

"SOMETHING BEHIND OLYMPUS MONS..."

By Denzel Garcia

NASA's big plan is to send citizens to Mars and if they come back alive they will be awarded tremendously. A team name "Delta 2" was chosen to go to Mars. They put on their spacesuits and entered Apollo 007, a rocket ship. Everyone prayed and wished them good luck. The announcement started,

"Three...two...one, BLAST OFF!"

Alfred Fitzgerald, whom is a Sergeant Major of the Army, made the announcement. Jake and Sarah, just behind the pilot seat, are ready and prepared, but are also anxious because they were on an important mission to see if Mars is habitable for humans. This was Operation Olympus Mons.

About two and a half months later, they arrived at Mars. Everyone was amazed at how beautiful the planet was! They got off the shuttle and started building a colony. Fitzgerald names the colony "AstroStar." People that NASA assigned from Earth started coming to Mars, since Earth is dying. They set up materials to build domes near Olympus Mons (Mars' largest Volcano). While other people were coming from Earth. Jake and Sarah wander around Mars to look for rare resources and mythical food. Sarah went to find KITIZITE, which helps keeps the domes steady. Jake found a substantial amount of Saffron and Dwinkleberries. They went back to AstroStar and were SHOCKED!

An extraordinary saucer crashed near Olympus Mons and damaged the colony. Many were badly wounded and three were dead. Alfred Fitzgerald along with other fellowmen, went to investigate the crash site.

"Take care of these wounded people when I come back, CAPICHE?!" demanded Alfred Fitzgerald.

Meanwhile, Jake and Sarah were taking care of the settlers that were wounded. Jake and Sarah heard running from outside the dome and went to check it out! Alfred had come back screaming "HIDE!!!!"

Jake and Sarah were alerted. Jake and Sarah frantically ran out the dome and saw green-blackish ALIENS!

They ran to the armory room to hide and the duo hid behind the boxes full of ammo. Soldiers ran from the front door grabbed a weapon and started going outside and blasting their ZIP pistols and Ultraman three thousand assault rifles. Jake and Sarah were very startled, they began to realize Aliens were taking over! Jake felt that they should fight to help the soldiers but Sarah thinks it's best to hide and wait till the soldiers dealt with it. Jake and Sarah had a complicated quarrel until something gooey opened the door. They know what it was. Sarah finally agreed to Jake's plan. They both got an AA12 Assault Shotgun and blasted the Alien.

They continued their path the door and were very aghast. Mayhem has spread through AstroStar. They went to find Alfred Fitzgerald while laser were hitting soldiers and bullets hitting Aliens.

While blasting through waves and waves of aliens they found Alfred Fitzgerald badly wounded. " Jake and Sarah, I am very sorry to bring into this madness" said Alfred Fitzgerald while he was slowly dying."The only way to get rid of this mess is the Anti-Alien nuke, this nuke will not harm humans but obliterated the domes and Aliens." "We have to go there immediately until the Aliens takeover." exclaimed Sarah. "I believe the button to the nuke is in the control room," said Jake.

Jake and Sarah found many corpses lying around the control room. From dead bodies drooling to blood drips. Jake and Sarah repeatedly started finding the red button but something bad happened...they were captured!

Jake and Sarah were knocked out and pretty much felt nothing. Jake woke up and questioned "Where are we?" Sarah woke up and said "I don't know I think we might be CAPTURED!" Jake and Sarah panic till one alien opened the door. Jake and Sarah were very frightened but the Alien didn't want to kill Jake or Sarah instead the alien release them." I want to free you out of this place and I want you to have faith in yourself and save humanity, this is your only chance." Jake and Sarah were very speechless and confused. "Why did that Alien helped us?" Jake questioned. "At Least they didn't kill us," said Sarah. They went back to the control room. They were still looking for the button then Sarah found it. Jake questioned "Are you sure that is the nuke button?" "I'm sure" replied Sarah. "Alright, I hope this will solve this problem." "Three...two...one, Blast off!"

The control room went all red. Sarah and Jake heard the nuke go off. They went to hide and are braced for impact. About a minute or so, the nuke hit mars sending out a strong force nearly obliterated aliens, domes, resources, and food. Everyone survived the aftermath and everyone's cheering but Jake and Sarah felt guilty or the alien that released them while they were captive.

NASA heard the news about the Alien invasion and the nuke explosion and the death of Sergeant Major of the Army, Alfred Fitzgerald. NASA sent out a rescue mission and send three large rocket ships to return to earth and have memorable party. Jake and Sarah also the rest of Delta 2 felt sympathetic but were glad to finish Operation Olympus Mons.

When return to Earth, many were happy to see their family members and friends who were not expecting them to come. Jake and Sarah walked around the party and saw many tears and joy. Both Jake and Sarah smiled and paid respect for the death of Sergeant Major of the Army "Alfred Fitzgerald." A lot of people mourn Alfred Fitzgerald death. Jake and Sarah and along with Delta 2 were awarded one million dollars. Many cried and Many accepted gratefully. Delta 2 crew members decided to go home. Jake and Sarah notice the news were playing on their TVs. "On Tonight News we will discuss about the unfortunate event that happened on Mars," said the news reporter "There was an alien invasion near Olympus Mons we lost a few soldiers and our Sergeant Major of the Army, "Alfred Fitzgerald." Many reported that they saw a nuke go off and killed all aliens." The news continued and was over. This was a mission that no one will forget...