It was so hard for me to break myself of these undermining tendencies.
When I'd hope to find some peace of mind instead I'd see my own insanity.
It's difficult to be understanding of all of my eccentricities.
If I tried to see them clearly was too near to see my fears and insecurities.

In you I see the me I believe
The truth I need to set me free
In me you knew that you would too
Find the truth about you, about you

I'd never been at ease to communicate my needs for a little inner peace.
When I spoke about my hopes and doubts I'd know how long I'd have to go without.
It's always been my thing to go to the extreme just to realize this dream.
All the countless places, nameless faces I searched yearning for you it seems.

In you I see the me I believe
The truth I need to set me free
In me you knew that you would too
Find the truth about you, about you

In time I find the mind that I knew
It's you and me I feel I believe
Oh with you in me I can breathe
With you in me.
With you in me.
With you in me.
With you in me.
