

Monthly Newsletter

Vision Impairment Awareness Month

Globally, an estimated 2.2 billion people live with a vision impairment or blindness, and at least 1 billion of those cases could have been prevented or are still unaddressed.

Why this is important:

- Early detection matters. Regular eye exams can catch changes before symptoms become obvious.
- Don't ignore vision changes. Sudden or significant changes should always be evaluated.
- Healthy habits help. UV protection, staying active, and managing overall health can support long-term vision.

Get 50% Off Your 2nd Pair!

Buy one pair of prescription eyeglasses and get a second pair of prescription lenses 50% off.

Please ask our Optical Associates for offer details.

Spectrum EyeCenter

Spectrum Updates!

Meet Dr. Anthony Fioravanti!

We're excited to welcome Dr. Anthony Fioravanti to the Spectrum Eye Center family! With 10 years of clinical experience, Dr. Fioravanti brings a wealth of knowledge and a passion for providing personalized, compassionate eye care. A graduate of the Southern College of Optometry, he has spent his career caring for patients across North Carolina, most recently practicing in Charlotte.

Committed to Your Eye Health

Dr. Fioravanti specializes in comprehensive eye exams, myopia management, dry eye treatment, and ocular disease management. He believes in building lasting relationships with his patients and making sure everyone feels comfortable, heard, and cared for.

Spectrum EyeCenter

Employee Highlight: Elizabeth Black

About Elizabeth: Elizabeth is a Technician in Spectrum Eye Center's Patient Care Department and has been part of the team for 10 months. She helps patients feel at ease by creating a friendly, welcoming environment, listening to their concerns, and explaining each step of the exam so they know what to expect. One of her favorite things about working at Spectrum Eye Center is the positive environment and the people she gets to work with each day.

Outside of the office, Elizabeth loves spending time at the beach and is a summer person at heart. She enjoys starting her days early and is always up for a loaded tea, especially from North State Nutrition in Sanford. Whether she's enjoying a beach day, grabbing her favorite drink, or simply taking time to unwind, she appreciates the simple things that make her time outside of work enjoyable.