

No Motivation

Jason Hicks

©2007 All Rights Reserved

Water has no motivation no plans to make contracts to break
Mental formations familial arbitrations
No pride in shape doesn't have to lose weight Never feels the need to cycle senselessly and cultivate illusions as its core contribution

Why do we push against the wind
Why do I pull away to no end
Just flow as formless as the ocean...water

Stars couldn't wear a disguise wouldn't have to ask why am I lonely
Will I burn on through eternity no proclivity to please celestial society
Compete with each other to be brighter than their mothers

To only be satisfied with our existence
And never feel you're on attack or on defense
Just shine for all in the youniverse...stars

We should lose our minds it'd be healthy
Forget about shame fame and being wealthy
We're so reclusive in fear compared to every other thing

Realize the power in now and suffer no longer
Grow and get stronger by the moment happiness to the Nth exponent
Make the transformation evolve a new nation
Global citi-ZENs with tolerance and positive relations

Giving with no expectation living with no motivation