Polar Bear C2C Afghan

This pattern is based on a graph which I found on this website. I've added rows, changed colors and done a ridiculous border which makes it my own. The pattern is to replicate what I've done. I will attach the grid, but if you're vi/blind, you may struggle with it.

Difficulty: Intermediate

Crochet Hook: F 3.75 mm

Yarn: Super soft yarn

Gauge: 6 rows – 10cm
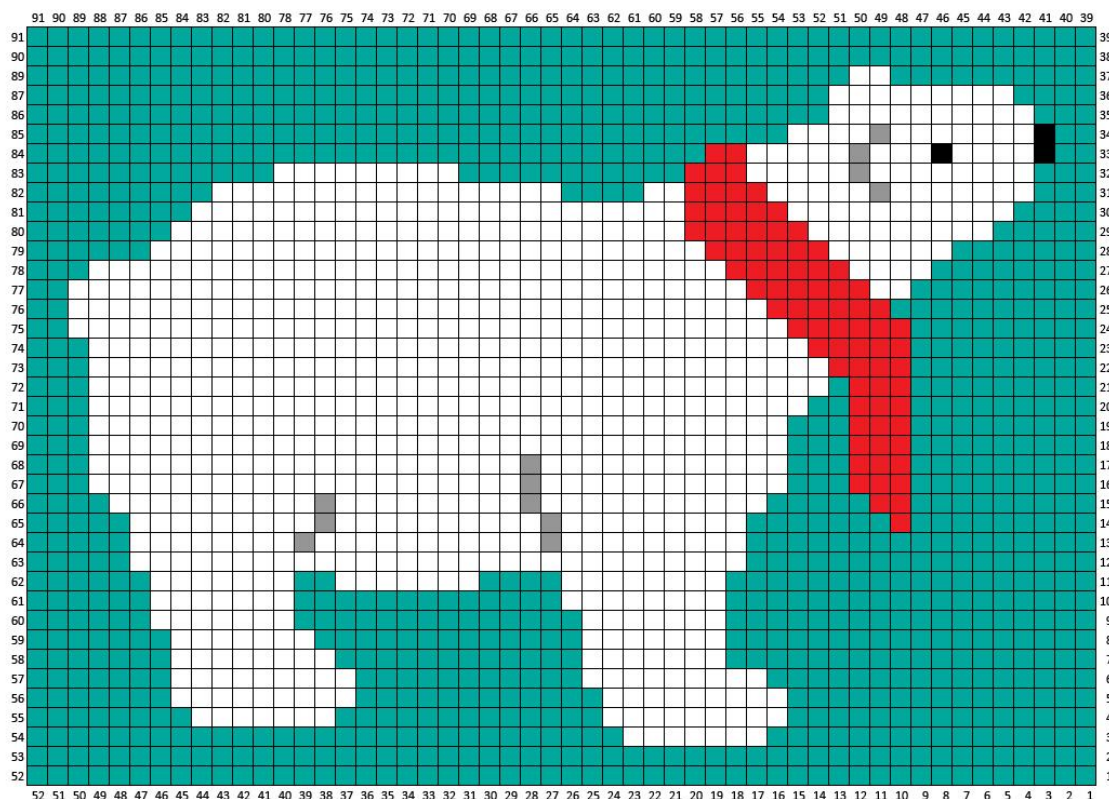

Finished Size: 120cm x 180cm

Materials:

(A) 300g (720m) Light Aqua
(B) 300g (720m) Dark Aqua
(C) 300g (720m) White
(D) 100g (240m) Lilac
(E) 150g (360m) Light Grey
(F) 50g (120m) Black

Note:

You will not break the yarn when changing colors unless otherwise noted. Try to keep your colors ordered so that they don't get tangled. You might have 2 of the same color balls joined on the same section because it's more efficient.

Follow graph for color changes. I used (A) and (B) for the background color. White, grey and black are the same as in the pattern. I used lilac instead of red.

When you drop a color and go to the next: yo, through stitch, yo, pull through 2 loops, yo with new color, pull through last 2 loops, tighten previous color by pulling dropped yarn.
