John Somerville and his wife, Mary, love the North Fork ranch where they've lived for 46 years. Forty acres backing up to the national forest, it proved wonderful for raising their six children. No longer a working ranch, it seems like a place where a guy who's led a busy life might settle down for his senior years.

Ask the Experts TRAVEL

The Adventurous Life of Colonel Somerville: Purpose, Passion, and Fun

But settling down has probably never occurred to Colonel John T. Somerville, USMC (Retired).

John is more likely to be preparing a talk on one of many subjects in which his life adventures have made him an expert. Or contemplating his next book. He might be staying in shape on the ranch's pitching mound or in its batting cage (he's still active in the Senior Men's Baseball League). Or perhaps reminiscing with Mary about some delightful moment they shared on one of their numerous trips to Israel – and planning their next one.

The land of Israel and the Jewish people have remained the heart of John's life purpose for 50 years. John speaks of Israel with passion and joy.

Passion and joy, in fact, seem to characterize all of John's many adventures, beginning with growing up in small-town Ohio "in the best of times," when everyone "knew everybody in the neighborhood, summer meant playing baseball after chores until it was dark, and parents never worried about you being away from home for 10 hours."

John served 30 years in the U.S. Marines, 20 as an Infantryman, 10 as an Intelligence Officer. Keeping his commission in the Reserves permitted him to coach sports while in college. For two years he worked as an assistant with the legendary football coach Woody Hayes at Ohio State, where John earned his PhD.

In the years since, John has visited Israel over 90 times and has become a leading authority on the nation. He has come to know Israel from the pages of Scripture. He has walked the streets that Jesus walked, spoken with locals as well as world-renowned authorities, and participated in archeological digs.

On many of those visits John has led Bible-based tours, offering insights into both the ancient locations and current events. Mary has often accompanied him on the tours. Above all, they hope to see others fall in love with this land and its people, who they believe "are still God's chosen people."

As founder and co-director of Zion's Watchmen, John challenges individuals, groups, Congress, and all government bodies to take seriously the promise of Scripture that God will bless the nation that blesses Israel. His third book, The "Accidental" Presidents who Became the "Blessers" of Israel (2020), is a fascinating read about five American Presidents. The details of their lives and their official actions will surprise, amuse, and inspire you.

So, while John and Mary's lovely ranch may no longer be described as "working," Colonel Somerville certainly is...still working with passion and joy, loving every busy moment.

Later John traveled all over the world on contract with the U.S. Marines Corps. Though sometimes sent into the world's danger zones, he loved those assignments: "Every morning I woke up scared [my superiors] would find out I was having too much fun!"

The assignments took him to many parts of the Middle East, including Israel. In 1972, on his first trip there, a casual conversation with a taxi driver in Tel Aviv became "a moment that changed the trajectory" of his life. Until that moment his focus in Israel had been the military aspects of a nation preparing for war.

Impulsively John asked the taxi driver, "Are you guys still looking for the Messiah?" The driver's robust "Of course we are!" brought John a sudden realization: he was in the very land where the Bible stories he had known from childhood happened.

PARENT REVOLT LEADS TO SCHOOL CHOICE

Dr. Dale Broome

Christian parents are often leading the charge, voicing complaints to administration, running for school board, or exiting the public schools. Christian parents are beginning to take seriously the Scriptural commands of Proverbs 22:6 to “train up a child in the way he should go” and teach them the moral commands of the Bible in every aspect of education, according to Deuteronomy 11:18-19. And they don’t want their public schools teaching them values and behaviors contrary to the Bible. But it is not enough to pull your child out of public school. You must take your child’s share of funding with you. Otherwise, that money will be used to indoctrinate other children. School Choice does precisely that. It allows parents to capture state education dollars to fund a high-quality, parent-directed education that emphasizes their moral values. School Choice is sweeping across the country and is now available in 34 states or territories, but unavailable in California.

After an initial attempt in 2022, Californians for School Choice (CFSC) is planning another campaign to qualify their Education Savings Account (ESA) initiative for the ballot in 2024. Each child’s ESA would be funded with $15,000 per year, and could be used for private or religious education or homeschooling. Any unused funds rollover in the account and be used for college or vocational training.

During the previous campaign many churches and pastors were reluctant to allow signature-gathering because it was perceived as “political” or potentially illegal. The truth is that School Choice is a non-partisan issue, for which churches can legally advocate and collect signatures, according to Liberty Counsel and Alliance Defending

Thousands of concerned people have banded together to take back our parental rights from the overreaching...“California police STATE”. JOIN US IN THIS FIGHT FOR FREEDOM!

Freedom. The CFSC initiative would make it financially feasible for more parents to get their kids a Christian education and for more churches to start Christian schools.

Many homeschool parents remain skeptical about taking government funds for fear of government intrusion into their homeschool. Homeschoolers can always choose not to participate. But quite frankly, the state can’t micromanage every homeschool in this state, and initiative provisions are written to prevent this. Under the CFSC initiative the $15,000 per year could be used for homeschool expenses, if the program is administered by a private school. If the parents choose to homeschool with a private school affidavit, they can still accrue the funds and use them later for a private high school, college or vocational training.

Proposition One called the Right to Reproductive Freedom Amendment.

LAWRENCE HEBRON

Topping the chart on California’s ballot this-coming November 8 is Proposition One, called the Right to Reproductive Freedom Amendment. It reads, “The state shall not deny or interfere with an individual’s reproductive freedom in their most intimate decisions, which includes their fundamental right to choose to have an abortion and their fundamental right to choose or refuse contraceptives.” This represents a significant change in the current California law about abortion.

Back in 1850, the first session of the California State Legislature passed the “Crimes and Punishments Act” which criminalized abortion under all circumstances except to save the mother’s life. The topic gained fresh attention in the late 1960s when a rash of new legislation and judicial rulings expanded the opportunity to receive legal abortions. In 2002, California Governor Gray Davis signed the Reproductive Privacy Act, which legalized abortions up to the point of fetal viability, which is often considered to be about 24 weeks into the pregnancy. After that, abortions could only be performed if it was determined that continuing the pregnancy risked the mother’s life. Prop 1 eliminates any time constraints on abortion, so presumably, an unborn baby could be killed up to the moment of birth.

Obviously, Prop 1 should be Number One on the “Hit Parade” of all Christians and people of conscience. It must be defeated.

The slaughter of innocents has always been abominable to moral people and was one of the worst offenses committed by the ancient Jews, incurring the wrath of God. It would be nice to think that we have learned something over the millennia, but apparently not so much in this area. So, what can we do? Contact local pro-life organizations and pregnancy resource centers to see how you can help. Tell acquaintances to vote against Prop 1. Talk to your pastors. You can show them this article. They often lack the courage to deal with “political” issues, but the massacre of helpless pre-born babies—every one of them a child of God—goes far beyond politics. Anyone who cannot speak up against such atrocities, has no place in the pulpit.

If Christians would simply unite on this issue and vote, we will win and save the lives of untold numbers of babies.

GOOD NEWS IN TOUGH TIMES

By Ivy Jelden

I came up with this theme when I had a column in the Orange County Register. The country was experiencing challenges and people needed encouragement. The name was, “Faith in the Valley.” The idea was to highlight what God was doing through His people. I interviewed people with stories of how they overcame adversity and wanted to share these victories.

The tough times have only increased, not only in our country, but worldwide. The best news is of course, is the enduring Gospel and how God’s people continue to act as a vessel for His love. I also hosted a Radio Show, Lemonaide Live. My guests shared their lives and then we received phone calls from people around the world requesting prayers. It was amazing, for sure. My online magazine called Lemonaide magazine shared Biblical teachings, testimonies, and emphasized how God takes life’s lemons and turns them into lemonade.

I believe there are still stories to tell, featuring ordinary people doing extraordinary things, through God and with His strength. “With God, all things are possible” (Matthew 19:26b). We may have to remind ourselves, fifty times a day, but nevertheless, it is truth. “This is the victory that has overcome the world even our faith” (1 John 5:4b). I now volunteer on the Prayer and Evangelism Team at two Church Food Pantries. I meet amazing people who wait in their cars for hours for groceries and spiritual sustenance. I hear their heart, their cries, their needs, combined with gratefulness and acknowledgement of God’s goodness. I’ve formed relationship with many and get to hear about their lives weekly. I am privileged to encourage and pray for their salvation, healing, and deliverance. In a grim world, I see the hand of God.

What I’ve learned is that God has a call on every Christian’s life. As much as we want to isolate from the world, the following scripture describes His plan. “And He (Jesus) called His servants, and delivered them 10 pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.” (Luke 19:13). In other words, we should step out in faith to do God’s bidding, whether it is entering the political arena, reaching out to our neighbors, or just praying for others.

I want to bring to you real stories and real victories. In some instances, the story isn’t finished or complete. However, like the “Great crowd of witnesses,” as expressed in Hebrews 12, we are inspired every day!

It is time for the fraudulent ‘education system’ to be exposed and replaced with real education before even more children are irreparably harmed — and the nation itself is destroyed.

Freedom Project Media

Dran Reese

Dran Reese, founder of Salt & Light Council is telling people that “the public schools are indoctrinating American children,” rather than educating. At Salt & Light Council we are promoting a movement toward healthier educational choices.

We have seen a dramatic erosion of standards in California schools. That, along with coronavirus shut-downs, has led parents to look to a growing menu of alternative schooling possibilities. Education, like police and fire protection, is a service every community needs. When government stops providing them, communities self-organize a replacement. An uptick in private security and neighborhood safety organizations reflects this kind of response. The same is happening with schools.

Many of us feel that unsound methodology and pedagogy damages children. California’s third-world level test scores in math, reading, writing, and reasoning reflect a system that has already failed.

Many parents are also concerned with the proliferation of anti-scientific curricula. “The public schools,” notes Reese, “are sexualizing American children with radical sex education, including flagrant promotion of homosexuality, fornication, gender confusion, and more. This indoctrination of children has its roots in the pseudo-scientific quackery of Alfred Kinsey, the ‘sex researcher’ responsible for the rape and sexual torture of thousands of children and babies. These abominations should have no place in a school classroom, as some schools have even been caught actively normalizing pedophilia. The risk of sexual abuse in schools is high and getting worse.”

Ms. Reese’s Salt & Light Council is working with a community-based organization, Liberty Coalition, to chart a path forward. Her “Public School Exit” provides on-line guides for parents. Liberty Coalition founder, Terry Wild, notes that this program provides organizational documentation and identifies teaching resources.

Reese reflects a burgeoning movement providing alternatives to a system unable to reform itself. Inner cities and rural children are hardest hit. The pandemic shut-down has led to the growing popularity of programs that merge high-tech resources with greater parental involvement and control. “California public schools,” states Reese, “no longer represent values that make quality education possible. The time has come to unite and disconnect and turn to alternatives that work.” The Learning Pod, a small group of students led by a teacher assisted parent volunteers, has gained traction. Thanks to on-line resources, a high-tech version of the one room schoolhouse has reappeared in backyards, garages and churches. Even parents with a limited education can opt for schooling that actually prepares children to compete in a high-tech world.

Churches and other faith institutions have a vital role to play. They have been largely missing in action. “Where are the faith leaders in this crisis? Why aren’t they leading? Christian leaders who play it safe may be viewed harshly by the next generation. This sentiment may be a bit blunt, but it seems to be growing in of people of faith.”

Wild pointed to his Liberty Coalition’s and the Salt and Light Council’s web sites as places to explore a promising way forward.

Practical Considerations for Lease Accounting

By: Stephen Austin, CPA, MBA

November 21, 2017

On the heels of a transformative and challenging revenue recognition standard, FASB's new lease accounting standard presents a potential tsunami of changes to the financial statements of public and private companies.

In February 2016, FASB issued new lease accounting guidance in Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). This new guidance was initiated as a joint project with the International Accounting Standards Board to simplify lease accounting and improve the quality and comparability of financial information for users. The IASB also issued guidance in IFRS 16 during January 2016.

This new guidance eliminates the historical concept of off-balance-sheet treatment for "operating leases" for lessees for the vast majority of lease contracts. Under ASU No. 2016-02 (Topic 842) and IFRS 16, at inception, a lessee is required to classify all leases with a term of more than one year as either finance or operating leases, with both classifications resulting in the recognition of a defined "right of-use" asset and a lease liability on the balance sheet.

These lease accounting changes are substantial and will require in many cases a significant investment of time and effort. These practical considerations can help entities as they implement the new standard:

- A defined strategy and timeline will help an organization comply with the standard in time to meet the implementation deadline. Good project management and planning is paramount.
- More time and effort will be required than most companies anticipate. This is partly because many leases are drafted in varying forms, since there is no industry standard. Most lease documents are dictated by the landlords or equipment lessors. Additionally, large companies are constantly leasing, renewing, and exiting current leases, so an accurate leased property inventory is critical.
- Real-estate-related leases are typically more complicated than equipment leases and may require real estate leasing expertise to implement and maintain.

- Various sales tax and local taxes need to be addressed. Organizations should keep their tax experts involved throughout implementation.

- Entities will need to identify all expenses that will be considered initial direct costs so they know what needs to be tracked.

- Global entities often have leases involving a variety of foreign currencies, creating another challenge for implementation. For leases denominated in a foreign currency in which the entity has multiple leases, the remeasurement exchange rate for the each of these right-of-use assets may be difficult to determine due to the need to use the exchange rate at the commencement of each lease. Preparers will need to trace the exchange rate back to the rate used at the time of lease commencement.

- Measurement metrics depend on the country of origin. Acceptable definitions for square footage measurements also vary from market to market. Depending on the market, square footage measurements may be defined based on space that is useable, rentable, rentable with a loss factor, rentable with a core factor, rentable based on drip line, or rentable based on ANSI-BOMA standards. For U.S.-based companies, preparers will need to convert the metric system to the imperial system to facilitate consistency and comparability throughout their leased property portfolio.

- Lease payments need to be analyzed and accounted for based on the goods and services they secure. For example, it is fairly simple to account for a lease that covers rent while the tenant is responsible for all maintenance, tax, insurance, and utilities. When those extras are included in the lease payment, the lease liability and right-of-use asset will increase.

NEWS / FINANCIAL REPORTING

Parking costs and allocations will need to be considered. Many times, parking costs are factored into the base rent, which does not allow for expensing them separately. As part of the base rent, parking costs increase the lease liability.

- Security deposits will continue to be accounted for as other assets.
- In leases with biannual (twice yearly) payment increases, lessors and lessees may wish to agree to switch to annual leases for ease of accounting. Where biannual increases exist, the lessees will need to remeasure twice a year instead of once. While this doesn't directly affect the lease accounting, it will affect the comparability of leases and related economies.
- Renewal options and their related structure, including relocation rights and termination rights, can have a profound effect on the balance sheet liability. For example, if a tenant has a five-year lease that it is reasonably certain the tenant will renew for an additional five years below fair market value, this would be considered a 10-year lease under the new standard.
- If upon initial capitalization of a lease it is determined that it is not reasonably certain that the entity will exercise the option to renew the lease, the entity will not include the renewal term in the capitalized term. However, if upon reassessment in a subsequent reporting period it is determined that it is reasonably certain that the entity will exercise its option to renew the lease, the entity will include the computation of the renewal period for the asset and liability at that time.

¿QUÉ HACER? Esas son las preguntas mágicas que todo cristiano se está haciendo en este momento. Nuestro país es... PÁGINA 5

¿Qué es mejor para los latinos: el Partido Demócrata o el Partido Republicano?

En una conversación reciente, el reportero de noticias Ildefonso Ortiz y la editora de noticias internacionales Frances Martel hablaron sobre la creciente popularidad de la ideología conservadora dentro de su comunidad. Los dos notaron el creciente reconocimiento entre los latinos de que el núcleo de su cultura e identidad es fundamentalmente incompatible con las metas y valores de la izquierda radical. Ortiz, quien es mexicano-estadounidense, señaló que la cultura y los valores mexicanos son “más conservadores que los que presentan los demócratas” y que el enfoque demócrata para moldear la identidad hispana en beneficio del partido es “la definición de racismo”.

“Durante mucho tiempo, el Partido Demócrata ha tratado de dar la imagen de que es el partido de los inmigrantes. Por supuesto, lo que hemos visto con el tiempo es que es mentira”, dijo Ortiz. “Si miramos la cultura mexicana, somos realmente más conservadores. La ideología de un mexicano es más conservadora que la que presentan los demócratas”.

“Siempre, cuando llegan a la presidencia o llegan al poder, se olvidan de los hispanos. Es algo que, lamentablemente, no ha cambiado”, agregó, “y la gente está empezando a despertar a esa estrategia”.

Martel, quien es cubanoamericano, argumentó que este creciente despertar ha generado tensiones entre las élites demócratas y las bases conservadoras, que alcanzaron su punto máximo este año con un extraño intento de la izquierda de boicotear los alimentos Goya, un alimento básico en los hogares hispanos.

“Lo que el Partido Demócrata ha tratado de hacer para solidarizarse con los hispanos este año ha sido trágico. Intentaron boicotear a Goya, que es la marca de comida hispana más famosa de Estados Unidos”, dijo Martel. “Todos tenemos recuerdos de cocinar productos Goya con nuestras abuelas y nos dijeron que ya no podemos usar Goya. Intentaron cambiar nuestro idioma. Nos dijeron que el español es transfóbico y que ya no somos hispanos; somos 'Latinx'. No sé qué es eso. Se escribe 'latín' con una x. Es impronunciabile en español”.

Martel concluyó que sentía que la izquierda estaba intentando “cambiar el alma de la identidad hispana”, que está orientada a la familia, es religiosa y se enfoca en el trabajo duro y la superación personal.

“Lo que estás describiendo es la definición de la supremacía blanca del Partido Demócrata, donde nos imponen su punto de vista a los latinos”, respondió Ortiz. “Nos están diciendo qué podemos comer, qué no podemos comer, cómo debemos hablar; esa es la definición de racismo. Quieren dominarnos sin que nos demos cuenta, que pensemos que están haciendo algo bueno por nosotros... casi dando la impresión de que, para ellos, los latinos son una raza inferior”.

WHO SAYS THERE WAS NO 2020 ELECTION FRAUD?

As evidence of 2020 election fraud, errors and irregularities continues to mount, many in the national fake news media have constantly been forced to revise their false dialogue. Since the election, their claims have been softened from “there is no evidence of election fraud” to “there is no widespread evidence of election fraud” to “there is no widespread evidence of election fraud that could alter the presidential race results”. All of these claims are false and here are enough facts to prove it:

The 2nd interim Wisconsin Office of Special Counsel (OSC) report, compiled for the Wisconsin Assembly by Michael Gableman, the former Wisconsin Supreme Court Chief Justice, tells the story of how the 2020 election was stolen with a bribery scheme. The Gableman Report determined that Mark Zuckerberg and his wife Priscilla Chan spent $330 million to establish the Center for Technology and Civic Life (CTCL) which they staffed with policy director David Plouffe, the former Barack Obama campaign manager who authored a book entitled “A Citizens Guide to Beating Donald Trump”. The bribes were given to counties, primarily in battleground states in exchange for:

- ? Implementing partisan get out the vote efforts,
- ? Installing unsecure drop boxes for ballot traffickers and,
- ? Accepting complimentary technical resources to run county voting systems.

Counties accepting money were obligated to return it if they did not follow the guidelines, therefore, those counties illegally subordinated their election operations to a bribery scheme run at the discretion of Zuckerberg’s CTCL.

Zuckerberg also gave another $70 million to David Becker’s Center for Election Innovation Research (CEIR) which attempted to block all of the OSC’s discovery requests for its election investigation. Becker had previously been fired by the U.S. Dept. of Justice for an intense, inflammatory anti-Republican bias prior to forming CEIR.

Wisconsin

In Wisconsin, the legislature gave its 10 electoral votes to Joe Biden based on a 20,682 popular vote margin without resolving these examples of widespread fraud and illegalities documented by the Gableman report and the Wisconsin Center for Election Justice:

- ? Over 200,000 ballots were placed into drop boxes that the Wisconsin Supreme Court confirmed are illegal;
- ? The Legislative Audit Bureau found that 57,000 voters who registered at the time they voted on Election Day could not be verified as required by law [pg22];
- ? The nursing home population of 92,000 was inflated to a 100% turnout in 66 homes in three of the largest counties. The total injection of invalid ballots from nursing homes was likely more than enough invalid ballots to exceed the 20,682 margin of victory;

? The Racine County Sheriff recommended charges against the Wisconsin Election Commission members (WEC) for nursing home fraud;

? Michael Spitzer Rubenstein, a CTCL partner from the National Vote at Home Institute, was to establish a secret hidden Wi-Fi network access to control Green Bay’s ES&S voting system remotely;

? CTCL partisan political operatives were illegally given Fast Identity Online keys (FIDO) for readwrite access to the Wisconsin voter registration system;

? Milwaukee Co. Elections Commission head Clair Woodall-Vogg gave CTCL’s Rubenstein daily updates from the Wisconsin voter database until Rubenstein informed her that he obtained (illegal) real time access. One such update would cost any member of the public $1,250; ? WEC head Meagan Wolfe has prevented removal of 20,000 unqualified voter roll entries for individuals who have been issued incompetency orders. ? There are 7 million voter roll entries for Wisconsin’s 5 million citizens and under 4 million eligible voters including 556,000 entries for people over the age of 104. ? A 4:07am Email on Nov, 4th, the day after the election, from the Election Group’s Ryan Chew, a CTCL partner, confirmed the steal of the Wisconsin election: “Damn, Claire, you have a flair for drama, delivering just the margin needed at 3:00 am. I bet you had those votes counted at midnight, and just wanted to keep the world waiting.”

Arizona

In Arizona, the legislature gave 11 electoral voters to Joe Biden based on the original 10,154 popular vote margin without resolving these examples of widespread fraud and illegalities identified by the State Senate authorized Maricopa County audit: ? The audit determined over 50,000 illegal ballots were cast based on a variety of reasons; ? 9,041 more ballots were processed than sent to voters.

? 4,463 people who voted in Maricopa County did not live there; ? 2,592 extra ballots were inserted into the results during duplication of damaged ballots; ? 4,463 people voted in Maricopa County although they did not live there; ? 1,551 more ballots were cast than voters who voted;

? A signature presence detection analysis performed by Dr. Shiva Ayydurai found that 4,499 ballot envelopes that were accepted did not have the presence of a signature; ? The signature presence detection also identified 17,126 duplicate ballot envelopes were received and processed by the county; ? The audit found that 284,412 digital ballot images necessary to tabulate results are missing or corrupted;

? Logs show the election database was purged on Feb 2 at 5:14 pm the evening before a Pro V&V audit was scheduled to start and a video shows a contractor accessing the server exactly at that time; ? Over a million election files were deleted from various election data devices before the Arizona audit could begin;

? A CyFir forensic report found that an election adjudication workstation had a redundant, bootable hard drive containing extraneous non-related data from three different states;

? A subsequent forensic ballot analysis revealed numerous severe irregularities impacting far more votes than the original 10,154 vote presidential margin and to concluded that the election should have never been certified.

The audit hearing and comprehensive reports below document many additional irregularities:

- ? Audit Hearing;
- ? Summary Chart;
- ? Executive Summary and Recommendations;
- ? Operations and Methodology;
- ? Audit Result Details;
- ? Analysis of Maricopa Co. False Claims

Georgia

In Georgia, the legislature gave its 16 electoral votes to Joe Biden based on an 11,779 popular vote margin without resolving these examples of widespread fraud and irregularities documented on the Legal, Events and Press Release tabs of VoterGA.org.:

? Six sworn affidavits of Fulton Co. counterfeit ballots (10s of thousands est.);

? 17,724 more Fulton Co. votes than in person recount ballot images required to tabulate votes;

? Drop box video surveillance representing 181,507 ballots destroyed in 102 counties;

? Improper Chain of Custody forms for 107,000 ballots statewide (355,000 estimated missing);

? 86,860 voters in 2020 have false registration dates prior to 2017 but were not on 2017 history file;

? Over 1.7 million original ballot images are lost or destroyed in 70 counties despite state and federal law;

? A VoterGA study found that none of 523,000 Fulton Co. 2020 ballot images used to tabulate the election results could be authenticated and most were electronically altered prior to certification;

? The Senate Judiciary Subcommittee 2020 Election Report found that: “The oral testimonies of witnesses on December 3, 2020, and subsequently, the written testimonies submitted by many others, provide ample evidence that the 2020 Georgia General Election was so compromised by systemic irregularities and voter fraud that it should not be certified”;

? On a Nov. 4th NBC today interview, the morning after the election, Secretary of State Brad

Raffensperger acknowledged that President Donald Trump had an insurmountable 103,750 vote lead with only 2% of 4.7 million votes (about 94,000) left to finish counting that day;

? After stating “We don’t guess” about the election results, SOS Raffensperger instead allowed another 200,000 phantom ballots to be entered into the results during the three days after the election and he certified 4.998 million votes

Running the Bases – a Movie Review

It isn't often I go to a movie theater and pay ridiculous prices, but I just saw a movie that was more than worth the price of admission. No sex, no violence, no degenerate big-name stars, just a good story and believable actors.

Yes, Running the Bases is a Christian movie. Not one name or face I recognized, just solid relatable actors that looked like real people. Because it was a story about ordinary people, not superheroes.

Running the Bases is a sports drama about twin boys, Josh and Luke, raised in a Christian family preparing to go to college and live out their dream to play baseball. When Josh collapses and dies while running the bases during a game, Luke is informed that he suffers from the same heart defect that caused his brother's death. Thus, Luke's plans for the future are stopped in their tracks. But God has another plan for Luke. A chance encounter helps him realize he can be a part of the game he loves as a coach. A coach that cares more about the character of his players than winning. Suffice it say, winning plays a big part in Luke's success and he is soon persuaded to leave his small town in Arkansas and move to a big city Texas school where winning is paramount regardless of the fallout. Luke faces a variety of situations where he is forced to make choices between his faith and a job he loves.

I'll leave it at that except to say the story is one that will stay with you long after it ends. You will laugh, your eyes will get teary, you will cheer and you will leave the theater inspired. That doesn't happen often these days.

Unfortunately, the movie is on limited release as is often the case with faith-based movies and word-of-mouth is the only way you hear about them. I was one of only four people in the theater. However, I am anxiously awaiting the release of a dvd because it's a keeper.

We are losing our freedoms everyday. Stolen elections, FBI raids, out of control inflation, government lockdowns... Where does it end? How do we stop it? I asked myself that several years ago and here's what I know.

#1: Don't get discouraged. We've been here before. Generations before us thought we were done!! But we fought and we persevered, even when the odds were against us. And it won't take a majority either. Like my favorite founding father, Sam Adams said, "It does not take a majority to prevail... but rather an irate, tireless minority, keen on setting the brushfires of freedom in the minds of men." So if you were frustrated when you were the only one that wasn't wearing a mask in a department store full of hundreds of people, then take heart...you're the irate, tireless minority. If you can't believe that people still drop their kids off at public indoctrination centers (aka public schools) everyday, then take heart...you're the minority keen of setting the brushfires of freedom.

#2: We won't produce fruit by trying to change the minds of boards that won't change their minds. I learned this when I was part of a group that protested the SDU School Board for 2 years and they didn't budge an inch. Moral of the story: If the board won't change then change the board. Hence, why our main focus at The RMNNT has been to train up and educate conservatives how to run for local office. We need to build the bench and we need to be in it for the long haul, even if it takes us several elections to prevail. As a result, we have nine RMNNT trained candidates that are now on the ballot this November. If you didn't decide to run this election, then help someone who is. If we want to win we have to realize it's going to take hard work - making calls, knocking on doors, putting out signs. I love the lyrics of Travis Dennings new song. We should make it the theme song for all conservatives. "I've been thinking somebody's gotta keep it red 'round here. Might as well be me."

There is Good News that brings healing to division

By: Dennis McCourt

Because of limited perceptions, people often see racism in situations when there is no racism there. This can happen when a well meaning person inadvertently offends a racial minority. For example when an employee is overlooked for a promotion at work because of low performance and they happen to be a person of color. Conversely, sometimes when there truly is racism manifested some people neglect to see it or call it out.

Like when a racist person acts out in hatred to purposely harm someone of a different race and it is overlooked or minimized.

On a lighter note this reminds me of a man who once made a public statement "I'm not a racist. I hate everyone equally!"

In the Bible, we learn that there is only one race, that is the human race. Acts 17:26 "From one man he made every nation of the human race to inhabit the entire earth." According to scripture, any hatred towards fellow man is sin. Unfortunately, man's sinful condition has fostered a particular type of hatred that we call racism. There is a type of reverse racism that is being promoted in society and even in some liberal churches. This is being taught through ideologies like CRT (Critical Race Theory), Liberation Theology and other subversive doctrines that cause division in our communities, including houses of worship. These ideologies foster reverse racism when the majority race is mistreated because of their majority status or the color of their skin. We see this in different places including some classrooms where young children are labeled as oppressors because they are white.

Followers of Jesus stand against all types of racism, including reverse racism. We can only find real true racial, class and gender reconciliation in Christ Jesus. Galatians 3:28 "In Christ's family there can be no division into Jew and non-Jew, slave and free, male and female. Among us you are all equal." We have the antidote to racism in Christ Jesus. I invite you, if you have not turned from your sins, to do so now and put your faith in Christ who died for your sins and rose from the dead! By doing this, you will find eternal salvation and be enabled by God's Spirit to have discernment and to be an agent of healing in this divisive age. God will help you see clearly and expose the misperceptions and false accusations of racism. Also, you will be able to acknowledge, point out and stand against racism when it's truly there. That's good news

Our country is at a crucial juncture. With each passing day, President Biden aggressively advances our nation away from many of the Judeo-Christian principles central to our way of life and toward ideals and expressions that are diametrically opposed to our Republic.

In the face of such tremendous cultural winds it can feel as though our small voice has no value or consequence — like we're alone screaming into the wind with no hope of change. And yet, one of the highest and clearest actions we can take at this time is to stand up, get involved and let our voices be heard.

The Save America Now PAC is a collection of like-minded men and women who are committed to fighting this cultural shift and returning our country to the truth of its foundation. We are driven to secure a pro-life, pro-American, pro-family nation that rejects the social-welfare, ideologically-driven tide being forced upon us by our current President. We aim to do this by strategically funding critical congressional races for the greatest impact with our collective resources.

WHY DO WE EXIST?

Briefly stated, we exist because we need saving. We live in a time when several fundamental principles, upon which this country was built, are under assault.

SANCTITY OF LIFE

Even after the monumental victory of overturning Roe v. Wade, President Biden continues his crusade to instantiate abortion into federal law. Indeed, the recent decision in Kansas shows just how much the unborn still need our protection. We rejoice in the triumphs of these past months, but have no illusions that the battle has been won.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

Did you know that the President and Democratic-led Congress are unashamedly attacking religious institutions in their championing of the so-called "Equality Act" (the single greatest assault on religious liberty this country has ever faced)? Did you know that, if passed, the "Equality Act" can prevent churches from requiring their leaders to adhere to the organization's beliefs on marriage, gender, and sexuality?

This would pave the way for even more lawsuits against religious institutions that hold to traditional Judeo-Christian ethics. Capitalism & the Free Market Did you know that, in order to pay for an unprecedented government spending spree, the Biden administration is seeking to raise the capital gains tax to over 40% and severely hinder the stock market?

Did you know that, to date, Biden is spending $6 trillion of your dollars — that's 6,000 billions — massively expanding the government's reach, and creating a federal machine capable of controlling the lives of everyone in this country?

WHY SHOULD YOU CARE?

You may think your voice doesn't matter; that the cultural winds are too strong for your actions to make any difference. But that's just not true. In reality, there are ample opportunities for us to step in and make a difference. With smart, strategic, and timely support, you can help flip crucial Democratic House and Senate seats and put the right leaders in position to effect change. At Save America Now, we're researching, prioritizing, and supporting such races to make the most impact with our collected resources. To-date we've donated over $30,000 to strategic campaigns across the country and influenced tens of thousands of votes with our educational events and materials. You can make a difference.

Will you stand up and make your voice heard? Will you step in and help us take back our country from the brink of collapse? Will you roll up your sleeves and Save America Now?

We hope you will. Visit us at www.saveamernow.com or email info@saveamernow.com to learn more.

Open Letter to the Republican Party about African Americans

I think it's time for the Republican party to stop playing defense and go on the offence. The Democrat Party has been the greatest scourge on African Americans.

MAMMEN

EVERY BLACK LIFE MATTERS

The Democrats are responsible for fatherlessness in the Black communities.

Prior to the 70's no self-respecting Black person would ever vote for a democrat. But Lyndon Johnson needed the Black vote to win. So, he went after Black families saying he would make sure "they" (he used a racial epithet) would vote Democrat for the next 200 years. Black fatherlessness was under 30% in the 50's (some stats show it was under 9%). LBJ and the Great Society purposely forced fathers out of the home by targeting Black mothers to kick their men out of the home for more money, as a result fatherlessness soared to over 70% today. LBJ and the democrats knew this would cause generational dependency on handouts from the government.

The Democrats are responsible for Violence in the Black communities.

The Democrat induced fatherlessness resulted in crime & violence as young Black men grew up without a father's discipline and sought father figures in gangs and young women became sexually active while seeking male approval.

The Democrats are responsible for Illiteracy in the Black communities.

The violence caused by Democrat induced fatherlessness, filtered into the classrooms. In the 30's Black literacy was over 70%, today it's under 18%. Over 68% of all Black parents want school vouchers to take their kids out of the crime and drug and gang infested public schools but the Democrats and Unions will not let them do so, even though vouchers have improved Black lives every time. The Democrats won't let Black kids graduate and get good jobs as a result.

The Democrats are responsible for unjustly imprisoning a vast majority of Blacks

Joe Bidens crime bills targeted these fatherless Black young men with horrible penalties for crimes that would not apply to white young men who were also involved in drugs (i.e. crack cocaine used by Blacks vs cocaine powder used by whites). This further exacerbated fatherlessness. www.criminaldefenselawyer.com/resources/crack-vrs-powder-cocaine-one-drug-two-penalties.htm

The Democrats are responsible for killing almost 50% of all Blacks in America

Finally, Democrats are responsible for killing almost 50% of all Blacks in what Jesse Jackson himself called a Black Genocide (1988). There are 44M African Americans today. There would have been 64M but 20M African Americans have been killed before they could exit the womb. It doesn't matter if you are prolife or prochoice, you cannot be pro killing 50% of all blacks.

The common factor in all of these has been the Democrat party.

There's lots more, like the fact that the minimum wage was created by the Democrats to stop Black men from underbidding jobs that white men wanted and today it prevents young blacks who cannot read from getting a job where they can grow into more responsibility and a higher pay.

It's time the Republican party stood up for Black families and placed the blame at the feet of the party that has been the cause of Black plight. It's time to call out the Democrats as the racists they are for perpetuating a system that is continually destroying Black families. and lives.

Until you do that, you will be playing defense and losing.

Have I Got a Proposition For You

Voter Beware! With few exceptions, proposition titles are misleading, confusing, lacking in detail and sometimes harbor poison pills deeply buried within their legal text. They often cost the state money (which they pass on to you by raising your taxes), benefit special interests or infringe even further on your freedoms. Arguments for. Arguments against. So be wary as you maneuver your way through the seven statewide propositions that are on the ballot in California’s 2022 election.

How hard can it be to vote responsibly on a proposition without research and careful analysis? ...Very hard. Lucky for you, Kacer’s Call is the perfect resource to help you make values-based choices.

Frank Kacer is a former pastor/elder at Grace Church in Oceanside and political activist with a biblical worldview and has been providing a comprehensive analysis of California’s propositions since 2002.

He offers the following guidelines to help you analyze the propositions.

- Do: First read Title & Summary, then proposed legal text, then Legislative Analyst analysis; then arguments for and against. This information will be available in the Official Voter Information Guide that will be mailed out to you.
- Do: Ask yourself if this is a proper role of government biblically.
- Do: Determine what general principles apply (biblical, conservative, practical).
- Do: Ask yourself if this is the right thing to do, who benefits, and what consequences will result.
- Do: Apply common sense; come to a tentative conclusion – compare to positions of those you trust.
- Do: Concentrate on the major implications and not on trivial aspects to make a decision.
- Don’t: Rely on recommendations of organizations by name only (many sound good but can be deceptively misleading).
- Don’t: Wait until the last day to do your research (spread it out over time).
- Don’t: Support government going into future debt (there are only very rare exceptions to this).
- Don’t: Allow rare circumstances or emotional arguments to overly influence you (“rare cases make bad law”).
- Don’t: Support anything that’s too complex to completely understand (could be purposeful obfuscation).
- Don’t: Accept a lot of bad legislation for the sake of a small amount of good, “worthwhile” legislation.

Be aware that your county and city will probably have additional propositions for you to consider. Kacer’s Do’s and Don’t’s can be applied to help you make your choices.

Visit Kacer’s Call on the <https://BiblicalVoter.com> website for information on California’s propositions. Click on the California Voter Guides icon. Kacer has two resources. The first one provides content summary and what to consider as you analyze each proposition, as well as recommendations. Kacer’s one-page guide provides references to relevant scriptures for each of the propositions.

Spoiler Alert: He recommends “NO” on all seven propositions. But, hey, make up your own mind. <https://BiblicalVoter.com> is your one-stop shop for Voter Guides for all 50 states. Click on the the appropriate state icon to access links to a variety of resources. Kacer’s Call focuses on California’s statewide propositions. Other guides can help you through the often difficult evaluation of California’s judicial candidates.
