Pond Buffer Zone Plant Sale Ends May 21st

If you missed the Ponds Education Meeting at the Community Center including a pond buffer zone plant sale on Tuesday, May 7th, you can still purchase plants from our supplier. 130 residents attended the meeting and heard from NC State Extension Specialized Agent Dr. Diana Rashash. She talked about pond uses including aesthetics, fishing, and water retention. She talked about pond bank slopes and the beneficial effects of aquatic and pond bank plantings. She also talked about the native plants that work best in our southern Brunswick County environment. Most of the plants she mentioned were the same plants offered for sale during the meeting by Lumber River Native Plants in Gibson, NC.

Pond Buffer Zone Native Plants on Display at the Ponds Education Meeting

Jep Whitlock, owner, spoke about each of the plants. He brought examples of each one and displayed them on a table in front of the room. You can still purchase plants up until May 21st. To view the plants for sale and print the order form, click here. The order form has the instructions for ordering. Please note these are prepaid orders paid by checks only (no credit cards) made out to Lumber River Native Plants. Orders with checks must be brought to the POA office no later than Tuesday, May 21st. Your filled orders will be delivered to the Community Center for pickup on Saturday, June 15th, between 10:00 AM and noon.
