- (a) A developer who retains at least one unit as a rental unit shall not be entitled to an automatic seat on the executive board.
- (b) A developer who has stopped selling units in the regular course of business shall not be entitled to an automatic seat on the executive board.
1. This shall not be construed to prevent a developer from being a candidate for a position on the executive board.
- (c) Irrespective of the time set for developer control of the association provided in the master deed, covenants and restrictions or other instruments of creation, control of the association shall be surrendered to the owners in the following manner:
1. Sixty days after conveyance of 25 percent of the lots, parcels, units or interests, not less than 25 percent of the members of the executive board shall be elected by owners;
  2. Sixty days after conveyance of 50 percent of the lots, parcels, units or interests, not less than 40 percent of the members of the executive board shall be elected by the owners;
  3. Sixty days after conveyance of 75 percent of the lots, parcels, units or interests, the developer's control of the executive board shall terminate at which time the owners shall elect the entire executive board.
- (d) Notwithstanding (c)1, 2, and 3 above, the developer may retain one member of the executive board so long as there are any units remaining unsold in the regular course of business.
- (e) In calculating the above percentages, it is presumed that they are calculated on the basis of the entire number of units entitled to membership in the association.
- (f) A developer may surrender control of the executive board of the association prior to the time as specified, provided the owners agree by a majority vote to assume control.
- (g) Upon assumption by the owners of control of the executive board of the association, the developer shall forthwith deliver to the association all items and documents pertinent to the association such as, but not limited to a copy of the master deed, declaration of covenants and restrictions, documents of creation of the association, by-laws, minute book, including all minutes, any rules and regulations, an accounting of association funds, association funds, all personal property, insurance policies, government permits, a membership roster and all contracts and agreements relative to the association.
- (h) The association, when controlled by the owners, shall not take any action that would be detrimental to the sales of units by the developer and shall continue the same level of maintenance, operation and services as immediately prior to their assumption of controls, until the last unit is sold.

§ 5:26-8.4 Administration and control

(i) From the time of conveyance of 75 percent of the lots, parcels, units or interests, until the last lot, parcel, unit or interest in the development conveyed in the ordinary course of business the master deed, by-laws or declaration of covenants and restrictions shall not require the affirmative vote of more than 75 percent of the votes to be cast in order to amend the by-laws or rules and regulations.

(j) The developer shall not be permitted to cast any votes allocated to unsold lots, parcels, units or interest in order to amend the master deed, by-laws or any other document for the purpose of changing the permitted use of a lot, parcel, unit or interest, or for the purpose of reducing the common elements or facilities.

(a) Until such time as the association shall make an assessment for common expenses, the developer, while in control of the association, shall pay all of the expenses of the common elements and facilities, except as provided at (a)1i below. Upon acquisition of title to a unit, each new association member may be required to make a one-time, non-refundable and non-transferable, working capital contribution. The working capital contribution shall be assessed in accordance with the governing documents of the association, but in no event shall the working capital contribution exceed nine times the amount of the monthly common expense assessment for that unit at the time of closing. During developer control of the association's governing board, working capital funds shall be held in a separate account located in a bank that is FDIC-insured and authorized to do business in the State of New Jersey.

1. The intent of the working capital assessment is to provide the association with cash flow until the association begins receiving common expense assessments. Working capital assessment funds shall be used for one-time expenses limited to association startup operations. Startup operations may include on-site office equipment, utility deposits, and similar one-time expenses needed to establish an association, but shall not include any costs related to construction of a management office, or any expenses for off-site equipment.

i. Working capital assessment funds may be used to pay for unforeseen, unanticipated expenses in lieu of a special assessment. The term "unforeseen or unanticipated expenses" means those expenses that could not be reasonably anticipated at the time the annual budget was adopted by the association board. Unforeseen or unanticipated expenses shall not include: expenses that are normal or customary for the association and are the purpose for which the budget was adopted; expenses for capital improvements, reserves, or repairs to items of defective construction; or a budget deficit or a deficit in the association funds resulting from a difference between the number of units, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 5:26-8.7, that the developer calculated would be closed during the year or the date by which such closings would occur and the number of units actually conveyed or the actual dates when closed.

2. While the developer maintains a majority of the association board, it shall not use funds from the working capital assessments to pay for budget line items, to minimize the assessments needed to operate the association, or to lower the amount due from the developer to the association.

(b) This subsection shall govern the assessment of common expenses.

1. When the association has made a common expense assessment, the assessment shall be assessed against:

i. Units that have been conveyed by the developer to owners (hereafter referred to as "unit owners").

§ 5:26-8.6 Assessments for common expenses

6. The association board shall make the final determination of any deficit or surplus based upon the annual audit of the association funds.
7. In the event of an immediate need for additional funds to meet the association's financial obligations due to unforeseen, unanticipated conditions reasonably beyond the control of the developer (that is, force majeure), the board may impose a special assessment. The unit owners and the developer shall be obligated to pay their respective shares of the special assessment.

§ 5:26-8.7 Budgets for developer-controlled boards

(a) During developer control of the association's governing board, the association shall, prior to making an annual assessment, prepare and adopt an operating budget, which shall provide, for any and all common expenses to be incurred during the fiscal year, as well as adequate reserve funds for repair and replacement of the common elements and facilities.

1. Replacement of the common elements may include repair or replacement of a component of a mechanical system or facility necessary for the proper maintenance or operation of such system or facility.
2. "Adequate reserve funds" are those monies specifically dedicated for repair or replacement of common elements and facilities that have reached the end of the established useful life, based on the most recent reserve study, of each common element or facility, or one or more components of that element or facility, without the need for special assessments or loans. Contributions shall be established for common elements and facilities with useful lives, or remaining years of use, up to and including 30 years, and for roofs regardless of their useful lives.
3. The amount to be maintained in the reserve funds account shall be determined by an independent licensed engineer or architect as part of the reserve study.
4. During developer control of the association's governing board the following requirements shall apply:
  - i. Reserve funds shall be maintained in a segregated account in the name of the association and not comingled with other common expenses or capital contribution accounts.
  - ii. The account shall be located in a bank that is FDIC-insured and authorized to do business in the State of New Jersey.
  - iii. Following the election of the first unit owner to the board, and continuing until control of the association governing body is transferred to the unit owners, withdrawals from the reserve funds account shall require one signatory from the developer and one signatory from the owner-elected board members.
5. Reserve funds shall only be used for repair and replacement costs for which they are collected. A developer-controlled association board may not utilize reserve funds to repair or replace any common element unless:
  - i. The item that is sought to be repaired or replaced was included in the reserve study;
  - ii. The common element component to be repaired or replaced has exhausted not less than 90 percent of the useful life specified in the reserve study. In the event the common element component to be repaired or replaced has not exhausted 90 percent or more of its expected life, then a majority vote of a quorum of unit owners, other than the developer, as defined by the association governing documents, is required to utilize the reserve funds dedicated and maintained for the specific common element component's repair or replacement; and

§ 5:26-8.7 Budgets for developer-controlled boards

iii. The reserve account has been fully funded in accordance with the association budget.

(b) A new reserve study shall be prepared in the following situations:

1. When a developer submits an application for an expandable project for registration in accordance with N.J.A.C. 5:26-2.4. Each addition shall require an update to the reserve study to account for all new common elements and facilities to be constructed in each expansion phase and all common elements and facilities constructed in prior phases where repair and replacement costs were not previously accounted for in the most current reserve study.

i. The developer shall bear the expense of the reserve study for common elements in any new phase; and

ii. The association shall bear the expense of any new common element added to a phase that is built out and sold out at the time of submission of the application to add a new phase.

2. Where the common elements and facilities differ from the common elements and facilities shown on the building plans or described in the public offering statement, a new reserve study shall be conducted. The public offering statement shall be amended, filed, and registered in accordance with N.J.A.C. 5:26-4.5 to reflect the updated as-built common elements and facilities.

3. Based on the findings set forth in the most recent reserve study, the repair or replacement cost of those items classified as common elements and facilities in the governing documents shall be a good faith estimate of the cost to the association to repair or replace each item identified in the reserve study including demolition, removal, and other costs related to the repair or replacement of these items in current dollars.

4. The reserve study shall be accompanied by a letter of adequacy prepared by an independent licensed architect or engineer.

5. While the developer maintains control of the association board, the cost of any reserve study shall be the responsibility of the developer and shall not be classified as a common expense.

(c) Any deficit in the operating fund occurring during the budget year caused by unforeseen or unanticipated expenses shall be accounted for either by a determination by the association board that such unforeseen, unanticipated expenses do not materially affect the ability of the association to meet its current or ongoing financial obligations, or a determination by the association board that such expenses render the association unable to meet the association's current or ongoing financial obligations, in which case the association board shall modify the budget.

1. When the annual budget to be used is the full occupancy budget, then when modified, it shall be amended pursuant to N.J.A.C. 5:26-4.5, prior to its use as the annual budget.

i. When the annual budget being used is other than the full occupancy budget, it shall be amended accordingly, and a copy of the revised budget shall be provided to the unit owners and the developer no later than 30 days prior to the start of the next budget year.

ii. When the developer is in control of the association board and still selling units in the ordinary course of business, the amended budget shall also be filed with the Agency as an amendment to the registration within 30 days of adoption of the budget.

2. In the event the annual audit of the association determines a different deficit than originally calculated, the following shall govern:

i. When the association's final audit reveals that the deficit for the preceding budget year was greater than the amount previously calculated as of the year end, the developer shall pay to satisfy the additional deficit within 30 days following adoption of the final audit, except that portion attributable to unit owners' delinquency or unforeseen, unanticipated circumstances as set forth in the governing documents.

ii. When the deficit is less than the amount previously calculated, the association shall reimburse the developer the difference between the amount paid by the developer and the actual deficit amount.

(d) At least 60 days prior to the first day of the next budget year, the developer shall provide the unit-owner-controlled board with a written statement of the anticipated number of units to be closed during the next budget year and shall identify any new common element or facility anticipated to be placed in use during the next budget year.

(e) When the developer maintains a majority of the association board, the budget shall be prepared in accordance with this subsection.

1. In addition to the full occupancy budget required pursuant to N.J.A.C. 5:26-4.2\(a\)<sup>8</sup>, the developer shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, for each budget year an annual budget including all anticipated association operations, deferred maintenance, and replacement reserves. The annual budget shall be based upon the number of units anticipated to be under construction during the budget year, including units previously closed and units registered with the Agency, but not conveyed to a purchaser; and the reasonable expenses, taking into account the number of units anticipated to be under construction for the budget year and any common elements or facilities that were put into use during a prior budget year. All budgets prepared by the developer while it is in control of the board shall include an expense line item equal to three percent of common expenses to account for assessments unpaid by unit owners.

2. No budget prepared by the developer, or by the association board while under the control of the developer, shall contain any payment or subsidy by the developer that minimizes the monthly assessment, unless the details are fully disclosed in the public offering statement as a special notice to the satisfaction of the Agency.

(f) While the developer maintains control of the executive board, the executive board shall have an annual audit of association funds prepared by an independent public accountant, a copy of which shall be delivered to each unit owner within 90 days of the expiration of the fiscal year of the association. The audit shall cover the operating budget, capital reserve, and other reserve fund accounts.

(g) Until the expiration of any management contracts entered into while the developer maintains control of the executive board, the developer shall ensure that a bond, or other guarantee acceptable to the Agency, is posted.

1. For the first year of operation, the bond or other guarantee shall be in an amount equal to the annual budget. For the second year and for succeeding years, the bond or other guarantee shall be in an amount equal to the annual budget plus accumulated capital reserve and other reserve funds.

2. While the developer maintains control of the association board, the developer shall provide the agency with proof of such bond or other guarantee as may be necessary at the time of registration and annually thereafter.

- (a) Upon acceptance of a deed to the unit, each owner shall be an association member for so long as he or she holds title to the unit.
- (b) The developer shall have one membership in the association for each unit registered pursuant to this chapter that has not been conveyed to an individual purchaser.
1. This subsection shall not be construed to provide the developer a different transition obligation than that required pursuant to Section 5 of P.L. 1993, c. 30 (N.J.S.A. 45:22A-47).
- (c) An association member shall be considered to be in good standing with respect to eligibility to vote in executive board elections, vote to amend bylaws, and nominate or be a candidate for a position on the executive board when the association member:
1. Is current in the payment of common expenses, late fees, interest on unpaid assessments, legal fees, or other charges lawfully assessed;
  2. Is in compliance with a judgement for common expenses, late fees, interest on unpaid assessments, legal fees, or other charges lawfully assessed;

Such designation shall be in writing and may include a clause in the written lease agreement or another written document. An owner may allow the tenant to vote as the owner's agent through a proxy or power of attorney.
  3. A voting eligible tenant shall have the same voting rights as the owner of the unit that the tenant leases. Such voting rights shall be in place of, and not in addition to, the rights of the owner of the leased unit.

CHAPTER 26. PLANNED REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT FULL DISCLOSURE ACT REGULATIONS
> SUBCHAPTER 8. COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS

§ 5:26-8.9 Executive board elections

- (a) The executive board shall be elected by association members and voting eligible tenants.
1. The developer shall not be entitled to cast votes in any executive board elections while the developer maintains a seat or seats on the board pursuant to Section 5 of P.L. 1993, c. 30 (N.J.S.A. 45:22A-47).
- (b) The association shall hold executive board elections in accordance with the provisions of its bylaws, including validly adopted executive board rules.
1. Elections shall be held every two years, unless the association bylaws set a different time or interval for elections, which shall not exceed four years.
  2. Associations shall set the term of an executive board member for a maximum of four years. This section shall not prohibit the association from staggering elections, so as to provide for a continuum of experienced members on the board.
  3. If the association has not held an election in compliance with its bylaws, owners may submit a petition to any board member to compel an election.
    - i. Such petition shall be signed by a minimum of 25 percent of association members in good standing, unless the governing documents designate a larger percentage as the quorum for elections.
    - ii. The executive board shall hold an election within 90 days upon receipt of such petition.
- (c) If the association has no executive board members and association members fail to act on petition or by majority, any association member or group, at common expense and upon written notice to all owners, may petition a court with jurisdiction for authority to act temporarily in the interests of the association and to organize and hold an election within 90 days of the court order.
- (d) The use of proxies and absentee ballots for executive board elections shall be governed by this subsection.
1. Any proxies used by the association shall contain a clear and prominent notice that use of the proxy is voluntary on the part of the granting owner.
  2. The proxy may be revoked at any time before the proxy holder casts a vote.
  3. If the association allows the use of proxies, it shall also make absentee ballots available.
- (e) Each unit shall be allocated either one vote or an equal number of votes per unit, unless the governing documents of the association allow for voting proportional to a unit's value or size. These allocations shall be consistent such that all owners of units of the same value or size shall have the same number of votes.

§ 5:26-8.9 Executive board elections

(f) The association shall not prohibit, limit, impede, or restrict participation by residents of low- or moderate-income housing units. No association election procedure shall impose any requirement for voting on low- or moderate-income housing owners that would interfere with their right to vote.

(g) The association shall not prohibit, limit, impede, or restrict members in good standing, proxy holders, individuals acting pursuant to a valid power of attorney, or voting eligible tenants, as applicable, from voting for any candidate in an executive board election.

1. If allowed by the bylaws of the association, a voting eligible tenant shall not be prohibited from voting.

2. If electronic voting is permitted, anyone eligible to vote shall be permitted to cast votes electronically, so long as the electronic ballot is administered in accordance with (h) below.

(h) The association shall verify the eligibility of the voters and count the ballots in a non-fraudulent and verifiable way.

1. Any depository for physical ballots shall be secured.

2. All ballot tallying shall occur publicly, and the ballots shall be open to inspection by any member of the association for a period of 90 days from the date of the election.

i. Electronic voting undertaken pursuant to (h)4 below shall not require public tallying as results are immediately available. The results of the electronic election shall be made available for public review and shall be open to inspection by any member of the association for a period of 90 days from the date of the election.

3. All ballots shall be cast in an anonymous manner.

4. If the bylaws permit, and the association member consents, a ballot may be cast electronically if it is administered by a neutral third party and anonymity is maintained.

(i) Initial executive board elections in condominium associations governed under the Condominium Act, P.L. 1969, c. 257 (N.J.S.A. 46:8B-1 et seq.), shall follow the notice timeline under Subsection b. of Section 2 of P.L. 1979, c. 157 (N.J.S.A. 46:8B-12.1), and shall not be subject to this section.

(j) When independent associations with residential units share facilities or obligations that require them to be members of a master or umbrella association board to oversee those facilities or obligations, the members of the independent association shall, unless the independent associations' governing documents provide for such association to appoint a member to the master or umbrella association, elect representatives to the master or umbrella association in accordance with this section, provided that the members of the executive board of the master or umbrella association also serve as executive members of the independent association's board.

(k) Associations with fewer than 50 units shall be governed by (a) through (j) above and by the following:

1. The association shall provide written notice of the election not fewer than 14 calendar days and not more than 30 calendar days prior to the date of the election. Such notice shall provide access to information on when and how to vote.

2. All association members may nominate any member for candidacy, including self-nomination. The association shall ensure that all nominees are in good standing. Good standing shall be the sole criterion for the eligibility of a nominee.

3. The association shall provide its members the opportunity to review the qualifications of the candidates who are running for election to the board.

i. Provisions for write-in candidates may be established in the bylaws of the association. In the event a write-in candidate receives sufficient votes to be elected but is not eligible, such candidate shall not be deemed to have been elected. If this results in a vacancy on the board, the eligible candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall be deemed to have been elected.

§ 5:26-8.9 Executive board elections

4. A minimum of 14 days prior to the election, the association shall notify any resident who is not in good standing. The notice shall state the reason the resident is not in good standing. The notice shall state that the resident has the right to contest the board's determination by requesting Alternative Dispute Resolution.

(l) Associations with 50 or more units shall be governed by (a) through (j) above and by the following:

1. Any election meeting held by the executive board shall require both a notice calling for nominations and a notice of election.

i. The association shall provide written notice calling for nominations to all members not fewer than 30 calendar days and not more than 60 calendar days prior to mailing the election meeting notice informing them of the right to nominate themselves or other members in good standing as candidates for the executive board. Such notice shall specify the process for submitting nominations.

ii. Association members shall have a minimum of 14 days from the mailing of the request for nomination during which they may submit their nominations to the board president or otherwise as provided in the association's bylaws. The deadline shall be provided in the notice.

(1) When the association has not set a deadline, nominations of members in good standing shall be deemed valid until one business day prior to the mailing of the notice of election. Good standing shall be the sole criterion for the eligibility of a nominee.

(2) The association shall not mail out ballots or proxies until the day following the expiration of the nomination period.

(3) Nothing in this subsection shall prevent members in good standing from writing in eligible candidates on the day of the election pursuant to (l)1iv(6) below.

iii. Following the nomination period, a notice of election shall be sent to all association members. This notice shall be in writing and may be made by personal delivery, by mail, or electronically. It shall be sent not fewer than 14 days and not more than 60 days prior to the date of the election.

(1) In the case of mailing, the notice shall be effective when deposited in the mailbox with proper postage

(2) In the case of personal delivery, the notice shall be effective the date it is delivered. The executive board shall sign and maintain a record attesting to the date the notice was delivered.

(3) In the case of electronic delivery, the notice shall be effective the date of the electronic record. The notice may only be sent by electronic means when the affected association member or voting eligible tenant has agreed in writing to accept the notice by electronic means or when the governing documents permit electronic notices, provided another form of voting by absentee balloting or proxy voting is available.

iv. The election meeting notice shall contain a copy of the ballot.

(1) Unless prohibited by the bylaws of the association, the notice shall include a proxy ballot and an absentee ballot with instructions for returning the ballot.

(2) The ballot shall contain the names of all persons nominated and found to be in good standing as candidates for the executive board in alphabetical order by last name.

(3) The ballot shall not indicate incumbent board members.

(4) The ballot shall list each candidate's name in the same font, in the same size, and in the same font color.

§ 5:26-8.9 Executive board elections

(6) The ballot shall include space for write-in candidates for as many seats as are up for election. In the event a write-in candidate receives sufficient votes to be elected but is not eligible, such candidate shall not be deemed to have been elected. If this results in a vacancy on the board, the eligible candidate receiving the next highest number of votes shall be deemed to have been elected.

v. A minimum of 30 days prior to the election, the association shall notify residents who are not in good standing. Such notice shall state the reason why the resident is not in good standing. The notice shall state that residents have the right to contest the board's determination by requesting Alternative Dispute Resolution. Residents shall be allowed to rectify their standing up until five business days prior to the election date, unless the association allows for more time.

§ 5:26-8.13 Amendments to the bylaws

- (a) The bylaws shall detail the method in which the bylaws may be amended.
- (b) No amendments to the bylaws shall be effective until they are recorded in the same county Clerk's Office as the existing bylaws.
  - 1. The amendments to the bylaws shall be recorded in the same county Clerk's Office as the existing bylaws in a timely manner. The association shall maintain a record of the filing, which shall be available to any owner or designee of an owner, upon request.
  - 2. An association that is not required to file bylaws with the county clerk's office shall not be required to record its bylaws in the county clerk's office. Such an association shall provide a full set of all validly adopted bylaws and any amendments to owners at the time of closing, and a copy of the bylaws shall be available to any owner or designee of an owner upon request.
- (c) If the bylaws do not provide an amendment method by a vote of association members that is open to all association members, or if they provide for an amendment by more than a two-thirds majority, the association members may amend the bylaws by a vote of the majority of the total authorized votes in the association.
- (d) The majority shall be determined based on association membership in good standing at the time of the vote.
- (e) If the bylaws do not provide a method through which association members may call a meeting of association members to conduct a bylaws amendment vote or a vote concerning the provisions of N.J.A.C. 5:26-8.10, 8.11, and 8.12, the method shall be as follows:
  - 1. A petition shall be signed and submitted to the executive board by not less than 15 percent of the association members to request a special meeting;
  - 2. A special meeting of the association membership shall be held within 60 days of receipt of the request; and
  - 3. If the annual meeting of association membership is scheduled to occur within 60 days of the request, the amendment vote shall be held at that meeting.
- (f) Notice of the meeting to amend the bylaws, as set forth in this subsection, shall be provided to all association members and voting eligible tenants at least 14 days prior to the date of the meeting.
  - 1. Such notice shall prominently state that it is for a proposed amendment to the bylaws and include a copy of the proposed language.
  - 2. The amendment shall be drafted in clear language and in a manner that is consistent with the association's bylaws and applicable laws.

§ 5:26-8.13 Amendments to the bylaws

3. The amendment shall be mailed, hand delivered, or if bylaws permit, electronically delivered together with the notice of the meeting at least 14 days prior to the meeting.
  4. If the bylaws permit, the notice of the meeting shall include an absentee ballot with instructions for returning the ballot. If the bylaws provide for a proxy ballot, an absentee ballot shall also be included. The instructions shall allow return of the proxy or absentee ballot by facsimile or electronic means provided that such return protects the anonymity of the voter. The association shall not require receipt of the ballot more than one business day prior to the meeting.
- (g) If an insufficient number of ballots or proxies are received at the special meeting or annual meeting to determine whether the proposed amendment has been approved or rejected, then the meeting shall be adjourned for 30 days or longer, as approved by the association membership.
1. The bylaws of the association shall provide for the percentage of association members required to determine the period of adjournment.
  2. The period between the original special meeting or annual meeting and the next special meeting for the amendments to the bylaws shall not be longer than 11 months from the date the notice of the meeting was sent.
  3. If the proxies or ballots received prior to the extension date are valid under the bylaws, then they remain valid for the upcoming special meeting or annual meeting.
- (h) An amendment proposed by the association board shall be considered defeated if, when the association board provided notice to all association members of the proposed amendment, a ballot to reject the amendment was included and at least 10 percent of the association members in good standing voted to reject the amendment within 30 days of the mailing.
1. The board's proposed amendment shall include a notice that the amendment will fail only if at least 10 percent of the association members in good standing vote to reject the amendment.
- (i) When an amendment is approved, a copy shall be provided to all association members and the association shall record it in the county recording office where the bylaws were originally recorded, or in the county recording office where the property is situated where the bylaws have not been previously recorded.
- (j) An executive board shall not amend the bylaws without a vote open to all association members or as detailed above except to the extent necessary to render the bylaws consistent with State, Federal, or local law.
