DWD - LEGAL RIGHTS

To whomever it may concern, there are any number of discriminative actions that have been done in the handling of my complaints and others issues brought to the attention of the Housing Authority. However, there is not enough room for me to identify each one for you, as I thought they were all outlined for you in the docs I sent to you. Nevertheless, I picked two that stand out in my mind... one of which I documented on the sheet of paper you provided. Although, the other one, which I think is the more important of the two, I didn't have the room to add. So I supplied it separately; in the form of my addendum to my lease. Which was drawn up after the first attempt my stalker made; in an effort to get me evicted. Along with what I allege is a negative response to my calls of disturbances, which not only resembles discrimination... but outright complicity. In the aiding of my alleged stalker, in his campaign of control.... If in fact this information is not enough to meet your office's protocol requirements, please send all of the documents I sent to you back. So I can forward them to the proper authorities.
