Stephen is a highly experienced Production Designer with over 30 years in film and television. He began his career in 1996 building sets for S4C and over the years progressed through every stage of the art department, developing deep expertise in design, construction, budgeting, scheduling, and team leadership.

Equally comfortable on location or in the studio, Stephen collaborates closely with producers, directors, and directors of photography, as well as all departments, to deliver ambitious, visually compelling sets that meet both creative and technical requirements. His international credits include work in Bulgaria, the Isle of Man, South Africa, Dubai, Romania, and Croatia, giving him extensive experience working with diverse crews and production environments. In addition to his screen work, Stephen has designed sets for major BBC events nationwide and is a committed mentor to trainees and apprentices. He brings together creative vision, practical problem-solving, and a consistent dedication to high standards in every project.
