AND OUR STUDENTS

A wonderful group of young musicians
This group of talented young musicians came in listening and working together to make music. When these students started making music on Monday, there was a whirlwind of sounds. Those sounds with practice and effort turned into the show you will hear today! We would like to thank the students for a great week of music- making.

Thank you and enjoy the show.

In addition to his academic excellence, Samuel studies the art of classical guitar, is a member of his high school jazz band, and a member of the local teen rock band Roma.
