

Re: Recommendation for Dr. Susan Sasiadek

To whom it may concern:

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Dr. Susan Sasiadek. This past year, I have truly enjoyed working and collaborating with her on various teams and projects. Susan is an outstanding professional. I admire her ethics and her approach to her profession and how she works with and leads people. I have had the pleasure to see her lead, manage and facilitate and she does it all in a distinguished fashion. You will find that she has a very positive presence within her classrooms, our content area and in the Forbes School of Business. She is always collegial, supportive and caring. Susan has an open-communication style and is easy to follow. I think she is a quality person in every sense of the word. Her motivation to serve is always high and she is very enthusiastic and is an assertive self-starter. Numerous times I have seen her go above and beyond to help a colleague or student. She takes right action at the right times when support and leadership are needed the most. She steps up and asserts herself very effectively.

To be an excellent leader one must have a strong sense of purpose and passion; one has to have a strong sense of context and a high degree of emotional, social and cultural intelligence. I think Susan has them all and she can quickly read a situation and determine what the best course of action is to take. She is always about team play and furthering our team's success. Together everyone achieves more, and Susan understands this. For example, what exceptional work and role modeling she provided to us this year in our faculty forums. Her templates (verbiage, guidance and direction) helped our content area teams put together many meaningful faculty forums and workshops. Together we impacted many positive outcomes and results within our faculty community. Susan's has exceptional written communication skills and she provides consideration to all of her colleagues and students. She plays it forward!

To sum it up, Dr. Susan Sasiadek is a quality person in every sense of the word. She has helped me in my transition. I have benefited from knowing and collaborating with her and appreciate all her inputs into our system. I would be happy to talk with you further about Dr. Susan's knowledge, skills, and abilities and how they benefit our content area, students and our faculty of Ashford University.

Regards,

Bill Davis MA, CM

Program Chair/ Assistant Professor

Forbes School of Business at Ashford University