

Announcement

Wolston Sky and Air Land & Sea Training

Wolston Sky and Air Land & Sea Training have jointly announced their cooperation to develop and deliver Human Factors (HF) and Crew Resource Management (CRM) training for private, commercial rotary, and fixed-wing operators. Training is also provided to other industries such as Oil and Gas, Healthcare, Railway, and Construction.

Kristina Tervo, Director of Wolston Sky, said, "Teaming up with Air Land & Sea gives us the unique opportunity to expand the variety of the high-quality interactive online courses we offer. Training is facilitated by industry experts with over 25 years of worldwide experience, both fixed and rotary-wing civil and military operations."

Richard Harker, Director of Air Land & Sea Training, said, "This is a great opportunity for us to begin collaboration on CRM and HF Training. It is more important now, more than ever, with the current COVID19 situation that we help aircrew manage the risks with returning to flying after a long period of reduced/ no flight operations. We are delighted to be working with Wolston Sky on some very exciting projects".

The first joint training course will be facilitated on 29th March 2021.
To sign up and for more information, contact info@airlandseatraining.com

wolston-sky.com & airlandseatraining.com