Dear Colleagues and Members of the Committee,

I appreciate this opportunity to write on behalf of Dr. Susan Sasiadek. She is one of our longest serving faculty members and has taught Business strategy, Strategies in Organizational Leadership, Managerial marketing and Functions of Modern Management since 2007. Susan has taught online at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. She is active with our students where she consistently receives positive reviews. Active in curriculum and program development, Susan conducted credit hour analysis on multiple courses in the MBA program, reviewed textbooks, completed CLO mapping and chaired the BABA program review self-study committee, among many other activities. Dr. Sasiadek also publishes widely including Ingredients of a Highly Productive Workforce Academic Capital in October of 2016.

Positive and collegial, I have found her to be supportive of her colleagues and ready to help with college-wide projects. Susan is admired for her ethics, professional standing and commitment to her students. This I can attest from many conversations with Associate Deans and other program chairs.

Respectfully,
