Belgrade, assistance to earthquake victims in the city of Kraljevo, and programs for hearing-disabled children in Belgrade.

About PZP Nis

The Serbian road construction company PZP Niš was privatized in February 2003. The company was sold by the state to Serbian businessman Milo Đurašković. In 2005, Miroslav supported PZP Niš in acquiring ownership of PZP Beograd, another Serbian road construction company that was then being privatized. Miroslav did this by arranging for a company owned by him, Hemslade Trading Ltd. (incorporated in Cyprus), to loan €23 million to PZP Niš to finance the acquisition of PZP Beograd. The loan agreement provided for interest to be paid at the rate of EURIBOR plus 3%, which in the Serbian market was a relatively low interest rate in 2005. Consistent with the requirements of Serbian law, this cross border loan agreement was registered with and approved by the National Bank of Serbia before the funds were disbursed.'

The loan was repaid in 2008. The total repayment was €26.366 million, representing €23 million in principal and €3.366 million in interest. This interest payment was the amount owed under the loan agreement, calculated at EURIBOR (€1.799 million during the period of the loan) plus 3% (€1.567 million during that same period—for a total of €3.366 million).

The criminal indictment asserts that this loan repayment resulted in an unlawful gain to Hemslade Trading Ltd. of €217,000." They have not explained the basis of their evident belief that the interest payment should have been €217,000 less than the €3.366 million actually paid (or €3.149 million), and Miroslav's lawyers and accounts have been unable to construct an interest calculation or an interpretation of Serbian law that would have resulted in an interest payment of €3.149."

When initially arrested, both Miroslav and Marko were alleged to have violated Serbia's law prohibiting "abuse of office." For many decades this law applied to both owners and managers of businesses.

The application of this law to businessmen is a relic of communist Yugoslavia. During the communist era, all commercial enterprises were state-owned, so it was not illogical to treat businessmen as state officials. In today's capitalist economy, however, it is anachronistic to treat businessmen in this manner. Accordingly, as part of the effort to conform Serbian law to European standards in preparation for admission to the European Union, the Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) recommended that this law be changed to limit its application to government officials only.

In response to this recommendation, the Serbian parliament last year amended the law to refine its application. Under legislation enacted on January 1, 2013, the "Abuse of Office" law was amended, and a new criminal offence entitled "Abuse of Position by a Responsible Person" was created, effective April 15, 2013. "

Under this legislation, the definition of a "responsible person" was expressly limited to persons "entrusted with management, supervision, performance or other activities within the company's operations". In a departure from the previous law, owners of businesses were omitted from the definition. The logic of this change was that the new law is intended to protect business owners from misconduct by their managers and employees.

A defendant must fall within the definition of a "responsible person" in order to face criminal liability under the new criminal offense. It therefore is critically important that neither Miroslav nor Marko was ever personally involved in the management of PZP Niš or its subsidiaries. Both were involved only as financial investors, and in both cases their investments were indirect—through other companies that they owned directly or indirectly—were not made by them in a personal capacity, and never gave them control of a majority of the shares of the companies. vin

Under settled principles of Serbian law, criminal defendants are entitled to the benefit of amendments to the criminal code enacted prior to their conviction. Because both Miroslav and Marko were only investors—and therefore at most minority "owners"—and were never involved in the management, supervision, or performance of the operations of PZP Niš and its subsidiaries, they cannot properly be charged with "abuse of office by a responsible person" as a result of their involvement with these companies. Nevertheless, both Miroslav and Marko were indicted for "abuse of position by a responsible person."

III addition to arranging financing through Hemslade Trading Ltd. for the acquisition of PZP Belgrade by PZP Niš, Miroslav's company, Delta M, originally took at 48% stake in PZP Belgrade, with PZP Niš taking a 51% stake. Four months after the privatization, all but 1% of Delta M's stake in PZP Belgrade was transferred to PZP Niš. Miroslav has not been accused of any criminal wrongdoing in connection with this investment.

persons" under Serbia's new law prohibiting "abuse of position by a responsible person," there are other reasons why they cannot properly be charged under that law. Even under the previous law which did apply to owners of companies, the law was applied only to the direct owners of companies, not the indirect owners. Miroslav and Marko never invested directly in PZP Niš or PZP Belgrade. Rather, they invested indirectly through other companies that they owned. Further, the law was only applied to owners of Serbian (and Yugoslav) companies, not owners of foreign companies. The companies through which Miroslav and Marko invested were foreign companies, incorporated in Cyprus and the Netherlands Antilles.

personal capacity, and never gave them control of a majority of the shares of the companies. VIII

Under settled principles of Serbian law, criminal defendants are entitled to the benefit of amendments to the criminal code enacted prior to their conviction. Because both Miroslav and Marko were only investors—and therefore at most minority "owners"—and were never involved in the management, supervision, or performance of the operations of PZP Niš and its subsidiaries, they cannot properly be charged with "abuse of office by a responsible person" as a result of their involvement with these companies. Nevertheless, both Miroslav and Marko were indicted for "abuse of position by a responsible person."

National Bank of Serbia registration number 613106, dated May 30, 2005.

[&]quot;Indictment, dated May 9, 2013.

[&]quot;In addition to arranging financing through Hemslade Trading Ltd. for the acquisition of PZP Belgrade by PZP Niš, Miroslav's company, Delta M, originally took at 48% stake in PZP Belgrade, with PZP Niš taking a 51% stake. Four months after the privatization, all but 1% of Delta M's stake in PZP Belgrade was transferred to PZP Niš. Miroslav has not been accused of any criminal wrongdoing in connection with this investment.

Article 359, item 3 with reference to item 1, of Criminal Code of the Republic of Serbia.

^v Report of Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) in respect of Republic of Serbia during the third level of evaluation.

Act of Amendments and Supplements of the Criminal Code of Republic of Serbia.

Article 12 of the Act of Amendments and Supplements of the Criminal Code of Republic of Serbia.

viii In addition to the fact that Miroslav and Marko cannot be considered "responsible persons" under Serbia's new law prohibiting "abuse of position by a responsible person," there are other reasons why they cannot properly be charged under that law. Even under the previous law which did apply to owners of companies, the law was applied only to the direct owners of companies, not the indirect owners. Miroslav and Marko never invested directly in PZP Niš or PZP Belgrade. Rather, they invested indirectly through other companies that they owned. Further, the law was only applied to owners of Serbian (and Yugoslav) companies, not owners of foreign companies. The companies through which Miroslav and Marko invested were foreign companies, incorporated in Cyprus and the Netherlands Antilles.

KEY FACTS ABOUT THE MISKOVIC CASE

- Serbia's prosecution of one of the country's most successful businessmen—Miroslav Miskovic, President of Delta Holding—has all the characteristics of President Putin's prosecution of Mikhail Khodorkovsky.
- The 2014 State Department human rights report on Serbia identified a number of irregularities in the case, including intimidation of the presiding judge and unlawful detention of Mr. Miskovic.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia cited the subsequent demotion and removal of the presiding judge in the Miskovic case as evidence that Serbia's "courts remained susceptible to corruption and political influence."
- Mr. Miskovic, who was held in prison for seven months before being charged with any crime, was eventually indicted for two alleged criminal offenses: "abuse of office", and "assisting tax evasion".
- The first of these (arising under Article 234 of the Serbian Criminal Code) is a communist-era crime that makes no sense in a free market society—so much so that the European Union has demanded that it be expunged from Serbian law as a precondition to Serbia's admission to the EU.
- The 2015 State Department human rights report on Serbia also criticizes Article 234, citing "overuse of the vague 'abuse of office' charge for alleged private sector corruption schemes" as an example of "corruption and lack of transparency in government."
- The second charge involves an allegation that Mr. Miskovic's son Marko failed to pay capital gains tax on a stock transaction, and Mr. Miskovic "assisted" this tax evasion due to his strong influence over his son.
- On March 25, Marko was convicted of tax evasion, despite the fact that he had been advised that the transaction in question was not taxable. This advice was provided in writing at the time of the transaction not only by KPMG and other reputable accounting firms, but also by officials of the Serbian Ministry of Finance.

- Marko was, however, acquitted of the "abuse of office" charge. The proceedings related to Mr. Miskovic were postponed due to Mr. Miskovic's critical health situation, which required treatment and hospitalization.
- To convict Mr. Miskovic's son, the judge in the case resorted to the unprecedented procedure of formally requesting the advice of the Serbian parliament on whether in their opinion the transaction was taxable at the time it was made.
- The Serbian parliament (controlled by the government) responded by drafting and then formally voting to approve an "authentic interpretation" affirming that the transaction was, in their opinion, taxable notwithstanding the written advice provided to the taxpayer by the Ministry of Finance.
- On the strength of this parliamentary action, Marko Miskovic was sentenced to 42 months in prison. The same judge is expected to render a verdict on the charges against Mr. Miskovic in the very near future.
- Given that Marko was found guilty of tax evasion, it seems likely that Mr. Miskovic will be found guilty of "assisting" that tax evasion, notwithstanding that the evidence presented at trial of his "control" over his son's actions was non-existent.
- He may also be found guilty of the abuse of position charge, notwithstanding that the other defendants were acquitted of that charge and that Serbia is under enormous pressure to eliminate this as a criminal offense.
- All of this is taking place in the context of a recent national election and political controversy ahead of the formation of a new Government led by Prime Minister Vucic, who has repeatedly claimed credit for bringing one of the country's most prominent and successful (but politically unpopular) businessman to justice, and publicly stated that the acquittal of Miskovic would be a "personal defeat" for him.

Dear Ms. Mills:

We wanted to follow-up with you quickly on the official request seeking a meeting between Chief Executive CY Leung, the new head of Hong Kong's government, with Secretary Clinton on the sidelines of the APEC meetings in Vladivostok (Sept 6-8). The new Chief Executive would very much value the opportunity to meet with the Secretary and continue the productive dialogue between the US and Hong Kong over the past few years.

Do you know if Secretary Clinton's schedule might be able to accommodate a brief meeting? We would very much appreciate your guidance.

I hope this finds you doing well. I apologize for any surprise - a lot has happened on my end over the last few months, including my having just started at the Podesta Group.

As such, I am stepping into this email chain for Molly, who left Podesta.

The Chief Executive is now not able to attend APEC, and the Financial Secretary, John Tsang, will be traveling in his place as delegation head. I am writing to see if the meeting could now take place between the Secretary and Mr. Tsang.

We will await your word. And I hope we have the chance to catch-up more soon -

Dear Rose,

Your suggestion re OSD-Policy makes a lot of sense to me. We had some reluctance about making such a request because we didn't want to presume that State would be ok with OSD talking to the MoD about this issue. But I infer from your message that that's not a concern.

I expect that anyone we approach at OSD about this is going to want to check to make sure you don't object to their having such a conversation. Can we tell them they can confirm with Josh that you're ok with it?

In any event, we appreciate your continued willingness to raise this with Rolf when you next see him.

Dear Steve:
I'm sorry to hear that the be open to new information. As we've discussed, I'm happy to talk with Rolf. However, I did want to ask: Have you spoken with any of the senior folks at OSD-Policy? I feel that DoD would be a more useful interlocutor with the MoD than any of us at State, and from your email it seems that as the German MFA can't get traction with the German military, State wouldn't either. In any event, will undertake to raise with Rolf during my next encounter, coming up in early February. Rose	B4

I don't know if you've yet connected with Rolf Nikel, but I wanted to update you on my most recent conversation with Chris Eichhorn. After originally suggesting to me that we should reach out directly to Colonel Christian Henning Duhr of the German MoD to ask them to meet with us, he contacted me last week to say that he had spoken further with his MoD colleagues, and they were satisfied with the conclusions they originally reached and saw no need to meet with us. Accordingly, he advised me against seeking a meeting with them unless we have "an entirely new approach" to offer.	В4
	B4
So I guess the main purpose of this message is to ask if someone from your office could reach out to him (his email is to convey the message that Eichhorn says he needs to hear from the USG in order to be persuaded to meet with us. If you don't feel that your office can reach out to him, perhaps you can advise us on who else in the USG we could ask to do so on our behalf?	В6
In any event, I appreciate your continued help on this sticky problem.
Best wishes,
Steve

Dear Claudio,

It was great seeing you earlier this week. I actually met Andrew a couple of years ago, when I was leaving the National Security Council. Andrew, it would be great to touch base again and specifically with respect to Brunei. I am including Phil Loosli from our Singapore/Brunei desk and Jim Carouso who is the Office Director for East Asia Maritime States.

I'm headed to Jakarta on Saturday, but can make time to meet before then if that is doable.

Hi Pat -- Good to see you at the Vietnam reception. I hope this email finds you well. I'm reaching out on behalf of MicroStrategy, a provider of enterprise software platforms based in Tysons Corner. MicroStrategy is one of the leading companies on cybersecurity issues and has recently developed a mobile identity security platform (Usher – see attachment for more info). The Usher platform may have some place in the solution being developed to address data breach threats, particularly on the multi-factor authentication side of things.

The press coverage MicroStrategy has received has been universally positive: MarketWatch (describing Usher as Apple Pay for the Enterprise); Washington Business Journal (calling timing of Usher's release "serendipitous" given rising public concerns around recent cyberattacks on massive commercial enterprises like Sony, Home Depot, and Target); International Business Times (Usher is a "password killer," its release coinciding with a "surge in interest" in biometrics and multi-factor authentication and "huge need" to authenticate people online); Slate (Usher is an "all-in-one" solution that "raises the bar" in cybersecurity); PSFK (favorably reviewing Usher enterprise platform in detail); Biometric Update (Usher is an "end-to-end enterprise security platform that provides a stronger, multi-authentication option to passwords" that is "10 to 100 times more secure" than existing systems); and Beta News (observing that Usher could be the "answer" to the password problem and describing how Georgetown University has deployed Usher as a "more secure and efficient" alternative to passwords for students and administrators to access university websites and applications).

I wanted to see if you might have some time to connect with Jonathan Klein, president of MicroStrategy, and me in the next couple weeks. I've heard from others that the Department has recently changed email platforms but wasn't sure if that included the capabilities that Microstrategy offers. We would love the opportunity to discuss Usher's capabilities and how they may fit with any of your current needs. Below, I have included some additional information about Jonathan and the company.

Please let me know if there are some windows that would work for you. Thank you for your consideration.

Best, Dave

Jonathan Klein, President & Chief Legal Officer

Mr. Klein has served as President & Chief Legal Officer since October 2012 and previously served as Executive Vice President, Law & General Counsel from December 2007 to October 2012, as Vice President, Law and General Counsel from November 1998 to December 2007, and as Corporate Counsel from June 1997 to November 1998. From September 1993 to June 1997, Mr. Klein was an appellate litigator with the United States Department of Justice. Mr. Klein received a B.A. in Economics from Amherst College and a J.D. from Harvard Law School.

About MicroStrategy

Based in Tysons Corner, VA, MicroStrategy (MSTR) is a leading provider of enterprise software platforms. With operations in 27 countries and over 3,200 employees, MicroStrategy provides the most flexible, powerful and user-friendly platforms for analytics, mobile identity and loyalty—offered either on premises or in the cloud. The company devotes over 25% of its workforce and nearly $100M annually to R&D, and has over 80 patents issued. MicroStrategy is proud to serve millions of users at nearly 4,000 companies spanning 20 industries around the world.

In 2015, MicroStrategy announced the general availability of MicroStrategy 9s, bringing enterprise-grade cybersecurity to the world's leading analytics platform through integration with MicroStrategy Usher, a powerful new security technology. In April, MicroStrategy introduced enterprise security platform Usher and debuted the Usher Software Development Kit. In June, MicroStrategy announced the general availability of MicroStrategy 10 Secure Enterprise.

Dear E3 State Team,

My apologies for the mass mail, but I was unsure who among you was the best person to reach out to regarding my request. You may remember me as a former member of the Administration; specifically, as the person who used to staff the SBA Administrator at President's Export Council and similar trade promotion meetings. I now cover the trade and investment portfolio at PG. I hope my note finds you well.

RELEASE IN PART B6

I'm writing because one of my clients, Rendeavour, will be present at the AGOA Forum and would like to meet with the U/S if her schedule allows it. Rendeavour is the largest urban land developer on the continent. The company committed $2 billion in residential developments in 5 countries in sub-Saharan Africa. Their developments in Nigeria, Ghana, DRC, Zambia, and now, Nairobi will house nearly 500,000 people over the next decade. Last month, Rendeavour launched construction on its flagship Nairobi project, Tatu City. I've attached the press release of that event if it's helpful to pass on. Ambassador Godec and the Kenyan Foreign Minister attended the ceremony and made remarks. Rendeavour was a sponsor and investor in the Global Entrepreneurship Summit in Nairobi this year, and also committed more than $400K in contributions to the Young African Leaders Initiative (YALI). At the summit, Rendeavour met the heads of USTDA, OPIC, and SBA to brief them on Rendeavour's development projects. They also met with Senator Coons, U/S Stengel, and several officials from the Commerce Departments.

Rendeavour will be present at the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) Forum in Gabon from August 24-27. The company's head of Corporate Affairs, Preston Mendenhall, will be a speaker on infrastructure investment in Africa. Preston would like to meet the U/S to brief her about the company and the issues it is facing in Kenya. Understanding her schedule is likely very tight on the ground, we are also able to offer a window with Rendeavour's lead investor, Frank Mosier, who will be in Washington from September 8-10.

Please let me know who among you is the best person to work with concerning this request and thanks in advance for your assistance with it.

CORE BUSINESS

Rendeavour actively selects large scale strategic land in sub-Saharan Africa suitable for development by specialist urban developers, including Rendeavour's own development sub divisions, namely its Residential, Retail and Logistics development platforms.

Rendeavour's primary business is providing planning, bulk infrastructure and all necessary permits and statutory approvals.

The result is a change in land use designed to meet the specific needs of the local area. This land use largely focuses on the provision of residential and affordable housing, alongside provision for community retail, logistics and manufacturing, within a fully planned and approved Town Plan framework.

Activities under this business model include:

- Procuring large land sites in growth paths of existing cities in conjunction with local partners.
- Securing title registration and physical on-site possession.
- Master planning.
- Procuring necessary permits and statutory approvals.

- Bulk infrastructure planning and procurement.
- Stakeholder management and local community relations.
- Ensure compliance with project guidelines and master plans by off takers.
- Developing positive social impact through CSR projects.

RELEASE IN FULL

Tatu City kicks off construction of first residential development

Cabinet Secretary for Foreign Affairs and International Trade Amina Mohamed, U.S. Ambassador to Kenya Robert Godec and Kiambu County Governor William Kabogo commend American investment

11 July 2015

Tatu City, the mixed-use, mixed-income urban development near Nairobi, has launched construction of its first residential phase, Kijani Ridge, marking a major investment milestone in Kenya.

An event marking the occasion was attended by Kenya's Cabinet Secretary for Foreign Affairs and International Trade Amina Mohamed, Kiambu County Governor William Kabogo and U.S. Ambassador to Kenya Robert Godec.

Cabinet Secretary Amina Mohamed

A sales drive held in parallel to the ceremony attracted over 100 buyers to Kijani Ridge, located above a reservoir on Tatu City's rolling green hills. Tatu City will be home to more than 70,000 residents and 30,000 day visitors and create tens of thousands of jobs during its 20-year, phased development.

"We are pleased to bring American and other international capital to Kenya and Tatu City, a revolutionary urban development that eases the burdens of urbanization on Nairobi and creates unique living and business opportunities for families and companies in Kenya's growing economy," said Frank Mosier, the lead American investor in Tatu City and Rendeavour, the project owner.

Speaking at ceremony, Cabinet Secretary Mohamed said, "We as a government are about attracting investment, creating jobs, creating opportunities and, of course, creating wealth. So for us, Tatu City is a showcase of the investment Kenya can really attract into the country."

Ground-breaking ceremony for Kijani Ridge: Ambassador Godec, Cabinet Secretary Mohamed, the Property Show's Nancy Muthoni, Tatu City Acting CEO Anthony Njoroge and Governor Kabogo.

Commending Rendeavour and Tatu City's investment, Ambassador Godec said the U.S. government is "proud that Tatu City has the backing of American investors ... and the investment scale is really quite extraordinary when you look at it - $100 million, that's Ksh10 billion, and that's just to start. I think it is also particularly auspicious and important that this groundbreaking is occurring just a few days before the visit of President Barak Obama to Kenya, and of course the Global Entrepreneurship Summit," he said, referring to the U.S.-backed initiative which will hold its annual event in Nairobi on 25-26 July.

Live your dream. Make it happen.

Governor William Kabogo highlighted Kiambu County as an investment destination for Kenyan and foreign investors. "It is my expectation that [Tatu City] will serve to showcase my government's commitment to well-planned and controlled development. If you are looking to invest in this sector, Kiambu County is the place to be – the place to grow, work and live in," he said.

Rendeavour, Tatu City's owner, is Africa's largest urban land developer, with visionary projects in Kenya, Nigeria, Ghana, Zambia and Democratic Republic of Congo.

About Tatu City (www.tatucity.com)

Tatu City is a 2,500-acre, mixed-use and mixed-income development with residential, commercial, industrial, tourism, social and recreation amenities for more than 70,000 residents and 30,000 day visitors. Underlying Tatu City's design is a visionary concept aiming to shift urban development in Kenya from the familiar single node model to a decentralized urban environment. By doing so, Tatu will significantly de-congest the City of Nairobi by offering a unique live, work and play environment.

About Rendeavour (www.rendeavour.com)

Rendeavour is Africa's largest urban land developer with over 30,000 acres of visionary projects in the growth trajectories of large cities in Kenya, Ghana, Nigeria, Zambia and Democratic Republic of Congo. Rendeavour's vision goes beyond alleviating what is a self-evident problem – that of stifling urban congestion and a dearth of quality housing and commercial property in Africa. Rather, we aim to help create the infrastructure – the living and working spaces, communities, schools and hospitals – that will help sustain and accelerate Africa's economic growth, meet the aspirations of Africa's burgeoning middle classes, and serve as a catalyst for further urban development.

Subject: Rendeavour - update

Dear Tamara,

It was great to connect with you yesterday and I am glad to hear the great developments of the Africa Bureau.

Per your request, and at the risk of overload, I'm including four documents to this email:

- Rendeavour's overview presentation, in case you've not received it (I believe A/S Thomas-Greenfield has a copy);
- 2 Rendeavour backgrounders for business matchmaking events to take place in the spring;
- The annual Tatu City update (Rendeavour's Kenya development) for your review.

Per our conversation, we'd be pleased to deliver the update to the A/S on the 21st or 22nd according to her availability. However, understanding her schedule may be tight, we'd be pleased to deliver an update to you, as well. Please suggest a time on Monday or Tuesday for which you would be available.

Kind regards,

RELEASE IN FULL

2015 Summary of Progress

Rendeavour is pleased to provide several updates on the company's successes in 2015, including high-profile partnerships, U.S. Government support and positive progress made with Tatu City, Rendeavour's satellite city development in Kenya.

Commercially, Tatu City is thriving. Kijani Ridge, the development's first residential phase, is 60% sold, and Tatu Industrial Park, the 420-acre light industrial area adjacent to Tatu City, announced a number of high profile Kenyan and multi-national buyers that will build state-of-the-art production facilities and create thousands of jobs.

Legally, Tatu City is ending 2015 in a much better position than it started the year, with positive signals that the Kenyan judiciary is taking the project's legal challenges seriously.

Tatu City expresses its gratitude to the stakeholders that have supported the project for many years, and in particular in 2015. These include property buyers, Kenyan government and business community, Kenyan media and international governments – the United States, United Kingdom, Norway and New Zealand – which represent the homes of our shareholders.

Milestones & Achievements

- In November, Unilever announced it will build a $175 million production facility at Tatu Industrial Park, following the lead of notable Kenyan companies Dormans (largest coffee grower and producer in East Africa) in April; Kim-Fay (producer and distributor of Kimberly Clark brands in East Africa) and Maxam (Heineken distributor in Kenya) in August.
- In November, Cabinet Secretary for Industrialization and Enterprise Development Adan Mohamed attended the ground-breaking of Tatu Industrial Park, along with Kiambu County Governor William Kabogo and representatives from the U.S., U.K. and Australian embassies.
- Cabinet Secretary for Foreign Affairs and International Trade Amina Mohamed attended the ground-breaking for Kijani Ridge, along with U.S. Ambassador Robert Godec and Governor Kabogo.
- In July, Rendeavour sponsored the Global Entrepreneurship Summit during President Obama's visit to Kenya.
- Rendeavour has made a commitment to the Young African Leadership Initiative, with over $400,000 of in-kind support, such as mentorships, internships and entrepreneur incubator space in four or our offices in Africa.

Judicial Update

- The overall changes in the judicial process are positive. In the Kenyan courts, thanks to combined publicity and a strong legal team, Tatu City has resisted attempts by Kenyan minority shareholders to prevent administration of justice. Additionally, the judge on the main case appears to have stepped aside.
- Our next significant hearing is on February 26th. Our hope is that the main case will be resolved at that time.

About Rendeavour

Rendeavour is Africa's largest urban land developer, with over 30,000 acres of developments in major cities of some of sub-Saharan Africa's fastest-growing markets: Kenya, Nigeria, Ghana, Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Rendeavour's developments are focused on addressing the need for middle-class housing and commercial infrastructure in major African cities. Our vision is to help create the sustainable urban environment – the living and working spaces and communities – that will help accelerate Africa's economic growth.

Rendeavour's key strength is its ability to transform large-scale raw land into fully planned satellite cities. We bring our expertise in master planning, infrastructure planning and community relations to each of our developments. By catalyzing modern but affordable residential, retail, logistics and light industrial solutions, Rendeavour is transforming Africa's urban environments and building a foundation for the continent's future generations.

The scale and quality of Rendeavour's developments provide an ideal environment for enterprising American companies that desire access to the sub-Saharan African markets. Rendeavour has seven projects across the continent near the cities of Nairobi, Lagos, Abuja, Accra, Takoradi, Lusaka and Lubumbashi.

- Each Rendeavour development will be home to 70,000 residents and visited by 30,000 people daily.
- In each development, Rendeavour is committing over $250 million in infrastructure investment during the lifetime of the project.
- Rendeavour developments provide a full spectrum of housing, starting from $25,000 affordable housing units.
- Our average project size is 2,500 acres and encompasses approximately:
 - √ 34.5 million sq. feet of residential developments, 1.4 million sq. feet of business corridor space and 2.5 million sq. feet of technology park space
 - √ 1.7 million sq. feet of community facilities
 - √ 800,000 sq. feet of hospitals and health facilities
 - √ 7 million sq. feet of light industrial and logistics
 - √ 4.8 million sq. feet of schools sites
 - ✓ 50 acres of parks and playgrounds (30 percent open space overall)

Rendeavour's team brings more than 90 years combined of emerging market development expertise. The company's vast experience owning and operating businesses across Central and Eastern Europe, Asia and now in sub-Saharan Africa is unmatched due to its strong management team.

Stephen Jennings – Founder and CEO

Stephen Jennings, who has been living and working in emerging markets for over 20 years, is a pioneer of capital markets in Central and Eastern Europe and Africa, responsible for over $200 billion of investment flows to these regions.

Stephen founded Renaissance Group in 1995, building investment banking, securities sales and trading, asset management and consumer finance businesses across Central and Eastern Europe, Asia and Africa. Producing more than 3,000 research reports on Africa, Renaissance's notable achievements on the continent include the first IPOs on several African exchanges. Since 2012, Stephen has focused on the pan-African urban development business, of which he is the majority shareholder.

During the period between 1983 and 1992, Stephen worked at Credit Suisse First Boston in New Zealand and in the New Zealand Treasury. He also consulted for the governments of New Zealand and Australia on issues of privatization.

Frank Mosier - Board Director

Frank Mosier is an American investor in emerging and frontier markets with a 25-year track record across Central & Eastern Europe and Africa.

Frank is a lead investor in Rendeavour, the founder and head of investments of Kazimir Partners, the emerging and frontier markets investment firm, and the managing director of Kazimir Africa Partners, the subsidiary investing in private equity in Africa. Kazimir Partners manages hedge funds, mutual funds, and private equity and real estate investments in emerging and frontier markets with a focus on Central & Eastern Europe and sub-Saharan Africa.

Originally from Pennsylvania, Frank holds a B.A. in International Politics & Economics from Middlebury.

Preston Mendenhall - Head of Corporate Affairs

Preston is responsible for government and investor relations, marketing and communications. He has over 20 years of experience in emerging markets, including four years at Rendeavour. For six years, he was Director of Communications and Vice President for Strategy of Russian Standard, Russia's leading consumer global brand with interests in financial services and alcohol beverage production and distribution. From 1993-2006, Preston was a producer and correspondent for NBC News, covering global events in the former Soviet states, Europe, Central and South Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

Danny Kambo - Head of Construction & Deliver

Danny has more than 25 years' experience in construction and civil engineering. Prior to joining Rendeavour, his work with GSE CEE included project management and the overall development of the business in Poland, Hungary, Romania and Ukraine. During this time, he successfully managed a number of projects from land acquisition, to deploying infrastructure, right up to final delivery.

Business Matchmaking Week: April 4-13, 2016

Summary

Rendeavour is Africa's largest urban land developer, with over 30,000 acres of satellite city developments in Kenya, Ghana, Nigeria, Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo. This spring, Rendeavour will hold business matchmaking events in seven US cities from April 4-13, 2016, to meet with qualified potential business partners seeking to export their products and services to Africa.

Rendeavour plans to source approximately $500 million in American products and services over the next five years, with an additional $1.5 billion projected in the years to follow. Rendeavour's commercial mission is to "Buy American" for its projects, enhance the quality of its developments and increase American exports to sub-Saharan Africa and bilateral trade in key sectors.

Hi Anne - Hope this note finds you well. We have some senior executives from Textron coming to DC March 1-3 to talk with various agencies involved in Iran sanctions and policy. Their focus is a better understanding of the commercial aircraft provisions in Treasury's regulations but they would also appreciate some insight into the trajectory of overall Iran policy. I'm hoping you might have some time to meet with them when they're here that week. Any time you could spare would be much appreciated. Thanks for considering. Best, Dave

If Greg isn't there would it be possible to schedule something with A/S Talwar?

We just had meetings with SAF-IA leadership this week related to SFW and we really need to follow-up PM. Also we are meeting with A/S Patterson that week as well. PM is critical to our efforts, is there anything we can do?

Hello again! Just checking in that you and appropriate members of your team would be available on the 10th or 11th. The request was buried in my below email.

Really appreciate your help with this.

Regards,

Jordan Valdés 202-909-0020

Tamara,

Hope you're well and enjoying your weekend.

Wanted to come back and let you know that – thanks in large part to your help – Rendeavour's main shareholder, Frank Mosier, met with Ambassador Godec and some members of his team last week.

The meeting was fruitful and the embassy committed to supporting Rendeavour. Ambassador Godec agreed to find the appropriate venue for raising Rendeavour's case with the Kenyan government. The economics officer, David Drinkard, assured the company that they are on the embassy's constant radar.

Unfortunately, on the 26th, Rendeavour lost their case in court due to a technicality. The judge ruled that the technicality would have to be cleared up in days instead of weeks or months, enabling the next stages in the case to proceed as opposed to the usual delays. Rendeavour remains hopeful.

Preston Mendenhall, the company's head of corporate affairs, will be in Washington on the 10th and 11th of March. We would be grateful for the opportunity to brief you on the company's footprint and their plans for their remaining markets in sub-Saharan Africa, including a new expansion project they have coming online. This meeting would make up for the pre-Christmas meeting that had to be rescheduled. We would appreciate your time.

Many thanks again for your help.

Best regards,

Jordan,

Many thanks for checking in and my apologies for the delay. We did reach out and speak with colleagues at post and I'm just taking far too long to provide some feedback.

In short, our team at post is well-acquainted with Rendeavor's work and it sounds like they are in fairly regular contact. They are aware of the court date issue and looking into what more they can do (being careful not to influence the outcome, of course). They very much understand that the core of the request is for a fair and expeditious trial. As a quick added note, it sounds like the Ambassador has met with Rendeavor in the past and had offered to meet with a Rendeavor executive recently but apparently he didn't ultimately travel to Nairobi (the team also meets regularly with Preston Mendenhall of the Rendeavor team).

I also promised to share a good POC in Nairobi with you and the best person would be the Econ section's David Drinkard (DrinkardDJ@state.gov). Your colleagues in Nairobi should absolutely feel free to reach out to him.

All the best, Tamara

Tamara,

Hello there! Just checking in regarding our conversation of last Tuesday to see if there are any updates.

If it suits you better to speak by phone, I will make myself available.

Will you be attending Scott Beale's 40th? Will be a great opportunity to catch up if so.

Jordan

Hi, Tamara,

I can give you a call at 11 AM. This concerns Kenya, not DRC, so I would like to brief you.

Shall I call your direct at 11?

Best,

Jordan Valdés 202-909-0020

I am looping in my colleague, Peter Barlerin, who is the Director for Economic and Regional Affairs division and who will be in touch regarding a possible time on Monday or Tuesday. If there's any way I can join, I will - it would be a pleasure to see you.

Hi Anne - Hope this note finds you well. We have some senior executives from Textron coming to DC March 1-3 to talk with various agencies involved in Iran sanctions and policy. Their focus is a better understanding of the commercial aircraft provisions in Treasury's regulations but they would also appreciate some insight into the trajectory of overall Iran policy. I'm hoping you might have some time to meet with them when they're here that week. Any time you could spare would be much appreciated. Thanks for considering. Best, Dave

Subject: Rendeavour request - time sensitive

Hi, Tamara,

I hope my note finds you well. I called you this morning to deliver some news about Rendeavour, with which I was also hoping you could assist. You may recall that Rendeavour scheduled time in January at the CEO-level (Stephen Jennings) to visit the US embassy in Nigeria. I had been in communication with Ambassador Entwistle who told me he would be happy to meet with the company but had retired, and suggested I instead reach out to Maria Brewer. I then wrote to Mrs. Brewer in December, and learned that she would be away for several weeks, including the time that Stephen Jennings planned his travel to Abuja, thus they missed each other.

Stephen Jennings has rescheduled his visit to Abuja for next week, April 21 and 22, and will bring his lead investor, Frank Mosier, as well as Preston Mendenhall, head of corporate affairs. The three have meetings throughout the highest levels of the Nigerian government to discuss Jigna, Rendeavour's development project outside of Abuja. They would like to meet with Mrs. Brewer, as well. I wrote to Mrs. Brewer and requested her time on behalf of the company, but my belief is that Mrs. Brewer assumes Rendeavour wants to speak about a construction contract with the US Embassy following the company's visit last month with OBO. I am under this impression because Mrs. Brewer referred the company to meet with the Management Counsellor in her reply to me. Since Rendeavour's objective for next week's trip to Abuja is for their senior most team to brief on Rendeavour's long-term vision for their business in the country, it seems most appropriate they do so with the Acting US Ambassador. (By way of background, Rendeavour's interest in US Embassy business is a tangential matter which was proposed to the company by A/S Thomas Greenfield during a meeting between the A/S and Frank Mosier last year. While Rendeavour would be very happy to do business with the American government, their core business, as you know, is large-scale urban land development in African capitals.)

As you know, Stephen Jennings has met with Ambassadors in 4 out of 5 countries in which Rendeavour is present, and has consistently been the largest foreign investor in each of those countries. I was hoping you could provide some insight into this matter, and advise us on the best way to move forward. The fact is, it is a rare occasion that Mr. Jennings, Mr. Mosier and Mr. Mendenhall are all in country at the same time, and I would hate for the opportunity to be lost due to a potential misunderstanding of Rendeavour's mission.

Apologies for the length of this note, but given the short timeline I thought it best not initiate a game of phone tag. Please feel free to call me, though, if you think it best to talk. I'm available for the rest of the day.

As always, thank you in advance for your help.

Regards,

JORDAN VALDÉS VICE PRESIDENT

Subject: RE: Rendeavour request - time sensitive

Hi Jordan:

Thanks for reaching out by phone today, and it was good to talk to you. It was also good to hear about Rendeavour's activities throughout Africa and in Nigeria. I will reach out to the DCM and inquire about her availability for a meeting on April 20 or 21 with the following Rendeavour personnel:

Stephen Jennings, CEO

Frank Mosier, director and chief investor

Preston Mendenhall, director of corporate affairs

Please be advised, however, that our Embassy in Nigeria is very much consumed with preparations for multiple high-level U.S. government visits and that the DCM has been out this week due to illness. It may therefore be difficult to accommodate this request.

Per our discussion, you have followed the Embassy's advice and will be seeking a meeting at a lower level with the Management Counselor. Given the seniority of Mr. Jenning's team, however, you would still like to pursue a meeting for them with Ms. Brewer.

Also to recap: Rendeavour is developing the "Jigna" housing development in Nigeria, which will ultimately comprise 50-70,000 units. Thank you for clarifying that the intent of the meeting is not to seek any specific assistance with the Jigna project or to pursue the possibility of the Embassy housing its personnel in the development. Your intent instead is to discuss regulatory and other aspects of the project and brief the Embassy on Rendeavour's overall plans for Nigeria.

We will let you know any response we get from the Embassy.

Very best,

Nathan Holt Deputy Director Office of West African Affairs Tel: +1-202-647-1658

Dear Nathan,

I hope you're well and apologies for the double ping. I was hoping we could connect this week given the time sensitivity of the issue. Would you be available to chat tomorrow morning?

Best, Jordan

Tamara,

Thank you for replying so quickly. Congratulations, and I look forward to hearing about your new position.

Nathan, I'm pleased to e-meet you. So that you may understand a bit of the history, I'm happy to jump on a call with you today or tomorrow according to your availability. Please do advise as to your earliest open window.

Thank you, Jordan

Dear Jordan,

I'm unfortunately in the midst of transitioning to a new position but am cc-ing my colleague, Nate Holt, who is the lead for AF's Nigeria unit. I do hope you are able to connect.

All the best, Tamara

Subject: Rendeavour request - time sensitive

Hi, Tamara,

I hope my note finds you well. I called you this morning to deliver some news about Rendeavour, with which I was also hoping you could assist. You may recall that Rendeavour scheduled time in January at the CEO-level (Stephen Jennings) to visit the US embassy in Nigeria. I had been in communication with Ambassador Entwistle who told me he would be happy to meet with the company but had retired, and suggested I instead reach out to Maria Brewer. I then wrote to Mrs. Brewer in December, and learned that she would be away for several weeks, including the time that Stephen Jennings planned his travel to Abuja, thus they missed each other.

Stephen Jennings has rescheduled his visit to Abuja for next week, April 21 and 22, and will bring his lead investor, Frank Mosier, as well as Preston Mendenhall, head of corporate affairs. The three have meetings throughout the highest levels of the Nigerian government to discuss Jigna, Rendeavour's development project outside of Abuja. They would like to meet with Mrs. Brewer, as well. I wrote to Mrs. Brewer and requested her time on behalf of the company, but my belief is that Mrs. Brewer assumes Rendeavour wants to speak about a construction contract with the US Embassy following the company's visit last month with OBO. I am under this impression because Mrs. Brewer referred the company to meet with the Management Counsellor in her reply to me. Since Rendeavour's objective for next week's trip to Abuja is for their senior most team to brief on Rendeavour's long-term vision for their business in the country, it seems most appropriate they do so with the Acting US Ambassador. (By way of background, Rendeavour's interest in US Embassy business is a tangential matter which was proposed to the company by A/S Thomas Greenfield during a meeting between the A/S and Frank Mosier last year. While Rendeavour would be very happy to do business with the American government, their core business, as you know, is large-scale urban land development in African capitals.)

As you know, Stephen Jennings has met with Ambassadors in 4 out of 5 countries in which Rendeavour is present, and has consistently been the largest foreign investor in each of those countries. I was hoping you could provide some insight into this matter, and advise us on the best way to move forward. The fact is, it is a rare occasion that Mr. Jennings, Mr. Mosier and Mr. Mendenhall are all in country at the same time, and I would hate for the opportunity to be lost due to a potential misunderstanding of Rendeavour's mission.

Apologies for the length of this note, but given the short timeline I thought it best not initiate a game of phone tag. Please feel free to call me, though, if you think it best to talk. I'm available for the rest of the day.

As always, thank you in advance for your help.

Regards,

Subject: Posting on Cluster Munitions Coalition Website

Rose/Josh-

Thanks again for meeting with me last week to discus	S
You	asked to see the paper, so I am providing this link to it:
http://www.stopclustermunitions.org/the-problem/v	vhat-is/?id=107. The fifth paragraph is the key one:

Still more recent developments in arms production include new generation precision-guided weapons that are still considered by some to be cluster munitions, but that are very different from the cluster munitions in service today. These weapons share a common property with cluster munitions because they have submunitions that separate from a parent munition. However, they can be seen as different from cluster munitions because they have sophisticated guidance systems that use Global Positioning Satellites and infrared sensors to actively seek out and engage targets. It is unclear whether these new precision-guided weapons will fall under the legally defined category of cluster munitions. This depends on the key characteristics used to define the weapon type. Crucially it is the responsibility of governments and stockpilers to provide evidence that certain types of submunition based weapons systems do not pose the same risk as other cluster munitions.

We'll be looking for ways to follow up on this opening; we invite you to make good use of it as well.
