Richard Kemble

was born in 1932 in Erie, Pennsylvania. Having taught for almost twenty years at the State University at Buffalo and later as professor at Pratt Institute in New York City, he gave up academics after having received one of the first print-makers fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts in 1974. For the last 20 years of his life he devoted his principal attention to creating art at his residences in Key West, FL and Nantucket, MA. He passed away in 2007.

In 1975 and 1976, a series of over 100 "flag" collages were created which were all 10 x 12 inches. Using a variety of materials including wood from the Nantucket dump, rags, discarded woodcuts and the like, this creative output was the subject of several exhibitions: the Allentown Art Museum, Temple University and the Main Street Gallery in Nantucket.

Kemble continued to create "flag" collages, drawings and oil pastels in spurts of creativity up until his death. The estate is still discovering caches of these flag collages. Since none of these were dated we don't know when they were created, but the various styles correspond to his other work. It is now time for us to share some of these pieces with the world. May they be as loved and appreciated by the new owners as they have been by us.
